EXPLANATION OF THE CARPENTERS.

Men Who Worked on Renn Building Did Not Strike for Less Time.

Accompanying a statement printed in the Tribune, in which appeared the following: "Monday morning, without warning, the carpenters employed by J. Tomlinson on the new Renn building on Court street demanded a reduction of hours and the same wages and, upon being refused, walked off the job. The men had been working nine hours a day and receiving $3.50 per day." The undersigned send to the East Oregonian the following, requesting its publication:

To the Editor.—We, the undersigned, wish to make a reply to the above through the columns of the East Oregonian. In trying to make it look as though the carpenters were the cause for Mr. Tomlinson having to send away for mechanics, as though they had walked off the job, let us here say we were working for (we all understood) $3.50 per day; but, when we were paid, it was somewhat short. Mr. Tomlinson states we demanded a reduction in hours and the same pay, which is not true, as we only asked for what he agreed to pay us when hiring us, which was $3.50 per day.

Now, the reason we walked off is because he reduced the wages and has been advertising for outside men, not, as he says, on our account, but solely on his own responsibility, and, by so doing, has reduced the wages. We make this statement in order to let the people who are now working for Mr. Tomlinson or any concerned, know the facts, and to set ourselves right with the community. If we had hired to Tomlinson for $3.00 per day, $3.00 per day would be all we would expect. We hired to Mr. Tomlinson for $3.50 per day, and $3.50 per day was all we expected. We can work for $3.00 per day when such is the understanding. Does it look like we were strikers?

GENIUS OF THE NORMAL SCHOOL

SHOULD GROUND THE YOUNG TEACHER IN THE ELEMENTARY BRANCHES.

State Institution at Weston Aims to Accomplish This End—Work Toward It During Ensuing Year.

Weston, Or., July 24.—In a former article with reference to the Eastern Oregon State Normal it was stated that the purpose of "The State Normal School" is "the preparation of teachers for teaching in the common schools of the state." A brief statement of the school's work in its attempt to fulfill this one object for which it is created may aid some to determine whether or not they wish to pursue a course of study in this school.

The common schools of the state consist largely of the district and graded schools. In these schools, the greater part of the work is in the elementary or common branches. The State Normal school seeks first of all to ground its students thoroughly in the common legal branches of study. The reason for this is that these branches of learning lie at the foundation of all learning and scholarship. They are indeed the "fundamental branches of learning" Moreover, it is equally true that the greater majority of pupils in the public schools, the schools of the masses, do not advance beyond these elementary subjects of study. If the state's system of common schools is to become what its founders designed it to be, it must be through the efficient teaching of these elementary branches.

Advanced Study of Fundamentals.

Usually about one year is devoted to a careful study of the fundamentals. They are not, or at least should not be, studied and taught as in a common elementary school. The student should possess the required knowledge on these subjects and be led to make a more critical and philosophical investigation of the facts and subject matter than he has hitherto done. The presentation of each and every subject is surrounded by an atmosphere necessarily absent in the ordinary school. In short, the student, while acquiring a larger and better knowledge of the subjects themselves, is learning to teach them to others.

Eighty-six students have already been graduated from the Eastern Oregon State Normal school, and the indications are that the graduating class of 1901 will be a large one. The course of study at this school is just what is required for the student. The surroundings are pleasant, for nature and the state have contributed bountifully to make it possible for pupils to receive the greatest benefit at least expense.

Those who contemplate entering the profession of teaching will do well to examine the many advantages offered at the Eastern Oregon State Normal school at Weston.

TRACTION ENGINE OVETURNED.

Chain of Steering Gear Breaks and Machine Runs Against a Bank.

Athena, Or., July 24.—The traction engine of John Bell & Sons was overturned early Monday while being moved from the Umapine to the Whack-Whack place on the reservation, six miles south of Athena. A young man named J. F. Hunter had taken charge of the engine that moving for the first time. He had it under control, but the 3-8-inch chain manipulating the steering apparatus broke, and the engine ran against a bank and turned over on its side, breaking the throttle-stem, blower, smokestack and governor, and smashing the cab. It was a late locomotive-style engine and was worth $2200. The damage is estimated at $200 W. A. Hunt and D. B. Abdill arrived today from Walla Walla to repair the damage.

W. P. Willaby's wheat went 30 bushels to the acre. Good judges five weeks ago estimated that it would go 40.

M. M. Johns' field of wheat of Athena went 30 bushels to the acre, which was considerably less than had been previously estimated.

John Bell & Sons were the first to have wheat this year to the Pacific Coast Elevator company, represented here by W. J. Wilkinson. They commenced hauling July 19.

Dave Taylor, on July 17, hauled the first load of this year's crop of his wheat to the Puget Sound company's warehouse.

Mrs. M. J. Mays, of Elgin, is visiting her daughter, Mrs. C. A. Barrett, and family. She had previously visited in Pendleton at the home of her son, William Mays.

Miss Eva Froome, daughter of George Froome, of Pendleton, is spending her summer vacation with relatives here. She was a student at Monmouth last year.

Wheat Yield One-Quarter Off.

Weston, Or., July 24.—A. J. McIntyre today finished the first wheat of the season to the Pacific Coast Elevator company warehouse at Downing, of which Chance Turner has charge. His contribution amounted to 1820 sacks, or 4200 bushels.

Joe Key's threshing outfit is at work today on George Carmichael's wheat. There is 250 acres of it, and it will go 20 to 25 bushels per acre.

Alex Walker has finished threshing 138 acres of wheat for A. J. McIntyre. It averaged 33 bushels to the acre.

George Staggs' 92 acres of wheat near Downing station went 33 bushels to the acre.

One of the best informed warehouse men of Weston today remarked: "The wheat that has been threshed around here thus far this season is on an average one-fourth less than the estates made earlier in the year."

DANDRUFF CAUSED BY A GERM.

A New Discovery That Kills the Germ and Prevents Baldness.

Pretty nearly all the hair preparations for dandruff have some merit in allaying itching of the scalp, and in being a fairly good dressing for the hair, but there is only one that recognizes what causes dandruff, falling hair, and baldness, and that destroys that cause, a little germ—and that is Newbro's Herpicide. This germ eats its way into the scalp, down to the hair root, where it saps that vitality, causing dandruff as it digs up the scalp into little white scales. Unless it is destroyed there's no permanent stopping of falling hair and cure of dandruff and baldness. Newbro's Herpicide kills the germ. "Destroy the cause, you remove the effect."

TO REPAIR THE AGENCY BRIDGE.

County Judge Will Attend to the Work if Funds are Provided.

County Judge Hartman proposes to secure the improvement of the bridge on the road to the Umatilla agency, if people will assist who are interested in having that highway in good condition. His communication which follows sets forth the proposal:

Pendleton, July 25.—To the Editor.—The small bridge on the Mission road needs repairs. The county court has no authority to appropriate anything towards roads on the reservation. The Indian agent has no funds for that purpose. Fifty or sixty dollars will put it in good repair. I will attend to repairing it, if sufficient funds are provided. The road is a necessity to many reservation farmers, and much needed by Pendleton business men. Leave a dollar or two a apiece with me and I will attend to the repairs at once.

Story By Stevenson.

Adlai Stevenson, democratic candidate for vice-president is a charming companion, a good story-teller and enjoys a joke on himself as well as on anybody. Toward the close of the Cleveland's administration at a cabinet dinner at the house of Postmaster-General Wilson, the conversation fell upon the incredible number of intelligent citizens who cared so little about politics that they did not know who held this or that office or what their duties might be. Stevenson looked over to President Cleveland and said: "I was out speaking in the recent campaign—who for is not necessary to state in this presence—and in West Virginia I made a tour with Governor McCorkle. Arriving at a place where we were to speak we were shown upon a platform, the band ceased to play and the chairman of the meeting, who was represented to be a straightforward, honest, well-to-do, intelligent democrat, got up, drew an envelope from his pocket, adjusted his spectacles and said:

"Fellow-citizens, I have the honor to introduce to you the vice president of the United States (and he studied some writing on the envelope), the Hon. Mr. Stevens, who will now address you."

Stevenson said that McCorkle was so amused that he nearly fell out of his chair, but when his turn came he was introduced as "our own governor McCormick." Everybody laughed.

A gentleman recently cured of dyspepsia gave the following appropriate rendering of Burns' famous blessing. "Some have meat and can not eat, and some have none that want it; but we have meat and we can eat,—Kodol Dyspepsia Cure be thanked." This preparation will digest what you eat. It instantly relieves and radically cures indigestion and all stomach disorders. Tallman & Co., leading druggists.
