FOR JUSTICE OF THE PEACE.

PETER WEST

Hereby announces himself as a candidate for Justice of the Peace, Pendleton district, at the ensuing June election.

THE DALLES SCOURING MILL.

It Will Begin Operations About June 1st, Says the Manager.

"The Dalles scouring mill will begin operations on June 1," said J. M. Russell, who has the enterprise in charge. Mr. Russell was at the Hotel Pendleton on Monday evening when he made this announcement. He has the buildings about completed and the machinery will be installed before the date set for the beginning of the season's scouring. The scouring mill has been wanted by The Dalles for the past ten years, and finally Mr. Russell organized the enterprise and has brought it to successful issue.

It will be of the same capacity as the Pendleton mills—40,000 pounds in 24 hours. The machinery will be of patterns similar to that used in the Pendleton mills.

While conversing regarding the new Dalles industry, Mr. Russell was asked if, in his opinion, The Dalles mills would come into competition with the Pendleton institution. In reply, Mr. Russell said:

"In the main, the Dalles and Pendleton mills will not meet on common ground; therefore will not enter into competition, and will not be antagonistic. It may be and probably will be that on the Columbia river the two may go into common territory at Arlington and above there. But, the degree of competition will not make the two institutions antagonistic and they may even be helpful the one to the other."

Regarding a woolen mill for The Dalles, Mr. Russell stated that the people there want one, but that it is not yet finally arranged for. Concerning the relationship which would be sustained between woolen mills at Pendleton and The Dalles, Mr. Russell gave the opinion that the two would be really helpful to each other. The attention of the buyers in the general markets would be attracted the more widely as mills increased in Oregon, and thus one would strengthen the other.

Mr. Russell, noting the streets and the numbers of people on them, remarked that it is very apparent that the town is growing; that a stranger need not ask to know that Pendleton is solid and increasing every year in population.

The Paul Mohr Portage.

"The Paul Mohr portage railway is assured now, and cars will be running within 60 days. This anyone could know who went there and saw the stage to which the work has progressed."

"What corporate influence, if any, will control the enterprise?" was asked.

"That is a question that has puzzled a great many persons. It was thought for a time the O. R. & N. Co. had its hand on the road, but that view has been generally discredited. The Northern Pacific was also by some thought to be the promoters behind it, but few now think that. It might not be a violent assumption to connect the Great Northern with the portage, and to say that President Hill has encouraged the enterprise financially. At any rate, the road should be an element in the transportation business of the Columbia valley. Just how important, and in what manner and to what extent, I would not venture to guess." Regarding a branch road from The Dalles south to the interior, Mr. Russell speaks disparagingly. He is not an advocate of branch roads for The Dalles, believing they would not benefit the town.

GOOD WORK AT WALLA WALLA.

An Experiment to Be Made There Which Promises to Be of Great Benefit.

Walla Walla, May 1.—The Union of this morning says: Just 1200 pounds of seed that cost the neat sum of $5000 arrived in Walla Walla last week, franked from Washington city. It is Turkish alfalfa seed and the agricultural department sent a man on a special mission to Turkey to obtain this pure seed for experiment near Walla Walla. The alfalfa was consigned to A. B. Leckenby, the well known agrostologist, who will conduct the experiments on behalf of the government. Ground is being prepared for the reception of the seed and will be in shape by the middle of this week. The land selected is 40 acres just at the northern edge of the city limits, being on the Chris Ennis farm, a lease for three years having been taken by the government. The plot of land is summer fallow and has been thoroughly cultivated, just having been harrowed three times as a finishing touch before receiving the alfalfa seed. This, if practicable, will be sown in drills and not too thick, with a view to obtaining a good sample in the fall. Mr. Leckenby and Milton Evans have given the matter considerable time and thought and were somewhat disappointed that the seed did not arrive earlier in the season. However, late as it is, the seed will be planted, trusting to the extra cultivation to obtain a good stand. From 15 to 30 pounds of the product will be sown per acre.

The land where this alfalfa is to be sown is considered dry and if a thrifty growth is obtained, and there is little doubt on the subject, considering the success of experiments on the O. R. & N. farm below the city where the alfalfa did remarkably well, the result will mean much to every farmer.

Secretary of Agriculture Wilson, when in the west a year ago, stated that one of the first considerations in the west should be grasses for the dry lands. He consulted with Mr. Leckenby and other agrostologists, as well as making a personal inspection of the lands to be benefited, and the experimental farm is the result and later the arrival of the high priced seed.

Outside of getting alfalfa to grow and thrive, another important matter has to be considered. In the same pasture must be some other variety of grass to make a change to forestall the bloat in cattle. At the present time if turned into an alfalfa patch to graze, cattle have to be watched or they will bloat and if some one is not there to care for them the result is death. This is true of all the alfalfa, as far as known.
