FROM KING TO STAGE.

Mr. Hayes, the Prizefighter, Playing King in Butte Theater.

A person's social condition, like his physical condition, is a matter of ring prize fighting, and who stood high with admirers of the ring art, has blossomed forth in a manner to startle his most enthusiastic admirers. Prizefighters frequently lack the esthetic, sentimental and delicate feeling necessary to win the plaudits of a discriminating and appreciative playing public. Not so with Mr. Hayes, who left Pendleton with Kid Watson, and after a tour of Eastern Oregon, Southern Idaho and Southern Montana finally landed at Butte with coin. Shortly after arriving there he was matched with a colored "pug" by the name of Mr. Thomas Thompson, and won the fight in three rounds, beating Mr. Thompson until he was all the colors of the rainbow. Charles Clark, son of the millionaire and wants-to-be-senator, W. A. Clark, gave him $300 for "doing" Mr. Thompson. From that time his fortune was made. He first secured a position attending a fashionable ash fountain, and then signed with the Boston-Lenox opera company. Mr. Hayes, fortunately, does not have to sing or talk. He is supposed to be simply king of a tribe of savages discovered in the wilds of Africa, and he is supposed to be able to talk and understand English. He simply posed, and Kid Watson knocked out Jerry McGary at Butte in three rounds and is here after Tom Scott's kinky scalp. Kid Barry will be remembered in Pendleton as one who went on in one of the preliminaries to the King-Scott fight in July, 1900. Mr. Hayes' friends may get ready to feel sad, for he met with a terrible accident the other day at Billings, Mont. He is a very small man and he was so unwise as to match himself to fight with a sheepherder who had stumbled into town. The sheepherder, who is a thing to the King, nearly killed him in two rounds, that's all.

A Life and Death Fight.

Mr. W. A. Hines of Manchester, Ia., writing of his almost inextinguishable struggle in death, says: "I have had my muscles, including my tongue, trouble, which ended in consumption, I had frequent hemorrhages and coughed night and day. All my doctors said I must soon die. Then I began to use Dr. King's New Discovery for consumption, which completely cured me. I would not be without it even if it cost $5 a bottle. Hundreds have used it in my recommendation and all say it never fails to cure throat, chest and lung troubles." Regular size 50c and $1. Trial bottles free at Tallman & Co.'s Drug Store.

It isn't the material

That goes into your repaired watch that results in a perfect job. It is the skill of the repairer that does the business. Any watchman can buy the fine kinds of material that I use in repairing; but

KNOW HOW is the most valuable material that can be used in watch repairing; and the bungler can't buy it. I sell my skill for what it is worth, and it will cost you less than bungling at lower price.

THE MARKETS.

Wheat is Worth Just What it Will Bring.

Pendleton, Aug. 30.—One of the qualifications for a reporter in Pendleton to give the wheat market is that he must be a detective. He must be able to follow a clue up a dark alley and chase it to one of the warehouses or mills. But the price of wheat today may be put at 48c, although one sale at 48c is reported as having taken place Wednesday. The low figure is for No. 1 red chaff or club, and the higher one for No. 1 bluestem. A sale of red chaff at 46c occurred on Wednesday. It is rumored, reported, surmised and believed that Mr. Stanton, of Helix, today sold about 3000 sacks of red chaff to the Puget Sound Warehouse company agent at Helix for 46c cents per bushel. One nice thing about warehouse men is that they will give out just enough information to make the reporter bustle around, and what he cannot learn he has the privilege of supplying from his surplus imagination. Barley is 60 to 65c per cental for feed and milling respectively.

Wheat in Portland.

Portland, Aug. 30.—The Commercial Review in speaking of the market in its issue today says: "The local wheat market has moved within narrow limits throughout the week, though the volume of business has been larger. A more active movement from the interior is noted, and we may consider that hereafter it will receive a steadily increasing proportion. Tonnage is beginning to arrive, and altogether we may witness a good September shipping trade. Harvesting is well advanced, and in many places they are finished, and farmers are turning their attention to milking. Walla Walla club is quoted nominally at 55 to 56c per bushel on track here, and Valley 57c. Bluestem, 58 to 59c. The strong position of freights still operates to a greater or less extent against wheat, but it is very difficult at present to see how freights can come down with scarcity of tonnage and good prices shipowners are receiving from the West coast of South America. The en route list is small, not enough to carry away over 15 per cent of the crop. Most of the tonnage listed, chartered, is for loading in December. Interior warehouses are beginning to fill up with wheat, and farmers seem to be housing their crop as soon as harvested. Reports from the valley show some improvement, and it may be possible that the crop will be larger than that first catalogued. Reports from other parts of the state are very conflicting, and it will take yet three weeks before a definite idea of the size of the crop can be made. Exporters are not bothering themselves about the size of the crop, but would like to have more choice to move the same. The only disengaged vessel here is asking 48c. With the price of cargoes in London, wheat would be worth here about 50c per bushel.

Wheat in San Francisco.

San Francisco, Aug. 30.—There is nothing of importance to note as to the wheat markets here. Spot trading is slow, as buyers and sellers do not agree as to prices. Exporters are not delayed in trading on this account, having plenty of wheat on hand, secured before tonnage arrived, causing no delay with the vessels in port, which are receiving prompt loading. Mills are buying very little as the China trouble has curtailed shipments for the present over there. Prices for No. 1 shipping range from $1.02 1/2 to $1.05; milling, $1.05 to $1.07 1/2 per cental.

day, and until late at night, for the excursionists to remain here. Word was received from Portland this morning that the excursion was becoming a popular idea with Portland wholesalers and manufacturers. The people of Pendleton are indebted to several gentlemen of prominence in the business world of Portland for energetic and untiring efforts in this connection, and it will be only just at the proper time to give them public recognition for the services rendered. Voluntary contributions were made by two Portland concerns, Lang & Company and the Luckel, King & Cake Soap Co. The association, on the behalf of the business men of Pendleton, express their appreciation of the generosity of these firms and desire public acknowledgment to be made.

Another benefit ball will be given Saturday night in the armory, and tickets are now selling for that event, at the same price as the last one, $1 purchasing a ticket admitting a gentleman and a lady, and ladies in addition charged 25 cents each. Children are also charged 25 cents. The voting contest will be carried on there as was done last Saturday night, and the keen interest that has been excited will make it an excellent feature. At the beginning, for about fifteen minutes, J. N. Beggs, director of the queen's festivities, will give some preliminary dances showing progress made by the young people he is training. What is seen that night will be only a suggestion of the elaborate program he is preparing.

Work is rushing in all departments and the progress made is quite satisfactory. Assurance is received from Portland that the Midway attraction will be all right, and of a character even surpassing the expectations of the board of directors. It has added an element of certainty, where heretofore the prospect has been unknown. A catalogue is off the press today offering diploma prizes for exhibits in livestock, Belgian hares, grains, fruits, and dairy products. People are turning in their entries, and the Midway attraction will be all right, and of a character even surpassing the expectations of the board of directors. It has added an element of certainty, where heretofore the prospect has been unknown.

The vote for carnival queen this morning at 10 o'clock stood thus: Miss Lizzie Milarkey, 1308. Miss Bertha Wells, 904. Miss Pearl Luckey, 901. Miss Ethel Meach, 403. Miss Claire Mousen, 413. Miss Laura Sharon, 429. Miss Gertrude Whittemore, 182. Miss Irene Zieroff, 61.

Deafness Cannot be Cured by local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one safe and certain remedy, known as Deafness Cannot be Cured. It is a simple, natural remedy. Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian tube. When this tube gets inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed deafness is the result, and unless the inflammation can be taken out and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever; the cases of deafness are caused by catarrh, which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces. We will give one hundred dollars for any case of deafness (caused by catarrh) that cannot be cured by the Deafness Cannot be Cured. F. J. CHESEBURY & CO., Toledo, O., and by all druggists.

Accident Befall Mrs. John Vert.

Mrs. John Vert, worthy grand matron of the Order of Eastern Star, who is traveling on business connected with the organization of which she is an officer, met with a serious accident last Monday. While driving from Tillamook to Forest Grove the team fell and threw her from the carriage, the ground with such force as to severely shock her system. The doctors are in hopes that it is nothing more serious than a strain, but express the opinion that she will be unable to leave her room for a week or ten days at least.

Threshing Outfit Stored.

T. J. Tweedy and W. M. Pierce finished up Joe Craig's wheat yesterday and have stored this horse power threshing outfit for the season. Mr. Tweedy stated today that he and Mr. Pierce have 2000 acres of wheat and barley, but that the average per acre has not yet been decided. They had their outfit in operation 45 or 46 days and averaged something like 50 sacks per day only, owing to heavy growth of straw. The grain land of Messrs. Pierce and Tweedy are upon the reservation.

V. B. Conklin, Bowersville, O., says: "I received more benefit from Foley's Kidney Cure than from months of treatment by physicians." Take no substitute. Koeppen's Pharmacy.
