THE MARKETS.

The Wheat Market is Firmer Than a Week Ago.

Pendleton, Sept. 13.—There have not been a great many sales of wheat reported during the past week. Farmers generally have wheat to sell and are independent, are waiting for 50 cents per bushel. Exporters are paying 46 to 47c for No. 1 club and red chaff and 49 to 50c for bluestem.

Local millers are paying the same and are getting wheat at those figures. Farmers generally have hauled their wheat to the warehouses, and those who have not are doing so with all possible speed. Within 10 days the wheat of Umatilla county will have been placed in the warehouses and at the mills with the exception of less than 10 per cent withheld for seed and a small portion held back unavoidably. Barley has dropped in price, and is only worth 60c for milling, 57 1/2c for feed.

Wheat in Portland.

Portland, Sept. 13.—The Commercial Review in its issue today says: The wheat market is fair. There has been steady selling during the week, and values ruled from 56 to 58c for club, Bluestem and Valley, 60c per bushel. At several competing points in Oregon, Washington and Idaho, competition was more or less active, with advances on above quotations noted. Exporters show no anxiety, and generally refuse to meet extreme prices being paid in several localities, the feeling being that values will shortly settle down to an export value. Wheat is coming forward very freely east of the mountains and warehouses here are very well filled up. Foreign buyers are of a listless character. A slight improvement in cargoes is noted. The selling of new wheat upon the market in part accounts for the indifference of cargo operators. Still prices that have been paid recently in the interior were so greatly in advance of market values that farmers became so imbued with the idea that prices would go higher that many are not anxious to let go of their holdings. Some of them will realize their error, as long as the freight market remains firm, which will have to stand the loss of value. Vessels here in port are working, none of them very rapidly, as exporters have plenty of time to finish same and no necessity to be in a hurry. Reports from the Palouse country are very flattering, yield turning out better than expected. The British steamer Riverside, the only vessel up North disengaged, was chartered last Friday at 47c. At the price of cargoes abroad, wheat would hardly be worth here on dock over 54c. Quotations for high wheat by leading exporting houses are 56 1/2 to 57c Bluestem, 59c, and Valley, 60c per bushel.

Wheat in San Francisco.

San Francisco, Sept. 13.—The wheat trade since the beginning of the month has been fair; there has been no pressure to buy and farmers are selling freely. Vessels are receiving fairly good dispatch as exporters are pretty well stocked up with grain. No shipping wheat is held ready at $1.03 1/2, per cent. Conditions this season so far have been against the farmers; tonnage is relatively small and freight rates stiff. Holders have not as a rule been unreasonable in their demands and have met buyers at each stage of the market.

FAIR AND CARNIVAL.

All the Work Will Be Completed in Time for the Opening Next Tuesday.

All the work planned to be done by the Street Fair and Harvest Carnival Association will be completed in time for the opening of the gates on Tuesday, September 18. Every detail has been carefully planned, and each day the work assigned for that particular day is being done. There is not the slightest danger that the fair and carnival association will not be able to make all its preparations in completeness. Those who have taken bonds and intend to make exhibits in the display section from Court to Alta, and also those who intend to place exhibits in the fruit and grain section, commencing at Alta and running 72 feet south, should hurry their exhibits in at once. The association, completing its work will not alone insure having all the preliminary work done on the opening day. The individual exhibitors must take hold promptly of the matter and at once fit up their booths and place their displays.

The Crowning of the Queen.

Monday evening at the opera house occurs the formal coronation of the queen, Miss Bertha Wells. The robes of state and the costumes of the maids of honor and other characters in the coronation have been all arranged for, and the preliminary work has been done faithfully by Mr. Beggs, director of the queen's festivities. The coronation ceremonies will be well worth witnessing, as lots of time and trouble, and no small expense, has been incurred to prepare for them. An admission fee will be charged at the opera house, the entire evening being devoted to the ceremony of the coronation and the numerous fancy dances which are to be given by the young people as entertainment in honor of the queen. Everyone will want to see the young folks in their pretty robes and gorgeous costumes, and it is hoped that the opera house will be crowded on that occasion.

Take Care of the Visitors.

The town has been thoroughly canvassed to secure a list of all persons who have rooms to rent during the fair and carnival. These lists will be kept at the headquarters and added to if any additional ones are secured before the opening of the fair. Care was exercised in going through the town, but a few may have been missed. Any who have not been called upon, and who have rooms available at that time, are requested to leave their names, addresses, number of rooms at the headquarters in the Dusenbury building on Main street, between Court and Water streets, or those who have telephones may call up headquarters and give the information in the same manner. It is urged upon all that there is necessity to provide additional accommodation for the many people who will be here during the five days of the fair, September 18 to 22. It is also suggested by the management that many men of the town who have rooms vacant, should accommodate one extra guest. Several voluntarily offered this, giving the extra room rent that would come in to the landlord or landlady from whom they rent their room. This is a matter of hospitality, and yet it is hoped that the information in this manner, it is urged upon all that there is necessity to provide additional accommodation for the many people who will be here during the five days of the fair, September 18 to 22.
