CARBONATE CAMP.

Frank Duprat, John Selbert and George Darveau Make a Trip.

Frank Duprat, John Selbert and George Darveau returned at 1 o'clock this morning from their trip to the mining properties in Carbonate mountain county. They started out last Thursday, went by rail to Sumpter, came by stage to Lawton, and from there by private conveyance. Mr. Duprat has been doing work on some of their claims there for 12 years. He had specimens of rich ore with him this morning, which were obtained from the carbonate claim where the vein is crossed by a tunnel 44 feet in length at a depth of 135 feet. The vein is 14 feet wide and nearly perpendicular.

Mr. Duprat says that considerable activity is being displayed in that section of the country. He states that early last fall there was scarcely the sign of a vein where Alamo now is, some miles southwest of Granite. Now there are 100 cabins there and the owners thereof are doing all kinds of mining development work.

T. G. Hatley has claims on Lost creek, not a great ways from the Carbonate and mine claims of the Carbonate mining company, above referred to.

Glorious News.

Comes from Dr. D. B. Cargile, of Washita, I. T. He writes: "Four bottles of Electric Bitters has cured Mrs. Brown of scrofula, which had caused her great suffering of years. Terrible sores would break out on her head and face, and the best doctors could give no help; but her cure is complete and her health is excellent." This shows what thousands have proved—that electric Bitters is the best blood purifier known. It's the simplest remedy for eczema, tetter, salt rheum, ulcers, boils and running sores. It stimulates liver, kidneys and bowels, expels poisons, helps digestion, builds up the strength. Only 50 cents, sold by Tallman & Co., druggists, guaranteed.

We Learned the News.

Eric Johnson, of Vansycle, came to Pendleton this morning and learned the news of the burning of his barn last Monday evening at the corner of Washita and Alamo streets. That was the first making he had of the fire. He states that it was not insured. It was stated at the time that James H. Bailey owned the property, but such statement was not warranted by the fact. Mr. Johnson purchased the property some time ago from Mr. Nelson.

Look at Your Face.

And see if it is reflecting health or disease. Karl's Clover Root Tea beautifies the face and complexion, and assures perfect health. All druggists, 25 cents and 50 cents. Money refunded if results are not satisfactory. Tallman & Co.

FROM THREE VILLAGES.

Personal and Local Gossip of Athena, Weston and Adams.

Athena, Or., Aug. 26.—W. H. Wood went to Pendleton yesterday to make arrangements for his sister Daisy to attend school during the coming winter at Pendleton academy.

Mrs. Hastings left Sunday morning for a visit to Massachusetts and Canada, where she will visit with relatives and friends. She expects to be away nearly a year.

The footrace Saturday between Joe Dadeley, of Biddleley & Read, and a stranger named Wilson, 100 yards for $50 a side was won by the latter. There was very little side money changed hands, for Wilson and his friends did not seem to be over confident and were not willing to put up much. The result was close enough to make the finish very exciting. Wilson winning by a foot.

J. W. Chapman spent Sunday at Blue Mountain.

Miss Aley Aseneth Foss spent Sunday in Weston, a guest of Miss Lulu Ray.

Weston, Or., Aug. 26.—Mr. and Mrs. C. A. R. McGrew took a drive over to Athena today.

George Wheeler, of Alexander & Hextor's, and John Carter, of the White House grocery, two speedy young Pendleton boys, spent Sunday here pleasantly.

Prof. George A. Peebles returned this morning from a trip of a week to Portland. He adds his testimony to the general reports regarding activity in connection with arrangements being made there for their street carnival.

Charles Marsh, the sturdy deputy county recorder, was visiting his numerous friends and relatives here today, being received with demonstrations of unalloyed pleasure. His visits, in one respect at least, are like those of angels.

"Uncle Dick" Powers reads the accounts of prize fights with as much enthusiasm as the gayest sport. He confidentially informed the East Oregonian correspondent today that he wished they would hurry up and settle the championship among themselves, then he would "knock the aspirations out of the champion." He didn't use the word "aspirations," but Bob Ingerson used to say there is no such place as the word "Uncle Dick" did use, and it is so far away, even if there were such a place, that the reporter took the liberty of making the change in the literal quotation.

Adams, Or., Aug. 26.—A. Baltezo and daughter, Miss Edith, went to Walla Walla Saturday on a visit and returned here this afternoon. Miss Baltezo has been with Mrs. Susan Kirby at the Oregon hotel for several months. Mr. Baltezo has recently come here from Walla Walla, and is an employee of W. H. Sayer, the blacksmith. He is a brother of Mr. Baltezo of Pendleton.

ON THE TUTUILLA.

The News of That Prosperous Section and Some Pity Comment.

Tutuilla, Aug. 26.—Dan Dougherty has just cut his third crop of alfalfa. A number of Tutuilla farmers are busy plowing under and hoisting out a luxuriant crop of Russian thistles.

Deputy Sheriff Blackley was a Tutuilla visitor last week.

M. H. Gillett's steam combine broke down on Saturday, necessitating a three days wait for repairs, which have to come from San Leandro, California.

Fred Crosswell has just returned from Juniper where he has just harvested his first crop, the banner crop of that section of country, receiving an average of very close to forty bushels to the acre. Mr. Crosswell is an amateur farmer, but seems to be making the professionals look pretty closely to their laurels.

D. Bell, of the firm of Bell & Turner, is up in Eastern Washington, looking for a profitable run for his threshing outfit, which is about to finish its work at Tutuilla.

John Park and Babe Folsom, Pendleton hunters and nincoms of renown, passed Tutuilla on Saturday night bound for the mountains to make a savage onslaught on grouse, or any other game venturesome enough to get within reach of their Maxims.

Joseph Holmes has finished a successful run with his Columbia thresher and housed it for the season.

Moore, M. I. Howe and Wm. Gillette returned last week from a trip to Eastern Washington, where they found satisfactory prospects for profitable work for their threshing outfits, which they will take up there in the near future.

M. J. Foster was up from Stage Gulch yesterday for a lot of lumber for a new barn, which he is erecting.

Wm. Gillette has repaired his separator which was burned a week ago with a new one, with which he takes the field today.

The bulk of Tutuilla's crop has been harvested, and in quantity and quality so far as heard from is entirely satisfactory to the growers, the owners of the few standing crops are threshing wheat while the sun shines, and a procession of teams line the roads hauling the grain to the warehouse.

John Muir's twenty-six mules, instead of being worn out with their season's work pulling his combine, are still gay enough to stampede and run away with the outfit on the least provocation.

Alta Hovel has finished a season's run of about 1500 acres with his combine in a day.

W. Walker, who was up from Stage Gulch yesterday has just threshed from 100 acres in the extreme western fringe of the wheat belt in this county about 1900 sacks.

Alexander Drysdale from another quarter section in the same locality received about 1900 sacks. This is the land which was abandoned a few years ago but which once more seems to be giving a fairly good account of itself.

A lady admirer of Hearst's Chicago American congratulates him on "setting the pace for twentieth century journalism." The editorial page of that paper gives a minutely revolting description of the electrocution of an old woman in New York, and the killing of a Spanish soldier at San Juan hill with characteristic comments. This is a sample of the journalistic pace of the twentieth century, its readers had better take to the woods on a run.

The late Chief Justice Russell, while yet a barrister, was once in court while a trial for bigamy was in progress, and was asked by a brother member of the learned profession of law: "Say, Russell, what is the extreme penalty for bigamy?" "Two mores-in-law," was the prompt reply.

Here is a description of the late Count Muravieff, the great Russian statesman, who was evidently a diplomat after Talleyrand's own heart: "It would be difficult to name a

HARVEST FIELD NOTES.

Yields Reported From Different Sections of Umatilla County.

H. M. Wood and his two sons, W. H. and J. H., who reside two and one-half miles south of Athena, have 200 acres of winter wheat that went 30 bushels to the acre.

Louis Anderson, of Vansycle, was in Pendleton this morning. He has finished with his own wheat harvest and will have it nearly all hauled to the Vansycle warehouse by Saturday. He had about 600 acres, of which 155 was spring sown, and which went 17 bushels to the acre. Some of his winter wheat went more than 40 bushels to the acre. His Sonora wheat for some reason or other did not do very well this year, and only went 30 bushels to the acre. His general average was 25 bushels to the acre.

Mr. Anderson is now heading 240 acres of wheat for Mrs. Killian. It is half spring and half fall sown and will average 15 and 30 bushels to the acre respectively.
