R. E. Porter, of Meacham, is in Pendleton today, and will leave for home this evening. He has been out to Stage Gulch, for the first time in nine years, and noticed with amazement the difference between the methods of harvesting then and now. At that time headers did nearly all the cutting, while much of it is now being done by combines.

Millions will be spent in politics this year. We can't keep the campaign without money any more than we can keep the body vigorous without food. Dyspeptics used to starve themselves. Now Kodol Dyspepsia Cure digests what you eat and allows you to eat all the good food you want. It radically cures stomach troubles. Tallman & Co., leading druggists.

'Hay is worth $8 a ton delivered in Pendleton,' said J. W. Sullivan today to the hay reporter of the East Oregonian. 'I have 60 acres of wheat, 20 bushels to the acre, but on Birch creek we raise principally hay—wheat and alfalfa hay—and as good as they rise anywhere. There is as much or more profit in raising hay at $8 a ton as there is in raising grain.'

One of the best yields thus far reported, considering the location of the land, is that of a quarter section of Welcome Walker, south of Prospect farm, near Echo. The 100 acres yielded 1900 sacks, or close to 4500 bushels, an average of nearly 28 bushels to the acre. Alex Drysdale visited the Welcome Walker farm yesterday and returned last evening, and from him the above information is obtained.

R. Forster, proprietor of the Pendleton planing mills has the contract for repairing the Main street bridge, and is replacing the timber in that structure without delaying traffic. The iron work was pronounced by experts to be perfectly safe, but the wooden portion was condemned as unsafe, so the city council decided to have the repairs made. The repairing of the bridge without stopping trade and travel even temporarily is an evidence of Mr. Forster's thorough knowledge of bridge-building, gained by years of practical experience.

Will Arrive Monday. W. H. Jones, the implement man, has now on the road a solid carload of hoes and huggies. They will arrive Monday. They were bought in the east from one of the best known manufacturers, and when placed on display are sure to be pronounced the finest and most up-to-date huggies and hoes ever shown in the city of Pendleton.

Mr. Jones returned yesterday from Portland, where he went to meet the manufacturer's agents, they assured him that his line was the best that ever came to this city. Mr. Jones, in speaking of the display he expects to make, says: 'With the ability of Mr. H. A. Faxon and judicious advertising in the East Oregonian, I expect to place a nice back or buggy with every prosperous merchant and farmer of this county.' And when they buy of W. H. Jones they get a double guarantee. Mr. Jones wants everybody to call and see this line, whether they buy or not.

PERSONAL MENTION.

John H. Lawrey is at Union on legal business.

Miss Elsa Rosenzweig, of Athena, is a visitor in Pendleton.

Sam Pler, of Alexander & Hexter's store, has returned from his outing.

Emery H. Averill, an affable traveling man of Portland, is in Pendleton today.

S. M. Hardie and Harp Brothers, of North Cold spring county, were in town today.

Henry Sparks will leave Sunday morning for a two weeks' vacation at Hot Lake, Union county.

H. J. Bean, Esq., was admitted to practice in the United States court in Portland, Wednesday, by Judge Bellinger.

Miss Evelyn Starkweather has gone to Leham Springs to join her sister, Mrs. W. J. Furnish, who has been camping there for six weeks.

Charles Hillery, from the Canadian Pacific railway, has succeeded J. S. Purdum as assistant agent of the O. R. & N. railway at Athena. C. F. Drake continues as agent.

Mrs. Lotis Greenwald and children, and her sister, Miss Lizzie Noble, returned yesterday from the Noble camp on Meadow creek, where they have been rusticiating for several weeks.

Mrs. M. A. Kader and children arrived yesterday afternoon from Walla Walla and will reside here. Mr. Rader having succeeded Wm. S. Nelson in the furniture and undertaking business.

Fay Letrow and Dick McLean, of Walla Walla, are visitors in Pendleton today. Mr. Letrow has a band of sheep in the Black Canyon country, south of Gibbon, and has just come from there.

Miss M. V. Gailther, superintendent of the government Indian schools on the Umatilla reservation, is at Chemawa, near Salem, in attendance upon the Pacific Coast Indian school institute in session there this week.

Harry L. Hexter, Miss Ella Hexter and Miss Stella Alexander will leave tomorrow evening for Portland, thence to California for an extended trip. They will sail on the steamship Columbia from Portland next Monday.

E. P. Dodd is at Saling camp, near Gold spring, east of Weston, where he expects to remain until Sunday or Monday. He will endeavor to equal the record made by Mayor William Blair, of Weston, as a killer of grouse.

Miss Daisy Meach has returned from an extended visit at Portland, where she spent several weeks trimming in one of the fashionable emporiums of the state's metropolis. She has accepted a position with the Wessel department store.

D. C. Clark, who is one of E. Bootcher's employes in the sheep business, has just returned from the month of Juniper creek, on the Columbia, seven miles below Wallula. The haying season is coming to a close, and the yield is heavy.

R. M. Turner is a visitor in Pendleton, having come up from Umatilla, where Mrs. Turner and the two children are visiting her father, Jade Switzer. Mr. Turner will leave in a day or two for Burns, but he has decided to remain there another winter, owing to the rigors of the season.

C. F. Kennedy, an orchardist who resides at Cove, Union county, a brother of B. E. Kennedy, is in Pendleton. He has a young orchard just commencing to bear. Cherries raised by him measured three and three-quarter inches in circumference, and were pronounced by the state horticulturist to be the finest he had ever seen.

Mr. and Mrs. George Snell and daughter, Miss Laura Snell, of Walla Walla, came to Pendleton yesterday and left this morning for Hildaway springs to remain two weeks. The father and mother of Mrs. Snell, and her two brothers and their wives, are already at Hildaway, and the outing is an enjoyable one for every member of the party.

Joseph Leizer was in town from his Echo ranch today with a wagon load of fruit for the market. The Echo country is gaining a great record for the fruit and Mr. Leizer's product adds to it. He brought an early Craven peach to town that weighed eleven ounces and had many of them weighing from six to nine ounces. The lands of the Echo country, with irrigation, seem to be particularly productive for fruit culture.

J. S. Purdum and wife came down from Athena yesterday afternoon and took the night train for the west. They will visit Mr. Purdum's mother at Albany and Mrs. Purdum's sister at Athena. Mr. Purdum, who has been assistant agent of the O. R. & N. Co. at Athena, has been appointed agent of the same company at Kamela, and will enter upon the discharge of his duties about September 1. Mr. Purdum was sergeant-at-arms of the state senate at the special session in the fall of 1898 and at the regular session in 1899.

WOMEN OF WOODCRAFT.

Mrs. C. C. Van Orsdall Re-elected Grand Guardian at Salt Lake City.

A telegram was received in Pendleton this forenoon by Miss Zelma Phillips, announcing that Mrs. C. C. Van Orsdall had been unanimously re-elected to the position of grand guardian of Pacific Circle, Women of Woodcraft, at the convention of the delegates of that order now in session at Salt Lake City, Utah. The news occasioned no surprise, for it was firmly believed that the work of Mrs. C. C. Van Orsdall during the past four years was of such a high character that it would be recognized and rewarded by the order, and that she would be retained as the head of the organization.

Under the supervision of Mrs. Van Orsdall the order has made remarkable increase in numbers, and her executive ability has been so marked that it has become a matter of universal comment. She will be congratulated upon her return to Pendleton, which will be probably Wednesday of next week. The election means a great deal for Pendleton, as well as for Mrs. Van Orsdall personally.

VOTING BECOMES SPIRITED.

Interesting Contest on for Queen of the carnival.

From twenty ballot boxes distributed over the town, a total of 147 votes have been cast for carnival queen with the following result:

- Bertie Wells, 198. Mabel Nye, 193. Pearl Lacey, 189. Miss Ethel Beach, 48. Miss Mary Ritter 39. Miss May Robens, 37. Mrs. C. A. Cole, 33.

The voting by tomorrow will be on in good earnest.

Cow Ate an Umbrella.

A peculiar incident occurred in Pullman, Eastern Washington, recently which has created considerable comment. W. F. Williams has a family cow which is considered quite valuable. She recently showed symptoms of sickness and grew steadily worse, despite a number of remedies. At last a veterinary surgeon was called, and after a careful examination he decided the cow was suffering with an abscess. A few days later a large lump formed on the cow's side, and another examination convinced the veterinary that the abscess was broken up. The object, correct, but it was not exactly as the surgeon anticipated. In examining the cow Mr. Williams found a sharp point protruding between her ribs. Closer examination disclosed the fact that the point was metal. A pair of pliers was obtained and the object pulled out. It proved to be 13 inches of the iron rib of an umbrella, with the fork and a second piece several inches in length. Since the removal of this the cow has grown steadily better. The question which puzzles everyone is how the umbrella rib got into the cow's side. The consensus of opinion is that she ate it with hay and it worked through the stomach and side.

Dave Cargill's Wheat.

David E. Cargill has 840 acres of wheat this year between Middle and North Cold spring, 11 miles north of Pendleton. He has finished harvesting after 25 days run with one set of men with practically no changes in his force and without trouble. He finds that his wheat land averaged about 27 bushels to the acre. One hundred and twenty acres of Sonora spring wheat went 25 to 32 bushels to the acre. One piece of 160 acres of soil land leased from W. J. Furnish furnished the surprise of the harvest. It was rough and the ground was covered with clods but it yielded 2170 sacks or 32 bushels to the acre. Mr. Cargill's son Frank is interested with him in the wheat and the two of them will have about 25,000 bushels of wheat this year.

Making Hay at Echo.

Ben F. McCullough, who some time ago purchased the Baumgardner place one and one-half miles from Echo, is in Pendleton today. He states that the farmers of his section of the country are in the midst of the haying season, and that the ranges are in good shape. He gives it as his opinion that there will be 1200 head of cattle fed for market during the coming fall in the immediate vicinity of Echo and on Butter creek near that town. Frye & Bruin, of Seattle, who purchase many cattle here, say they will pay $4 a ton for hay there to feed to their stock. That price is for hay in the field. Mr. McCullough will return home this evening.

Found His Brother.

A romantic story of the finding of a long-lost brother comes from the Grand Ronde valley. A. B. Conley, the wheat king of Eastern Oregon, whose ranch numbers 1000 acres in one locality in the beautiful Grande Ronde, near Cove, learned the other day through some country paper that his brother, whom he had not seen for more than 50 years, was at the little town of Murray, Neb., just south of Omaha. Without waiting even to telegraph, Mr. Conley jumped on the overland limited train that night and went to see the brother unknown for so long a time. Two days ago he returned home, bringing his brother with him for a visit to Union county. The brother is 75 years old, hale and hearty, and is ready for a trade as he was when a boy.

The Ringling's Bluff Portland.

It is now said that Ringling's circus will play at Milwaukie, a suburb of Portland, and escape with only a nominal license, and they will give free car fare to that place and will also make in Portland, says the Salem Journal. This is the result of the Portland city council putting a license of $12,000 a day on their show to protect the Elk's Carnival.

A Successful Operation.

A successful operation has just been performed in St. Joe's hospital, New York city. A tumor was removed from the inside of the sheath of the spinal cord. It was necessary to cut into six vertebrae, and the patient was kept under anesthetics for more than three hours. He was operated upon after a number of German specialists had pronounced that his ailment was rheumatism.

The War in China

Has raised the brokers' price of tea ten to twenty cents per pound on account of bankers refusing to advance any money on the new crop. And while coffee has risen considerably we are still selling for twenty-five cents, the best for the money in Oregon.

"Mothers' Pride"

Locked Up--Must Be Closed Out! THAT IS THE VERDICT

Opening Day Saturday August 18

Yes, locked up Monday evening to unpack and shape the goods for Opening Day, Saturday, August 18th. When I bought the Undertaking Business of Wm. Nelson I had to buy his entire stock of House Furnishings with it. Now here I am with a big stock of first class goods that I don't want, but the people want them and must have them. So in order to clear the room that I may prepare fine Undertaking Parlors I decided to shape these goods up (a great portion of which have never been unpacked) and put them on the market at less than manufacturer's cost. "Oh, Robinson Crusoe! why in the world did you do so!" Here's the why. In the first place I bought the stock so cheap that I can afford it. In the second place it must go. Here are prices that will do the work:

- $75 Bedroom Suits, $50. $45 Bedroom Suits, $30. Thirty Bedroom Suits at Corresponding Reductions. $32 Sideboard, $23. $5.00 Rockers, $3.50.

One hundred and twenty-five rockers must go in this slaughter. Couches, Lounges, Parlor Chairs, Dining Room Chairs, Center Tables, Extension Tables, Kitchen Tables, Writing Desks, Book Cases, Hall Trees, Hammocks, Croquet Sets, Lawn Hose, Trunks, Valises, Window Shades, Curtain Poles and Fixtures, Lace, Damask and Chenille Curtains, Stand Covers, Rugs, Carpets, Mattings, Oil Cloth, Linoleum, Oil, Stoves, Stove Polish, Stove Pipe, Cooking Utensils, Crockery Ware, Tinware, Wash Tubs, Bed Springs, Sewing Machines, Machine Needles and Baskets, Boy's Express Wagons, Baby Cabs, Toy Cabs, Pocket Knives, Fine Quadruple Plated Silver Table Ware and here, now, you had better draw a line, for I have a heavy line and a fine one of Queensware, Glassware, Bedroom China Sets, and 130 Lamps, some fine ones, all of which must go at 50 and 60 cents on the dollar.

Come early and secure choice goods at your own price. I am here to stay and will treat you right.

Yours for Business, M. A. RADDER, Successor to Wm. S. Nelson.
