CHINESE GOVERNMENT RESPONSIBLE

Position of Allies is Uncertain, as a Large Body of Chinese Troops is Hurriedly Taking the Field.

New York, Aug. 21.—A dispatch to the Herald from Peking, dated August 17, says: Minister Conger said: "They tried to annihilate us the day before you got in."

"Prince Ching sent word that officers had received orders to cease firing on us under pain of death. The evening of the same day, the Chinese opened fire."

"If relieving column had not arrived when it did we should probably have succumbed."

"While the movement is surely a governmental one, the Boxers are only a pretense as they have no guns."

"The confidential adviser of the emperor was the leader of the imperial troops in Peking."

"In eleven days over 2000 shells fell among us."

Washington, Aug. 21.—The following extracts are from a cablegram from Minister Conger: "Saved. Relief arrived today. Allies entered the city with little trouble. Do not yet know where the imperial family is. Except the deaths already reported, all Americans are alive and well. Desperate efforts were made last night to exterminate us."

Chinese Troops Moving. Tien Tsun, Aug. 21.—Five thousand Chinese troops at Sung Lin Ching, left on the 16th, for Pei Tsang, and two thousand more have gone towards Tung Chow.

Viceroy's Make an Appeal. Washington, Aug. 21.—The state department today received an appeal from the viceroys of Nakin and Hunan asking that no personal indignities be shown the emperor and empress dowager, and renewing assurance of maintaining peace in China if this is observed. It is understood that the powers have already considered this proposition and there appears to be no disposition to give the emperor and empress dowager affront. The application of the viceroys is in effect a request that the Chinese sovereigns not be made prisoners of war.

Li Hung Chang's Appeal. Washington, Aug. 21.—The cabinet today decided to reject the latest appeal from Li Hung Chang for a cessation of hostilities. Rejection is based on the non-compliance of the Chinese government with specific provisions for declaration of the United States, of August 12.

Farm Hand Injured.

Walla Walla, Aug. 21.—Al Shaw, a farm hand who came to this city Saturday evening, for his regular weekly celebration, was found last night lying at the foot of the basement stairs in the rear of the Schwarz saloon. Shaw had evidently been sitting on the railing at the head of the steps and had fallen backward into the pit. He was very drunk. He was more or less seriously bruised about the head and shoulders and about five inches of scalp was scraped to the bone and dangled over his right ear. He had 30 cents when found.

Stewart Will Support McKinley. New York, Aug. 21.—Senator William M. Stewart of Nevada called at republican headquarters and said he had decided to vote for president McKinley.

TWO BODIES FOUND.

One Was That of an Unknown Man Who Had Died; the Other Leroy Libby. Within an hour the bodies of two men were found within a short distance of Walla Walla. One was found within a mile of town and the other at Touchet station.

The first body found was poorly clad, but there was nothing by which it could be identified. The body was badly decomposed, and the face and neck which had been exposed to the hot sun were dried and shrunken beyond recognition.

It was interred in the potter's field at Walla Walla.

Simply Laid Down and Died. About two weeks ago this man was seen in the vicinity where he was found by the same boys who discovered his body. He was then very sick and after a conversation with the boys he said: "Now, boys, go away from this place, I am sick and want to die."

He then went among the thick brush, spread some gummy sacks upon the ground, and lay down and died. The boys concluded that he was demented and gave the matter no further thought until yesterday when they were surprised to find the body of the man lying where he said he intended to die.

The Statesman says this story seemed so plausible that it was not considered necessary to hold an inquest over the remains of the dead man.

The Other Body. Early Monday morning a messenger came to Walla Walla from Touchet station and announced the discovery of a man's body lying in the river not far from the station. The messenger could give but a meagre description of the man. He said that the body was well preserved and the man could have been dead but a short time. As the discovery of the body was made in the vicinity where W. A. York was last seen much speculation was aroused and many believed that it was York's remains. This theory, however, could not be strengthened owing to the poor description of the man.

Coroner Blalock was notified of the discovery of the man's body. He, in company with W. D. Smith, left on Monday's train for Touchet station to get the body.

The coroner returned to Walla Walla Monday night and stated that the body proved to be that of a Swede or Norwegian named Leroy Libby and that he had deliberately drowned himself in the stream a little above the point where the body was found.

HUNTED BIG GAME.

Dr. C. Whitaker and J. P. Robbins Had a Fine Time.

Dr. C. J. Whitaker arrived at home on Sunday evening from his regular annual hunting trip. He started out on June 1 with his nephew, J. P. Robbins, of Potosky, Mich. They took pack animals from Pendleton and went to the Bitter Root mountains via Lewiston, and on into Western Montana. They had a fine time, with game in abundance.

"Our bill of fare was moose, elk, venison, bear, trout, foother, grouse, with huckleberries on the side, and we never left the table hungry."

The bear killed was a half-fawn. In regard to moose and elk it is only necessary to state that they saw a number. The imagination of the two men can fill in the rest, when the reputations of the gentlemen for being crack shots are taken into consideration.

Dr. Whitaker is renowned as being the best big game hunter in the state of Oregon and his nephew is following closely in his footsteps. Having finished their hunt they struck out for Oro Fino, on the Northern Pacific in Idaho, the doctor coming to Pendleton, while Mr. Robbins went the other way, to his home at Potosky, Mich.

To Whom it May Concern. Notice is hereby given that my wife, Mary E. Gillett, has left my home, bed and board, and this is to notify and warn all persons that I will not be responsible for any debts hereafter in any manner contracted by her, August 20, 1900.

M'KINLEY AND ROOSEVELT

The Two Leaders Hold a Conference at Washington Today.

ROOSEVELT CONFIDENT OF NEW YORK

Populist National Committee in Chicago, to Consider the Resignation of Towne, May Name Another Candidate.

Washington, Aug. 21.—President McKinley and Gov. Roosevelt discussed here the various campaign policies together, as well as the features of their letters of acceptance. It is the desire of Roosevelt to have his utterances during his coming western tour thoroughly in accord with the views of the presidential candidate. The governor is full of confidence as to the result of the coming election. Governor Roosevelt assured McKinley that there is no question about the state of New York, notwithstanding the complications over the state ticket.

May Be Another Candidate. Chicago, Aug. 21.—The latest reports indicate that the populist national committee, which is to meet here the 28th instant, may not be as harmonious as was predicted. When Towne declined the populist nomination it was generally supposed that Stevenson would receive the populist endorsement by general consent. The correspondence which has taken place among the members of the populist national committee since the executive committee meeting makes it plain that this result will not be accomplished without struggle. It is understood that many leaders of the party are strongly urging the committee to name an independent candidate which may be done.

At Peace With Spain. Washington, Aug. 21.—Minister Storer, at Madrid, informs the state department that the treaty of amity, commerce and navigation and general intercourse had been signed, provisionally, by the Spanish minister of state and Italy. This practically marks the last step in the complete restoration of relations between Spain and the United States.

Bryan Completes Speech. Lincoln, Neb., Aug. 21.—Bryan today completed his speech in response to the notification of the populist nomination. The speech deals largely with the trust question.

Saw Mill Boiler Explodes. Glenfong, Ohio, Aug. 21.—The saw-mill boiler exploded today, killing Lavina Dupier, Elsie Winegartner and a man named McLaughlin.

A GRITTY HEN. In Spite of a Thresher Storm of Dust She Stuck to Duty. The gritty hen in America lives over in Alsos, says the Corvallis Times. Her right to be called a brave hen has been tested, and no one who reads these lines will deny that she is ever likely to shrink from any duty, public or private. She is not only a brave hen, but a "strenuous" hen.

She is the property of one of the Hayden brothers. They also own a threshing machine. The latter was taken out of the shed for the first time last week, and a small field of grain was threshed, to see that the machine was in good running order. When the job was finished the machine was returned to the shed, when, to the amazement of all, there in the corner the separator sat the strenuous hen. Under her was a nest of eggs that she was endeavoring to hatch. She had been on the nest when the machine was taken out. She was there when the belts and pulleys began to whiz, when the fan began to ring and when the riddles began to shake and rattle. The wind from the fan ruffled her feathers and almost took her breath, but, like the boy on the burning deck, she stayed at her post. What her thoughts were when the swift cylinder began to chew up straw can not be guessed. She may have believed herself in the midst of a woman's rights convention or she may have guessed that the world was coming to an end.

When found the hen was uninjured. There was dust in her teeth, and a somewhat frightened look in her eye, but she was on her nest. Of the eggs all were safe and one.

The wolf in the fable put on sheep's clothing because if he traveled on his own reputation he couldn't accomplish his purpose. Counterfeiters of DeWitt's Witch Hazel Salve couldn't sell their worthless salves on their merits, so they put them in boxes and wrappers like DeWitt's. Look out for them. Take only DeWitt's Witch Hazel Salve. It cures piles and all skin diseases. Tallman & Co., Leading druggists.
