SELF DENIAL WEEK.

Salvationists Will Celebrate the Week from March 25th to April 2nd.

The local Salvationists have requested the East Oregonian to publish the following:

Once more Self-Denial signals have been flashed from the Salvation Army national headquarters to each of its 700 corps all over the states, and with astonishing rapidity its thousands of soldiers are preparing to follow out the instructions received. In accordance with these the local army forces will celebrate the week of March 25 to April 2 as a week of prayer and Self-Denial, on the lines of the unique idea originated by the army's founder and general, William Booth, and since observed annually by his followers all over the world.

The idea has certainly brought about some remarkable results, even so much so that other religious institutions have tried to imitate it, but with scant success. Perhaps they have been deficient in the fervent enthusiasm that makes the Army soldiers bend with such energy to the task.

This year it is proposed to raise the sum of $50,000 for the grand purpose of founding the local work in the interests of the poor and homeless, and of relieving the terrible suffering brought upon thousands of Army converts and heathen natives in famine-stricken India. The money will be raised through members of the Army, by denying themselves of some article of food or clothing, or abstaining from some not strictly necessary expense, giving the amount saved to the Self-Denial Fund. This will be swelled by contributions from outsiders and in all probability every reader of the Daily will be invaded by some sweet-faced Army lassie and will be given an opportunity to assist in this special effort. Those who bear in mind the Army's splendid relief work, culminating in the mammoth Christmas dinner for the poor, by which over 100,000 destitute derelicts were fed, as well as its numerous institutions for the social redemption of outcast humanity, will be quick to respond as generously as possible.

WHO IS WHO?

Laughable Farce Comedy to Be Seen Wednesday Night in Pendleton. A very choice offering to the amusement seekers of Pendleton comedy, "Who is Who," which will be presented at the Frazer on next Wednesday night, March 28.

It is said that much that is wholesome in the farce comedy field has been packed into two hours and a half of invigorating fun, centering about the actions of those two comical fellows, Pusey and St. John, and a company of twenty-two artists. What is not at all common in such productions, "Who is Who" contains a plot, and one that keeps the body's wits on the qui vive to follow.

The story is of a young lawyer who forms a partnership with a fictitious person whom he calls Nemo. The perplexities and complications then center about Nemo. The action is fast, and genuinely funny, and it is said to be as gingery and effervescent as wine of ten

"MOTHER OF WOMEN'S CLUBS."

Lucinda Hinsdale Stone Dies at Kalamazoo, Michigan.

Mrs. K. Lucinda Hinsdale Stone, the originator of women's clubs and an educator of national reputation, died March 14 at the age of 86. For many years "the mother of women's clubs," as she was called, presided, with her husband, Dr. J. A. B. Stone, over Kalamazoo college. This institution was the first school in the West which admitted women to the study of the higher branches of learning, and the reform was largely due to the influence of Mrs. Stone.

She was perhaps the most widely known woman in Michigan. Her work in the field of women's clubs, which has been so fruitful of late years, began when she organized the Ladies' Literary Club of Kalamazoo. It was the first association of its kind in the West and the first in the country with the exception of the famous Sorosis Society in New York, which, after all, was not precisely what could be called a club.

A writer in the Chicago Times-Herald asserts that almost every woman's club in Michigan has been a direct or indirect outgrowth of this first foundation of Mrs. Stone's. Among other organizations which owe their life to the Kalamazoo original are the Twentieth Century Club, the Isabella Club, the Douglas Club and the Ladies' Literary Club of Grand Rapids.

Mrs. Stone was born and reared in Hinesburg, Vt., in close proximity to the University of Vermont and to Middlebury college, and in this atmosphere she acquired a genuine love of learning and an ambition to become an educator herself. Girls in those early days were not permitted to enter colleges, but Lucy Hinsdale was not the kind of a girl to allow such exclusion as that to interfere with her desire for a knowledge of the classics. She made friends with the young men at the "Lyceum" and shared their studies of Greek and Latin and mathematics, and might have qualified with the best of them for her degree.

Her first place of residence in Michigan was Grand Rapids. In 1840 she married Rev. Dr. J. A. B. Stone, then a Baptist minister of Gloucester, Mass. In 1845 Dr. and Mrs. Stone went to Kalamazoo to become heads of the "Old Branch" school, then connected with the university of Michigan. This was the institution which afterward, under the tutelage of Dr. and Mrs. Stone, became Kalamazoo college, of which Dr. Stone was president for twenty years.

Several years ago Mrs. Stone was honored by the University of Michigan with the degree of Ph. D. She was the first woman to receive this degree from the big school at Ann Arbor.

Club Function on Monday.

Attending the Inland Empire Teachers' Association is a lady who is quite prominent in the work of women's clubs, Mrs. E. J. Dockery, of Boise, Idaho. Mrs. Dockery read a paper on Friday before the convention on "The Art League in the Public Schools," which has been pronounced one of the ablest things in the program which has been given. Mrs. Dockery will give an informal talk on Monday afternoon at 2 o'clock at the home of Mrs. Charles B. Wade, on Locust Hill.

The talk is to be for all Pendleton club women and a cordial invitation is extended to members of all the clubs of the town to attend.

Reception Was a Success.

The chief club function of the week was the reception on Thursday evening at the Armory, which was given by the ladies of the women's clubs. It was a charmingly managed affair. The enjoyment of the visiting teachers and educators was heightened by the pleasant manner in which they were entertained on that occasion.

Grand Guardian Van Orsdall Returns Home—Maple Circle is the Name.

Mrs. C. C. Van Orsdall, grand guardian of the women of Woodcraft, and her private secretary, Miss Bell Bishop, returned this morning from Heppner. They were accompanied home by Mrs. Geo. P. Rosenberg. Mrs. Van Orsdall, on the evening of March 22, organized a circle of Women of Woodcraft at Heppner. It will be known as Maple Circle, and the number will be about 200, which indicates that the order is rapidly growing and will soon have reached the mark of 300 circles organized and in working order. Maple Circle has 27 charter members. Mrs. Edna L. Slocum having been elected guardian, neighbor, and Mrs. Kate Stevens as clerk.

On the evening of March 21, a public meeting was held which was addressed by Mrs. Van Orsdall on the general subject of Woodcraft and particularly concerning the order of which Mrs. Van Orsdall is the executive head. The circle at Heppner starts with prospects which encourage the officers to believe it will at once take rank for strength and standing among the best orders represented in the town.

W. S. J. Crouch, Formerly of Pendleton, Commits Suicide at Yreka.

W. B. Rider, of Walker, California, sends the East Oregonian a clipping, from the Yreka Journal of the 12th inst., which gives an account of the suicide of W. S. J. Crouch, formerly a resident of Pendleton, as follows:

A man named W. S. J. Crouch, who has been in Yreka for a few days past, and acting very strangely, committed suicide last Sunday morning about half-past 5 o'clock in the Yreka hotel. No one in the house knew anything of the attempt until hearing a heavy fall on the stairway leading down from the upper floor. From an investigation made, it seemed evident that he fastened a rope to the cross rail at top of staircase well, and putting the other end around his neck, threw himself over head foremost. The weight of his body broke the rope, as he was a large man over 6 feet tall, the rope also cutting deeply into his neck, the fall breaking his neck, and causing a fracture of the skull as his head was badly cut across the top from side to side. The deceased was about 60 years of age, and from the papers found upon him he had lived at Pendleton, Oregon. He was at Etna this county for a short time about two years ago, and had a married daughter who committed suicide a few years ago in the state of Washington by hanging. A coroner's inquest was held, and an examination of the body made by Dr. Fred McNulty, county physician, who thinks his neck was broken and the skull fractured by the fall. The jury after hearing all the evidence obtainable from the very few who knew anything about him, rendered a verdict of premeditated suicide, as above stated.

The deceased was a member of Pendleton (Oregon) Lodge, No. 52, F. & A. M., and the members here were looking out for him, but did not suspect he would commit suicide, although acting very queer. The funeral took place yesterday afternoon from Masonic Hall, under the auspices of St. John's Lodge, No. 37, and Howard Lodge, No. 96, of this place.

FROM THE TUTTILLA STANDPOINT.

Current Comment by the East Oregonian's Suburban Correspondent. An editor, replying to another member of the same craft, says: "It takes more brains to run a farm than it does a newspaper like the —." Now, if open confession is really good for the soul, what a relief this editor must feel. Lo, these many years it has been quite the custom to point to farming as a calling in which no particular brains were required. Anybody could follow a plow or harrow or handle a hoe. In seeking an illustration to describe anything particularly stupid, the farmer was invariably turned to. Even the genteel sport, noting a blunder of his partner at cards, says "Why, — it, you play like a farmer!" and now comes a real live editor, who admits that it takes more brains to run a farm than it does a newspaper. What next?

Dr. Gatling, the inventor of a gun which is estimated to have killed a quarter of a million men, is alive and well at the age of eighty-one, and has turned his attention to the arts of peace.

One of his latest inventions is an automobile plow which is to do the work of a number of men and horses. The dispatches giving an account of General Cronje's surrender say that a general officer was sent to receive and conduct him to camp, where he was met by General Roberts, who shook him warmly by the hand, congratulated him on the gallant defense he had made, and invited him to breakfast.

A general officer was sent to escort him to Cape Town, particular care being taken to guard General Cronje and his family from any intrusion. The general, appreciating this courteous treatment, warmly thanked his captors for their kindness, but an Eastern Oregon newspaper, a standard authority on military matters, says the conduct of the English general was such as to bring the English character into contempt the world over. Just so. General Roberts, after forty years' experience in a hard, stern calling, has preserved reputation for courtesy, gentleness and chivalrous treatment of his fellows which will suffer nothing from comparison with some people in gentler callings.

Charles Hines, whom the German consul at Portland has been trying to locate for some time, received a very agreeable notification the other day that there was a sum of money awaiting his order. Mr. Hines' father, who died some time ago in Germany, had his life insured for $250. The German member of the learned profession of law who collected the amount from the insurance company kindly forwarded $60 as Mr. Hines' share, the balance going for "reasonable attorney's fees" and other incidental expenses.

The chivalry of North Tutuilla seems to be one of its strong points. Two prominent young business men, candidates for the office of school clerk, found themselves decidedly not in it, while a lady candidate who appeared at the last moment just captured the votes.

Scrofula to Consumption.

Any one predisposed to Scrofula can never be healthy and vigorous. This taint in the blood naturally drifts into Consumption. Being such a deep-seated blood disease, Swift's Specific is the only known cure for Scrofula, because it is the only remedy which can reach the disease.

Scrofula appeared on the head of my little grandchild when only 18 months old. Shortly after breaking out it spread rapidly all over her body. The scales of the scrofula would peel off on the slightest touch, and the odor that would arise made the atmosphere of the room sickening and unbearable. The disease next attacked the eyes, and we feared she would lose her sight. Ample physicians from the surrounding country were consulted, but could do nothing to relieve the little innocent, and gave it as their opinion that the case was hopeless and impossible to save the child's eyesight. It was then that we decided to try Swift's Specific. That medicine at once made a speedy and complete cure. She is now a young lady, and has never had a sign of the disease to return.

Mrs. RUTH HASKINS, Salina, Kan.

Scrofula is an obstinate blood disease, and is beyond the reach of the average blood medicine. Swift's Specific
