COUNTY COURT ADJOURNED. Will Meet Again on July 23—Road Notice—Time of Tax Payment Extended. County Judge Hartman and Commissioners Gilliland and Walker have signed the record of the July term of county court, and adjourned the session. They are to meet again on July 25.

The court extended the time for the payment of taxes to September 1. The road business was fully considered, with the result that a notice was issued to attend to cases regarding the manner in which they are to handle the business of that department. The notice appears elsewhere.

Regarding the matter of purchasing supplies for the county, the question was debated, and there were offered various opinions on the subject. The county judge, for instance, thought it might be a good plan to ask for bids from physicians to attend to all the medical business of the county, in all places, the contracting physician to arrange himself with physicians in other towns to attend to cases outside of Pendleton, and to have charge of the county poorhouse and the jail. The commissioners thought the present plan was good enough, and so no change was made. No appointment of a janitor was made, Mr. Waffle holding over.

THE MURDER OF MATE KIRK. Warren Was Found in Savannah, Ga., and Passed Through Here Today. Detectives Joe Day and H. P. Ford, of Portland, were passengers on the train through Pendleton today, en route to Portland with James Langthorn Warren, the man who killed First Mate William Kirk, of the ship Clarence S. Venable on January 23, 1900. He was arrested in Savannah, Georgia, just (?) months from the day he committed the crime, or on June 23. Warren's wife lived formerly in Savannah, and soon after the commission of the crime, Mrs. Warren, who was at Seattle, left for the south, and was followed by detectives to Savannah. There the authorities shadowed her, and through watching her movements, discovered Warren was there in hiding and was going under the alias of J. L. Willford. He was there for a week prior to his arrest.

He was a native of Virginia. He refused, of course, to make any statement regarding the crime he is charged with, preferring to await the employment of counsel to take charge of his case. He will be in Portland this evening, and will be incarcerated in the county jail to await trial. Warren is charged with killing Kirk while the ship was lying in the harbor there. Warren was one of the sailors on the ship Clarence S. Venable, of which Kirk was the first officer. Detective Day stated that the weather in the south now is extremely hot, and that travel is unpleasant for that reason. But, said he, it is not more unpleasant than the dust on the western plains, which just now is something awful. Passengers look like they had taken a ride on a country road where the dust is ten inches deep.

HAVE NO HOPE IN LONDON

English Believe the Worst Has Happened in Peking.

TRYING TO SHIFT RESPONSIBILITY

Hard Fighting at Tien Tsin for Four Days and International Forces Much Exhausted; Whites Reach Taku.

London, July 11.—Although Shanghai reports the statement that both the emperor and the dowager empress are alive, and telegrams from Chinese officials again testify to the safety of the legations, the assertions no longer stimulate hope here. London sees in the disappearance and reappearance of prominent people at Peking, and their efforts to shift the blame from one to the other, only preparations for all-out defenses. In view of the approach of troops of the powers and the tragedy they may discover on reaching the Chinese capital.

Hard Fighting at Tien Tsin. According to a dispatch from Shanghai, the fighting at Tien Tsin on July 9th was the heaviest which has yet occurred. The Russians alone burying 200 men. The allies are becoming exhausted by the constant fighting.

Foreign Settlements Bombarded. Berlin, July 11.—The German consul at Tien Tsin cables that the foreign settlements were continually bombarded from July 5 to July 8th. On July 8th two thousand Boxers attacked the French settlement and were routed by the Russians.

Foreign Families Safe. Nearly all of the families of the foreigners left Tien Tsin for Taku on July 4th. The German consul at Che Foo telegraphs that Governor Shan Tung announces that on July 4th the foreign ministers at Peking were out of danger and the revolt decreasing.

Kidnap by the Dowager Empress. New York, July 11.—A dispatch to the Herald from Shanghai says: The edict of the empress dowager, promulgated June 30th, has just been published in Shanghai. Her majesty orders that the Boxers be suppressed and that the foreign legations in Peking be protected. The whole tone of the edict is to hold the foreigners blameless for the gravity of the crisis.

Whites Arrive at Shanghai. Two hundred and fifty white refugees from Tien Tsin have arrived at Shanghai.

Avoiding the Responsibility. Washington, July 11.—The Chinese minister this morning delivered a secretary Hay a copy of the telegram purporting to be from the Chinese imperial government for the "Boxer" troubles, and asserting that the engagement at Tien Tsin was the direct result of the bombardment at the Taku forts by the foreigners.

Chinese Rebels Disperse. Paris, July 11.—The Chinese minister here informed M. Delcasse that Li Hung Chang had received a telegram from Peking asserting that the soldiers and rebels who surrounded the legations had gradually dispersed.

Indian Troops for China. London, July 11.—It was rumored that the government intended to send 100,000 Indian troops to China but three foreign office officials said that no such number of men could be spared from India. He added, however, it may safely be asserted that a strong British reinforcement will be on their way to the far east before the end of September.

Foreigners Hard Pressed. Washington, July 11.—The following was received at the navy department from Admiral Remy: "The Foo—Two battalions of the Ninth infantry and one battalion of marines were landed today, to proceed to Tien Tsin. The allied forces in Tien Tsin are engaged in maintaining defenses. Order the Solace here to take the sick and wounded to the Yokohama hospital. Have just learned from Admiral Seymour at Tien Tsin that the foreigners there are hard pressed."

GASOLINE TANK EXPLODED. Filled the Tribune Office With Smoke, but Did Little Damage. At four o'clock Tuesday afternoon, a tank of gasoline which stood just behind the engine in the Tribune office exploded, and the gas at once took fire. An alarm of fire was turned in, and the department responded with alacrity. A fire engine extinguisher was rushed into the room, and the fire put out instantly. It made it unnecessary for any further exertions by other firemen.

It appeared that the gasoline was fed to the engine by gravity, and the explosion was accounted for in that manner. The damage is nominal, a few dollars being all that will be the cost in putting things in shape again.

While conducting services at the Episcopal church at Walla Walla Rev. Andrew Bard was overcome by the heat, and was completely prostrated.
