ORDINANCES TO BE UNENFORCED.

Council Takes Sidewalk Matter Under Consideration.

A special meeting of the council was held this morning at ten o'clock, to give a hearing to businessmen on the subject of the enforcement of the sidewalk ordinances now in effect. A petition was presented signed by about 20 businessmen asking that the council be not so anxious to compel stores to remove signboards from the walks. It was signed by many prominent business houses.

Dr. Vincent made a statement in which he spoke for the council.

Among other things he said was that the council was willing to modify the ordinances in any such manner the citizens ask. The council was anxious only to do the will of the people in all respects. But, it was also true that the council would insist that all must be treated alike. If one business man is allowed to have anything on the walks, then any other business man will be allowed to keep things on the walks, such as beer kegs and goods of all kinds.

Mayor Vincent urged the desirability of having the streets made attractive

PAID A $15 FINE.

C. L. McGinnis Arrested for Fast Driving

Saturday Evening.

There was considerable excitement

Saturday evening on Main street when officers Coffman and Turner stopped C.

L. McGinnis for fast driving on the main streets of the city, and in so doing inflicted some wounds on Mr.

McGinnis with their official canes.

Mr. McGinnis was driving the horse owned by A. Nolte, and was exceeding the speed prescribed by the ordinance.

The officers claimed they had tried to stop the fast driving, and, failing, used their authority as allowed by law, finding it necessary to strike Mr.

McGinnis as he went by. His forehead was cut so that the blood flowed freely, and Dr. Smith was called to dress the wound.

Mr. McGinnis paid the $15 fine imposed, and the incident passed into history.

For a time, a crowd of nearly 100 assembled on the corner of main and Court streets, and discussed the pros and cons of the affair, some supporting and some condemning the officers.
