At Tacoma, of the 6368 voters registered for the election which occurred there a few weeks ago, 4001 were born in the United States and 2367 in foreign countries, a proportion of 63 per cent being American and 37 foreign born. So long as the proportion of the native born voters is not less than 60 per cent, a government of, by and for the people is comparatively safe, as with the native borns still in the majority the necessary opportunity will be given the foreign borns to become possessed of the spirit of American institutions, and to be freed from the shackles of the old world's environment before they may participate in self-government and share in the blessings of equal rights. When the proportion of foreign born citizens grows, then it will be proper to increase the term they are required to remain in the country before they become voters and American freemen.

The machine republicans of New York think so much of Theodore Roosevelt that they desire to bury him out of sight and memory. As a means to that end they persist in working up a demand among the people for him for vice-president on the ticket with McKinley. The machine republicans of the Empire State will even go so far as to bring about his nomination and compel him to accept it, as an offering of the rank and file of his party in its hour of need. Their love for him is so great that they wish to make a martyr of him. He is such a splendid rebel and kicker against machine methods that they wish to be rid of him. They invite him to occupy the vice-presidential grave, and there is some evidence that Roosevelt will fall a victim to their wiles. No one has ever been known to reach the presidency except over the dead body of the man who occupied the chair. It is said that over the vice-presidential seat is written:

"Whoe'er ambition here pursues
Must seek it in a dead man's shoes."

The identical causes that brought together the democracy of 1800 brings together the democracy of 1900. One hundred years ago the effort was made to Anglicize the country, to imperialize it, to increase the power of the privileged, the upper classes, at the expense of the plain people of the land. The present administration is like that of John Adams, in its war spirit, its extravagance, its militarism, its English sympathies and in its passage of laws known to be in direct violation of the constitution. The alien and sedition laws have their counterpart in Puerto Rico legislation and that mapped out for the Philippines. The great trusts are behind the republican party, the trust spirit is in its blood, and nothing but defeat will bring the party that Lincoln founded and that "saved the Union" back to its senses. Bryan is to the democratic party in 1900 what Jefferson was to it in 1800, and what Lincoln was to the republican party in 1860. And, by the way, upon the banner of the democracy of 1800 was inscribed the name of republican, and republican it was, to the glory and growth of the nation.

The Illinois supreme court has denied a rehearing in the suit of the Inter-Ocean Publishing Company, of Chicago, against the Associated Press. This decision affirms the ruling of the supreme court given a few weeks ago, when it took the view that the Associated Press was a common carrier and must supply its news service to all publishers who apply for it on equal terms. At this time the Associated Press entered a motion for a rehearing of the case, claiming that it was not a common carrier, but a private enterprise, comprising the membership who entered into a mutual agreement to observe certain rules. The decision now given finally disposes of the question at issue between the parties. The Inter-Ocean has won every one of its contentions and, besides, broken the news monopoly, which will prove a benefit to all who read newspapers, and that includes the people of the civilized globe. The Inter-ocean was thought to have entered upon a losing fight but it came out of it with flying colors.

General Otis says: "I am not an expansionist, never was, never expect to be, but we have got into these islands and we can't get out." And the predicament is largely due to just such work as Otis has performed since he has been in the islands. The whole Philippine business has been a blunder from the beginning to the present. If there were no blunders Otis and his kind would be without avocations and many of those who now try to shine in high position by display of tinsel and brass would find their occupations gone. Most of those who scramble into a uniform and strap a sword to their side do so with an idea that it makes them big in the people's eyes. On the other hand the big man cares nothing for the uniform and the display but everything for what he can accomplish without attracting attention to himself. The larger minded army officers were of too retiring dispositions to be put in the highest authority in the war with Spain and the "unpleasantness" in the Philippines, but had to content themselves with serving under stuffed uniforms that did little but swell up with their own importance.

BRYAN TO DEMOCRATIC CLUBS.

The following letter from William J. Bryan to W. S. McKean, secretary of the National League of democratic clubs, contains a suggestion which may well be recommended to democrats everywhere:

"My Dear Sir—I regret exceedingly that engagements made before your invitation was received will prevent my attending the Jefferson dinner. It is especially fitting that in this centennial year of the party's first victory we should commemorate the birthday of the party's founder and patron saint.

"In 1800 the genius of Jefferson organized the democratic party and led a successful fight against the aristocratic ideas of Hamilton. Today, when democracy is engaged in a life and death struggle with plutocracy, we can find inspiration in the teachings of the sage of Monticello.

"The doctrine of equal rights to all and special privileges to none, applied to present problems, would restore an equitable financial system, deprive national banks of the power to issue paper money, destroy private monopolies, remove the menace of militarism and imperialism, save the nation from entangling alliances, make it an example to other nations. And its flag an emblem of peace, justice, liberty and progress.

"I hope that the National Association of Democratic Clubs will urge each local organization to celebrate the coming Fourth of July.

"Those who assemble throughout the country can listen to the reading of the Declaration of Independence, hear patriotic speeches and then learn by wire that the national convention of the democratic party, meeting on that day, has reasserted the party's faith in the principles set forth in the declaration and embodied in the constitution of the United States. Yours truly,

"W. J. BRYAN."

It should be the immediate effort of democrats throughout the land to arrange for Independence Day celebrations. Bulletins from the convention can be had of the telegraph companies at slight expense, and may be read to the meetings between the speeches.

BRYAN AND THE PHILIPPINES.

The Evening Post seems to us, declares the New York World, to do Mr. Bryan a great injustice in classing him with Mr. McKinley in constitutional inability to stick to his convictions and "follow them when the pinch comes." It asks:

"Can any democrat affirm with confidence that William J. Bryan, if elected, would say, 'The Philippines, so far as the president of the United States can make them so, shall be free and independent?' There is nothing in his career that leads us to think so."

There has never been the slightest inconsistency or faltering in Mr. Bryan's attitude on the Philippine question. He did, as the Post says, favor the ratification of the peace treaty with Spain; but he did this to avoid the chaos which, as he thought, would result from a rejection of the treaty, and he said that "with the ratification of the treaty there should be a declaration of the nation's purpose to give the Filipinos independence upon the same terms that were promised the Cubans." He has never wavered from this position—insisting that such a declaration at the start would have prevented the war, and would now end the insurrection.

Mr. Bryan's present attitude is thus stated in the Nebraska platform lately adopted:

"The Filipinos cannot be citizens without endangering our civilization; they cannot be subjects without endangering our form of government; and as we are not willing to surrender our civilization or to convert a republic into an empire, we favor an immediate declaration of the nation's purpose to give the Filipinos, first, a stable form of government; second, independence, and third, protection from outside interference, as it has for nearly a century given protection to the republics of Central and South America."

There is no reason in the world to doubt that if Mr. Bryan were elected president he would adhere to and so far as it lay in his power execute this policy. The fault in his character is not an inability to stick to his convictions "when the pinch comes," thinks The World, but an apparent unwillingness to yield his convictions even to the logic of events and to the four times expressed will of the great majority of the people, no matter though the sticking threatens to defeat his party and to establish the imperialism which he opposes.

SHAKING DICE FOR NATIONS.

Rev. George Washburn, president of Roberts College, Constantinople, speaking at a dinner of the Brooklyn Congregational Club, said:

"The political transitions which have taken place in Turkey in the last few weeks are the most important that have occurred in years in the empire. You have probably read of some German railroad concessions obtained by the Russian government. Well, there is a story back of these concessions. When the war broke out in South Africa, the Kaiser went to England and there was one thing he carried away home with him in reward for keeping his hand out of the affair in Africa. It was a concession for all the railways in the western part of Turkey for the Germans. These concessions gave the Germans the right to construct all the railways in Asia Minor west of a line in Constantinople to the Persian Gulf.

"It now appears that, as Germany made a compact with England, so Russia has made a bargain with Germany. As Germany is to construct all the roads in the western part of the empire, so is Russia to construct all the roads in the eastern part. These two powers, with the consent of England, are dividing Turkey into two spheres of influence, in the belief that when the final partition comes the sphere which is under Russian control will become Russian.

"By mobilizing troops upon his borders the two powers have compelled the sultan to agree to this. The line between the two spheres of influence runs from a little town on the Black Sea to the Persian Gulf. This is the arrangement the sultan has been compelled to accept, and the arrangement that has meant so much politically to Turkey in the last few weeks."

NO MAN HATH RIGHT.

No man hath right to rear a prison wall
About himself, and then to sit therein
And sigh for freedom, gone beyond recall,
And make his moan for things that might have been.

Nor hath he right to build himself a stair,
With which to scale his prison's high rampart,
Where every stroke must mean some soul's despair,
And every step a bleeding human heart.

—Carrie Blake Morgan.

Facing the Future.

There comes a time to most women when they must face the future of wifehood and motherhood. What that future has in store for them depends largely upon themselves. To a healthy woman the obligations and consequences of marriage are a lasting happiness. To a woman suffering from irregularity or other ailments of the sex, marriage may prove a mockery and motherhood a misery. Where such irregularity exists Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription can be used with the assurance that health will speedily be restored. It is the most reliable medicine known to medical science for the cure of diseases which affect the delicate womanly organs. "Favorite Prescription" is a non-alcoholic medicine and is also free from opium cocaine and other narcotics.

"At an early stage of married life," writes Mrs. Flora Arn, of Dallas, Jackson Co., Mo., "I was greatly bothered with painful periods, also a troublesome drain which rendered me very weak and unfit for work of any kind. I became so thin there was nothing left of me but skin and bone. My husband became alarmed and got me a bottle of 'Favorite Prescription.' After he saw the wonderful effects of that one he got me two more, and after I used those up there was no more pain, and I began to gain in flesh very rapidly. I owe all praise to Dr. Pierce and his wonderful curative medicines."
