Editorial note: Teddy Roosevelt as a presidential candidate is not proving as strenuous as it was thought he would be.

Editorial note: W. J. Bryan, in all his speeches, is advocating the election of senators by a direct vote of the people and pledging his party to bring it about if entrusted with power.

Editorial note: "Champions of a policy of infamy" is the way Roosevelt refers to his political opponents.

Editorial note: Shades of Washington, Jackson and Grant! German Count Von Waldersee is to be the commanding officer of American troops in China.

Editorial note: The Inland Empire is the name of a new publication just started at Walla Walla by A. H. Harris.

Editorial note: There is not the head of a trust in the United States so far on record who is going to vote the democratic ticket this year.

Editorial note: Bryan should be ashamed of himself and the way he is conducting the campaign!

Editorial note: The railroads of the United States had on their payrolls during the year ending June 30, 1899, 785,034 men.

Editorial note: There also have been previous attempts to form a distinct labor party in England.
