Democratic leaders are claiming a reversal of the electoral votes in favor of Bryan this year in the states of Kentucky, Maryland, Delaware, West Virginia, California and Indiana. This all depends on the work to be done at Kansas City at the time of the national democratic convention, but the prospect is good for excellent work there, as well as for victory at the polls in November. With Bryan as the candidate for president and a good man for vice president, on a platform that includes the demands of the people, and success is reasonably sure.

Misfortune to the wheat farmers of the Red River valley, in the form of a drought, promises to pay a big dividend to the farmers of the Pacific Northwest. It is an ill wind that blows no one any good. If the drought in Minnesota and the Dakotas does give the farmers of the Inland Empire an increased price for their wheat it is a result that should not be accompanied by any great amount of gladness. In our prosperity we should remember that there are others just as deserving, on whom fortune failed to smile. A small supply always insures a big demand.

Have you been enumerated? Is the question that every citizen in Pendleton should ask the other. The work of the enumerators does not promise the best results and the vigilance of the citizens is necessary to insure a full return of the population of the town. In Spokane, where the enumerators were required to finish their work in less time than in the smaller places, it is found that fully one-fourth of the people have been missed. The citizens of that city are now thoroughly alarmed and have been given four days extra time in which to complete the census. Some interest in this matter in Pendleton should be taken, not only by the citizens but by the Commercial Association. The census of Pendleton should be thorough and complete. If the returns show Pendleton has a less population than there is here it will injure the town and give it a less important place among the cities and towns of the Northwest.

Current gossip by those attached to the war department reveals a strong desire for the creation of a larger army. The failure of the army reorganization bill and of the present congress to provide for additional troops to succeed the present volunteer army when its work is concluded is given as basis for the belief that the next session of congress will be confronted with a proposition to increase the regular army strength. The departure of the regulars for the Philippines, to be ordered soon, will leave the home ranks sadly depleted, and in view of the fact that Spain had a standing army of 50,000 in the Philippines to suppress the insurrection there, it is believed the proposed assembly of troops in the islands will be none too formidable. The cloven hoof of militarism is upon the country and the Philippine problem is being used to force the people to consent to it being placed upon their necks, so "the sons of somebody" can make a display in uniform.

A New York paper has compiled a list of the trusts incorporated since March 4, 1897. It finds that 142 such combines have been organized within that period, 86 of which were incorporated under the inviting laws of New Jersey. The products covered by these trusts include coal, copper, chemicals, leather, iron and steel, linned oil, school furniture, silks, wire, thread, tin plate, window glass, woollens, writing paper, borax, canned goods, rubber tires, cement, tobacco, matches, liquors, sugar, paper, steam pumps, glass, cotton goods, crackers, salt, starch, wall paper, stoves and ranges, rubber goods, dye-woods and extracts, envelopes, varnish and worsteds. The trust is simply the result of neglect on the part of the people to hold sacred and enforce the law of equal rights to all. By granting privileges to the few we have swept away "equal rights" and the people find themselves face to face with the trust and without means of redress. The people lost their birthrights when they consented to allow the individual to capitalize and mortgage the soil and set up a state institution for the collection of private debts.

CONGRESS HAS ADJOURNED WITHOUT DEFINING THE POLICY OF THE REPUBLICAN PARTY TOWARD THE PHILIPPINES. IT HAS "LEFT EVERYTHING TO MCKINLEY," WHO HAS SENT A SECOND COMMISSION TO MANILA TO PROCLAIM A "SOVEREIGNTY" WHICH THE INHABITANTS REFUSE TO RECOGNIZE, AND WHICH HE HAS BEEN UNABLE TO ESTABLISH, AFTER SIXTEEN MONTHS OF WAR, WITH 65,000 SOLDIERS. EVERYTHING IS VAGUE AND UNSETTLED EXCEPT THE IMPERIALISTIC IDEA AND THE FEARFUL COST IN LIVES AND MONEY.

The voters who are opposed to this Asiatic adventure know exactly where Mr. Bryan stands in regard to it. He formulated his policy in the Nebraska democratic platform, and has just condensed it in these words: "An immediate declaration of the nation's purpose: First, to establish a stable government; second, to give the Philippines their independence; and third, to protect them from outside interference."

Of this policy he says: "I believe that an immediate announcement of the government policy would stop the war and make easy the establishment of a stable government. I do not anticipate any trouble from the protection suggested. Our protection of the South American republics has been a great help to them and very little expense to us. This is in effect a proposition to do in and for the Philippines what congress solemnly pledged the nation to do in Cuba. It is just, it is American, it is practical. It would have prevented the war in the Philippines. It would stop the 'insurrection' now."

Upon this policy Mr. Bryan will have the earnest support of the World and of every enemy of imperialism who believes with us that the only issue in the campaign worth considering is the preservation of the republic, the maintenance of the constitution and a return to the principles of the Declaration of Independence.—New York World.

TOPICS OF THE TIME.
President Henry Wade Rogers, of the Northwestern university, at Evanston, Ill., an old established Methodist institute of learning, is the latest candidate for standing by the plank for opinion's sake. One of the trustees brazenly declares in a newspaper interview that Mr. Rogers was forced into resigning because, a year ago, at a public meeting in Chicago, he made a speech against imperialism. The list is lengthening. Here are five of the notable ones: Basis for opposing gas monopoly. Will for calling land monopoly to account. Andrews for having democratic opinions on the money question. Herron for bringing plenary to the test of Christianity, and now Rogers for standing by the declaration of independence. If the time has not already come, it cannot be far off, when college educators will clearly understand that if they wish to hold their chairs they must suppress all opinions which do not harmonize with the partisan or sordid interests of plutocratic college bosses.

Dun's Review for the 9th reports that business failures in May were not only the largest ever known in that month since such records were made, but of 80 months covered by these returns only six have shown as large liabilities. The optimistic Dun finds, nevertheless, that "the report is encouraging." Dun's Review has found "encouragement" in every month's business for four years! But the masses, though they have found "encouragement" palatable, have not attended upon it. This speculators' prosperity does hard, in the speculators' papers; but it is dying, nevertheless. We have had no genuine prosperity since the late '80's, notwithstanding all the whooping up, and now even the bubble which trade papers and administration organs have inflated is collapsing.

A firm of Baltimore banker, Hamblin & Co., solicitors for the substitution of Gorman as the democratic candidate for president in place of Bryan, has circularized large numbers of business men and bankers in the south and east in Gorman's behalf. This uneasy firm of financiers apologizes for thus entering into politics by saying that while wishing it were otherwise it is nevertheless a regrettable fact that politics and finance are so indissolubly connected that it is impossible to mention the one without alluding to the other.

This is, indeed, both a fact and regrettable. But it is the Gorman of both parties and not the Bryan of any party, that have made it so. It is tyranism, not Bryanism, that puts government into private business and private concerns into government business. And that is what connects

TO THE WISE

An exceedingly important if not vital question with reference to the attitude of the United States toward the British war in South Africa has been raised by Edmund H. Smalley, a republican lawyer of Chicago. In an open letter to President McKinley Mr. Smalley reminds the president not only that the British ministry is brazenly violating international law in prosecuting the war to the point of destroying the independence of the two republics, but that it is the privilege of the American government, in accordance with international law, to enter a protest. More than that, as Mr. Smalley points out, the American government, if it allows the annihilation of these two republics to proceed without protest, will become a party to a revolutionary precedent which may hereafter place every weak state at the absolute mercy of any superior military power with which it becomes embroiled in war. The American republic itself, should the accidents of war bring defeat upon it, might be similarly at the mercy of the British on the basis of the South African precedent to which it now silently assents.—Louis F. Post in "The Public."

The Welcome

At the door from a happy, healthy wife, is something which the husband looks forward to all through the day's labor. He may be tired, but his step lightens and his face brightens as he quickens his pace to receive the smiling welcome of his wife. What a difference in the home-coming of the man whose wife is nervous and gloomy, having neither heart nor strength to be glad. Many such a husband has worked a transformation in his home-life by learning of the cures performed by Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription. It cures diseases of the delicate organs, builds up the nerves, induces refreshing sleep, and transforms the sickly woman into the happy homemaker. There is no alcohol in "Favorite Prescription" and it is absolutely free from opium, cocaine, and all other narcotics.

"My wife was sick for over eight years," writes Albert H. Falte, Reg. of Abamont, Grady Co., Tenn. "She had uterine disease and was treated by two physicians, but got no relief. At last I read in one of your Memoranda Books, about Dr. Pierce's medicine, and we decided to try his 'Favorite Prescription.' I sent to the drug store and got one bottle, and the first dose gave ease and sleep. She had not slept any for three nights. Being sure that it would cure her, I sent for five more bottles, and when she had taken the sixth bottle she was sound and well. We now have a fine boy at our house."

The New York World,
Thrice-a-Week Edition

ALMOST A DAILY—AT THE PRICE OF A WEEKLY.

The most widely circulated "weekly" newspaper in America is the "Thrice-a-Week" edition of The New York World, and with the presidential campaign now at hand you cannot do without it. Here are some of the reasons why it is easily the leader in dollar a year journalism.

It is issued every other day, and is so all purposes a daily.
Every week each subscriber receives 18 pages and often during the "busy" season 24 pages each week.
The price is only $1 per year.
It is virtually a daily at the price of a weekly.

Its news covers every known part of the world. No weekly newspaper could stand alone and furnish such service.
The Thrice-a-Week World has at its disposal all of the resources of the greatest newspaper in existence—the wonder of modern journalism—"America's Greatest Newspaper," as it has been justly termed—The New York World.

Its political news is absolutely impartial. This fact will be of especial value in the presidential campaign coming on.

The best of current fiction is found in its columns.
These are only some of the reasons; there are others. Read it and see them all.

We offer this unequalled newspaper and the weekly East Oregonian together one year for $2. The regular subscription price of the two papers is $3.50.

Subscribers to Magazines
IF YOU WANT TO SUBSCRIBE for magazines or newspapers in the United States or Europe, remit by postal note, check or send to the East Oregonian, in remitting you can deduct ten per cent from the publishers' price where contracts for advertising can be made for it.
