SHERIFF COOKE IN PENDLETON. Says Clackamas County Crop Prospects Are Excellent.

J. J. Cooke, sheriff of Clackamas county, arrived here from Oregon City on this morning's train. The gentleman is a brother-in-law of Dr. Alfred Beale and will remain here several days. Mr. Cooke says that the present fine weather now prevailing is pretty much the same in the part of the state he came from. There has probably been a heavier rainfall here, but otherwise the winter has been the most pleasant that has been experienced for several years past. Crop prospects here are excellent, he says, and a large yield of all kinds of grain is expected. Mr. Cooke will return in time to commence the collection of county taxes, which commences in that county on the 15th inst. His visit has no connection with official matters.

NO OPPOSITION TO DIRECTORS. Mrs. Bishop Secures the Clerkship by a Large Majority.

Contrary to the usual order of such things, the school election held in Pendleton Monday and a clerk, turned out to be a pretty lively affair, as far as the selection of a clerk was concerned. Very little interest was manifested in the election until towards late in the afternoon. At 2:30 there had only been some 40 votes cast, but when the polls closed at 6 o'clock that number had increased to 283. There were only two candidates for school director, those being C. J. Smith and James A. Fee. They had no opposition whatever and Dr. Smith was elected for the three year term, Judge Fee being chosen for two years.

The fight was in the contest of a school work. There were two aspirants for the place, in the person of Mrs. B. B. Bishop and J. S. Kees. Mrs. Bishop was elected by 206 votes to 77 received by Mr. Kees. The ladies of the town were out in support of Mrs. Bishop and they had several hacks out in her interest.

The judges of the election were T. E. James, Thomas Baker and J. S. McLeod, while J. D. Brown and Lot Livermore acted as clerks.

DOG UP SEVERAL SKELETONS. An Indian Burying Ground Unearthed at Walla Walla.

While a force of men were excavating for the new residence of George W. Whitehouse on the lots at the intersection of east and first streets, in the heart of Walla Walla, a cemetery was discovered containing the remains of several human beings. The land has been occupied as residence property for many years and a house built in the early 60s now stands on the lots. The workmen dug down several feet and found human bones, apparently several skeletons. Buried with the bodies were arrowheads and other weapons of early times. One old fashioned cap and ball pistol was found in good condition.

While considering the time it had been lost in the earth, it is supposed that in early days the Indians used the place as a burial spot for their dead and when forced to vacate by civilization failed to mark the city of their dead. Then the city came and no one thought that it was occupying ground which had been used for any such purposes. The bones were gathered up and taken charge of by the authorities.

'THE NOMINEE' IS FIRST CLASS. That is What the Walla Walla Union of This Morning Declares.

The Walla Walla Union of this morning says of "The Nominee," which appears at Frazer's opera house this evening:

"The Nominee" was produced at the opera house Monday evening and witnessed by a large audience. The play is well staged and in every respect a high class production. The company is composed of excellent performers.

A better play, more satisfactory production, has never visited our city. Walter Walker, in the character of Jack Medford, a man of the world, showed himself to be an actor of talent, thoroughly conversant with his difficult role. Miss Mildred St. Pierre, as Rose Van Barclay, sustained her reputation as an artist in every respect. The lady is indeed a talented actress whose stage appearance is both graceful and pleasing. Miss Irene Leiman as Mable Medford, won the admiration of the audience by her talented performance of a most difficult role. The company is fine and deserves the well merited success it is meeting with.

Queer Actions of an Unknown. Some unknown man, but one who apparently lives near Pendleton, gave the officers a chase this morning. It seems he came here to buy some farm machinery as he had several plows, harrows, etc., in his wagon. He had two span of horses hitched to the wagon and also a truck trailed on behind. He had been driving heavily as was observed by those who saw him mount the wagon seat and prepare to leave town. As soon as he gathered up the reins he gave a yell and started up Main street on a run. The horses collided with a team coming in the opposite direction, but he manages to get them out on the scrap and proceeded on down Court street with the horses on a run. Marshal Heathman gave chase, but was clearly out-matched. The last seen of the stranger he was on his way towards the reservoir on last night the four horses could get over the ground.

Coyotes in Morrow. Sleepowners of Morrow county have found that it pays to protect their flocks from the predatory coyote, says the Portland Oregonian. With the price of wool at the top notch, a heavy demand for mutton and a yearning for spring lamb that will become a vociferous cry as soon as Lent is over, it became a matter of individual interest to pursue, capture and scalp the voracious little beast. The lengths to which self-interest thus strongly backed has gone in this direction is attested by the fact that in the neighborhood of a big sheep ranch some forty miles from Heppner 200 coyotes have been killed during the winter, and it is added, "the sheep can now stray around there at evenings without chaperones."

Back from Arizona. Mr. and Mrs. W. T. Rigby returned home Monday from Phoenix, Arizona. Early last fall Mrs. Rigby left her husband for Arizona for the benefit of her health, and Mr. Rigby went later to be with her. Mr. Rigby states there is little improvement in his wife's condition, the climate of Arizona not being as beneficial to her as they had hoped and expected. Mr. Rigby returns home to find his 1400 acres of seeded wheat in most excellent shape and with great prospects of a bountiful harvest.

Bankruptcy Proceedings. Bankruptcy proceedings have been commenced in the United States district court in Portland, in behalf of M. J. Matson, of Woodburn, and Dudley C. Salting, of Bellevue Precinct, Yamhill county. Matson's liabilities are placed at $12,447.57, and his assets available for creditors, $7000. His business was conducted two country stores. Salting estimates his liabilities at $227.18, while his assets are set at $100.00. The latter amount $459 is claimed by himself under the exemption law.

PERSONAL MENTION. T. J. Kirk, a prominent citizen of Athena, was in Pendleton this morning.

C. A. Barrett, the well known merchant of Athena, was in Pendleton today.

J. E. Smith, one of the large sheep owners of Umatilla county, was in town from Pilot Rock today.

Fred Hummel, representing the Western Trail, a new monthly magazine recently launched at Seattle, is in Pendleton in the interest of that periodical.

La Grande Chronicle: Robert Burns, one of the very popular young men who is in the employ of the O. R. & N. as brakeman on the passenger train, has left that run and has been given a run on the freight out from this station.

Mr. Burns has moved his family here from Pendleton, and will make La Grande their future home.

DEAD SEA IN LAKE COUNTY. It Contains a Wagon but no Animal Life.

A wagon has been discovered in Abelt Lake, a large body of water, situated about 40 miles north from Lakeview, in Lake county. The wagon is in the lake near the eastern shore, in about 20 feet of water, and just under the rimrocks. It is supposed to have been there 20 years or more, but how it got there nobody knows. It is difficult to reach that locality, as the trail to the desert lies on the opposite of the lake.

This lake is a remarkable one. It is another Dead Sea. It is about 20 miles long, from one end to the other, and from one side to the other it is fed by a number of springs and small streams and creeks, and the Chewaucan river, but it has no outlet. Its rise and fall is scarcely perceptible, and its waters are so heavily impregnated with alkali that no animal can drink or live in it. At the mouth of many streams that flow into it, hundreds of dead fish are found that have drifted into its waters and died. At the mouth of Chewaucan river tons of fish can be found, and the shores are composed of fish bones.

Ducks and geese only approach its waters at the mouth of fresh-water streams, and no living animal is ever found on or in the body of the lake proper.

THE IDAHO RIOTS. Lentz Endeavoring to Prove Martial Law Unnecessary.

Washington, March 13.—At the Coeur d'Alene investigation Lentz called attention to telegrams given out by the war department in which capitalists asked for protection in the mining country. He said the country ought to have the affidavits presented by Senators Carter and Heitfeld to the president in which it was stated that martial law was unnecessary. The committee decided not to call on the president for the affidavits. On cross-examination, Simpkins held the record given on direct examination.

Sheriff J. D. Lacey arrested Sherry Johnson, wanted in Malheur county for horse stealing, in Wallheur county.

Wait for the wagon or rather wait for the "White" bicycle. We have a shipment of "White" wheels in transit, and while they are coming we want to tell you a few things about them.

Last year in the six-day international bicycle race at San Francisco, from Feb. 13 to Feb. 19, the "White" bicycle won four of the eight prizes offered.

At San Jose, Sept. 9, 1898, C. M. Smith beat Eddie Bald's long-standing record of 2:01 2/5; time 1:59 flat.

We also learn that the 1900 "White" has recently broken two world's records at Los Angeles, one the standing start, mile record in competition, unpaired, in 1:57 flat; also 15 miles paced competition record in 26:27 2/5.

Ride a "White" and keep in front.

Asthma's Clutch

The sufferer from Asthma is constantly wheezing, gasping, hacking and clearing the throat. When a storm approaches, when there is a cloud of dust, when a room is being swept, or when there is a bad odor, breathing becomes most difficult. Often it seems as though someone was clutching the sufferer by the throat with a terrible talisman.

The choking sensation is almost unbearable. The trouble sometimes lasts only a few minutes and sometimes hangs on for many days. There is only one safe thing to do, and that is take Acker's English Remedy for Throat and Lung Troubles. Just what this medicine accomplishes is shown by the following letter from Mr. N. E. Andrews, a prominent resident of Springfield, Ohio, who writes:

"W. H. Hooker & Co., New York: Gentlemen—I had some great pleasure to assure you that I have received both immediate and permanent relief from throat, bronchial and asthmatic troubles by using Acker's English Remedy, taken strictly according to directions. It is a blessing to humanity!"

Sold at the... and in a bottle, throughout the United States and Canada, and in England, at 1s. 6d. per bottle. If you are not satisfied after buying, return the bottle to your druggist and get your money back.
