RUDIO'S DAWSON BEEF DEAL.

Long Creek Man Writes that Forty Head are Clear Profit.

Word has just been received by the Long Creek Eagle from W. M. Rudio, who is at Dawson City this season with stock, dated the 8th instant, to the effect that he has already realized the original investment, including expenses, out of his shipment, and has 40 head left, which will represent the profit of the trip when sold.

Beef dropped to 50 cents per pound wholesale, and manipulators in the market forced the price down to 35 cents. It was not expected to remain at that price long, since the shippers have agreed to restore the market at 50 cents again.

Mr. Rudio writes that Dawson City had a rousing celebration on July 4th, in which the entire population, including the mounted police and government officials, took part.

His Life Was Saved.

Mr. J. E. Lilly, a prominent citizen of Hannibal, Mo., lately had a wonderful deliverance from a frightful death. In telling of it he says: "I was taken with typhoid fever, that ran into pneumonia. My lungs became hardened. I was so weak I couldn't even sit up in bed. Nothing helped me. I expected to soon die of consumption, when I heard of Dr. King's New Discovery. One bottle gave great relief. I continued to use it, and now am well and strong. I can't say too much in its praise." This marvelous medicine is the surest and quickest cure in the world for all throat and lung trouble. Regular sizes 50 cents and $1.00. Trial bottles free at Tallman & Co.'s drug store; every bottle guaranteed.

TEACHERS MUST BE TRAINED.

They Should Have Surplus Store of Culture and Information.

Weston, Or, July 30.- We have emphasized the idea that the normal school is to give to its students a broad and comprehensive view of the common branches of learning, as well as a thorough knowledge of their relative worth in the course and a thorough understanding of the best methods of presenting them to the pupil.

In the next place, the course in the normal school should require, as a necessary means to this end, that every student should pursue an extended line of professional work, that is, work which is designed to give special insight into all educational questions and to prepare the individual for intelligent and reasonable charge of a school, the history and philosophy of education, educational psychology, theory of the school, the principles of methods, childs study, observation in the training school and an intelligent observation of the training school teaching.

In this proessional feature of the work every phase of education receives extended, thorough, and systematic treatment—the historical, the theoretical and the practical. He must acquire a knowledge of the fundamental principles of education and a reasonable degree of skill in appuying these as a teacher. This will free him or her from mere caprice and rule, and give genuine originality and true individuality. A rational understanding of his vocation is aimed at, and the power to determine from the standpoint of principle what the programme, the process and work of the school should be. The teacher having availed himself of these opportunities will be able to stand alone in a new environment, comprehend its needs and map out his own course rationally and intelligently.

Must Reinforce Common Branches.

Finally, the Normal school should offer to its students such advanced lines and courses of study as will best reinforce the knowledge and power of the common school branches; and, at the same time, best prepare them for the more advanced grades of public school work. Courses in Latin, history, literature, mathematics, science, etc., are a necessary and imperative part of the work for the true preparation of teaching.

It is not even suggested that these higher branches of study are any part of the work to be done in the common school, but it is insisted that they are essentials in the highest preparation of teachers for that work. The time is fast approaching when much more of knowledge and information will be demanded of the teacher than she presumes to teach. Moreover, this additional knowledge must be supported by the same professional understanding by which the study of the fundamental studies has been supplemented. has been supplemented.

To the execution of these aims the Weston Normal is committed. Its object is to make the entire work of the school strongly and distinctively professional.

Those who contemplate entering the profession of teaching will do well to examine the many advantages offered at the Eastern Oregon State Normal school at Weston.

Numbers of Faculty Selected.

The following is the faculty of the school so far as selected by the board of regents.

J. A. Beattie, A. M., L. L. D., president, Ethics, Education and Pedagogy.

H. W. Monical, A. B., vice-president, Physical and Natural Sciences.

George A. Peebles, B. S., History and English.

Herbert Kittridge, A. M., Mathematics.

Mrs. M. C. Baym, superintendent of training department.

Miss Nellie M. Stevens, assistant in training department.

Miss Maude Harkleroad, Vocal Music.

The members of the faculty for Instrumental Music, Reading and Elocution, and Physical Training are to be supplied. Those desiring information in regard to the school are invited to correspond with Prof. J. A. Beattie, president of the institution, whose address is Weston, Oregon. All necessary information will be cheerfully and promptly furnished.

No Right to Ugliness.

The woman who is lovely in face, form and temper will always have friends, but one who would be attractive must keep her health. If she is weak, sickly and all run down, she will be nervous and irritable. If she has constipation or kidney trouble, her blood will cause pimples, blotches, skin eruptions and a wretched complexion. Electric Bitters is the best medicine in the world to regulate stomach, liver and kidneys and to purify the blood. It gives strong nerves, bright eyes, smooth, velvety skin, rich complexion. It will make a good-looking charming woman of a run-down invalid. Only 50 cents at Tallman & Co.'s drug store.

Big Crowd at Teal.

A large crowd is now camped at Teal Springs, some for pleasure and some for their health. No better place can be found for a few weeks outing, as there is swimming, dancing, fishing and hunting. The springs are under good management and everything is done that will make it pleasant or campers. Kirkman's orchestra is furnishing the music for the dancers.

A gentleman recently cured of dyspepsia gave the following appropriate rendering of Burns' famous blessing. "Some have meat and can not eat, and some have none that want it; but we have meat and we can eat,—Kodol Dyspepsia Cure be thanked." This preparation will digest what you eat. It instantly relieves and radically cures indigestion and all stomach disorders. Tallman & Co., leading druggists.

LEHMAN SPRINGS AFFAIRS.

Mrs. A. M. Raley Thrown From a Horse. But Not Seriously Injured.

Lehman Springs, July 27.—As Mrs. A. M. Raley, who had been out horseback riding with a party of friends recently, was returning to her home, she was thrown from her horse, striking the ground heavily. As nearly as could be learned, the accident happened as follows: In order to get to the barn, she had to pass through a gate, in so doing the horse gave a lunge, the side post coming in contact with the rider, throwing her to the ground. Mrs. Raley was bruised on the back and sides. Considering the age of the lady, it is very fortunate that nothing more serious happened. She is able to be around.

Glen Bushee, sustained a serious injury last week, at the bowling alley. He was in the act of rolling a ball when he missed his footing and fell, his chest striking the iron guard in front. Since his fall Mr. Bushee has been troubled with his eyes, also fever in the head. Dr. Smith was telephoned to, who prescribed for the patient.

Miss Dollie Bentley, who was with a huckleberrying party in the mountains the other day, consisting of Mrs. Jas. Means, Ben Selling, J. Watson and Jessie Watson, in some manner or other strayed from the company and wandered aimlessly about for some hours, trying to find her friends, but with no success. She kept on traveling, however, finally reaching camp at nightfall. Her companions were very much alarmed until the lost was found.

James Lehman and Ben Selling, the latter of Pendleton, celebrated their 69th and 73rd anniversary, respectively, which fell on last Tuesday. Both these gentlemen were born on the same date. A fine banquet was held at the residence of Mr. Selling, which his wife had prepared for the event. Wine 20 years old was dug up out of the cellar and a pleasant evening was had recalling reminiscences of days gone by.

Mention of Many Mountain Campers.

Rev. F. C. Standard and family have arrived by team from Adams and will tent here until September.

L. E. Penland, of Helix, and Clarence Penland of Pendleton, are here for two weeks sojourn.

M. Anders and family, Miss Young, of La Grande, will spend the summer at this resort.

A. W. Ames, and Frank Ashley, are here for a few weeks outing, coming from Granite. These gentlemen claim that Sumpter is dead, also Granite quiet.

J. Bond, of Camas Prairie, is spending his vacation at these springs.

Jessie Brehm, is recreating for a short time here, hailing from Camas Prairie.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Boynton, of Ukiah, have a cabin for the balance of the summer. Frank conducts a butcher business here. Warren and William Gibbs are assisting Mr. Boynton.

Dr. D. J. McFaul, a prominent physician of Heppner, also one of the lessees and managers of Lehman Springs, arrived last Friday eve by private team.

Mrs. Olcott, Mrs. John Rust, and Miss Lizzie Ogilby, of Pilot Rock, arrived here last week, and domiciled in one of the cottages for the remainder of the season. They were accompanied by Enoch Pearson, of the same place.

Mrs. Bert Smith, Miss Piersol and Paul Sperry, of Birch Creek, have rented a large cabin for two months. Bert Smith is expected to join them soon.

J. N. Samuel and family are here from Dayton, Wash., tented at the upper end of the grounds, and will remain till the end of August.

The following persons have arrived from Pendleton: Elmer Turner, Ed. Dupuis, John Marshal, Mrs. Smith Everingham and son, William Perry, Mrs. C. W. Fielding, Miss Madge Downey, Bert Carl, Claude Engle, Ed Eben, Henry Swart, Pete Young, George Hartman, jr., Chas. Marsh, Will Sturgis, Levi Hayes, William Davis, C. C. Sharp, Ed Barr, Miss Dollie Bentley, Ralph Folsom and wife, Tom Means, Shorty Marcell, Kate and Julia Downey.

C. L. Keithly, of Heppner, is here assisting in the musical shooting gallery.

Walter A. Wells and family have arrived with a wagon loaded with a camping outfit. It is his intention to stay until it gets a little cooler in town.

E. J. KIRKMAN.

The British Soldier.

It is said that the British soldier wears such tight clothing that his internal organs are often seriously injured. Then when on the march his chest is compressed by the weight of his knapsack, canteen, greatcoat and heavy cartridge belt. Usually the stomach is the first organ to suffer from over-taxing of any nature. Overwork, abuse, neglect or improper food is bound to produce dyspepsia and its attendant evils. For any disorder of the digestive organs Hostetter's Stomach Bitters should be taken. This famous medicine will cure all ailments of the stomach. Try it for constipation, indigestion, flatulency, dyspepsia, nervousness or insomnia. It makes the weak strong, and an occasional dose will keep the bowels regular.

UNDER HOODOO'S SPELL.

Two Negro Waiters at Meacham Jump Their Jobs.

The accidental drowning of Henry Miller, a colored waiter at Mrs. Munra's Log Cabin eating-house at Meacham, in the Kopittke pond there on Wednesday, July 18, has an additional interest to those who delight to delve in matters psychological. While on his way to the pond in company with two fellow waiters, Mr. Miller was joking and talking volubly.

He informed them that, in case he should be drowned while in batheing, his spirit would return to continually haunt and hoodoo his two friends. Whether his inner consciousness gave him a premonitory warning of death that was so soon to claim him, or not, will never be known except by those who have the sixth sense of intuitiveness sufficiently developed to grab this intricate problem and get away with it.

But it makes little difference to Mr. Miller's fellow workmen. That he had the power to send back his spirit from the other side was as firmly believed by them as though it had been demonstrated by geometry or calculus. Immediately after the drowning of their companion, they jumped their jobs at the Log Cabin hotel and are still running, presumably in fear of being overtaken by Miller's spirit, which is in close pursuit, like a hot-footed Nemesis.

The practical feature of the case is that the hotel was short-handed for help in the dining-room temporarily, while ghosts, hoodoos, voodoos, witches, etc., receive more than a reasonable share of their attentions in conversation.
