It may be taken in all conditions and cannot help but do you good. Tallman & Co., leading druggists.

DEATH OF IDA L. FELL.

A SWEET CHRISTIAN LIFE TERMINATED SATURDAY EVENING, OCT. 13.

Funeral Today at Two O'clock From M. E. Church.

The death of Miss Ida L. Fell occurred at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Fell, on College street, at 7 o'clock Saturday evening, October 13. She was conscious until a few moments before death.

Deceased was born at Bloomington, Ill., in March, 1855, and removed with her parents to Heppner, Or., in April, 1882. She became a resident of Pendleton six years ago, when her father became postmaster here. For 12 years of her life, up to eight years ago, Miss Wheelchair with rheumatism. She regained her health to a great extent while a resident of Heppner by treatment at Portland. She was again stricken several months ago with rheumatic hemorrhage, and spent a few weeks at Hot Lake, and upon her return, was able to be up and about at home for two weeks; but, for the past nine weeks she has been confined to her bed. She knew that death was very near and certain, and made minute preparations for the end, even to details regarding her funeral, selection of pallbearers, etc.

The Christian life of Miss Fell dates from the time she was in her 13th year, when she was converted and joined the M. E. church at Bloomington, Ill. Since coming to Pendleton, as she had elsewhere, she took a prominent part in Sunday school and Epworth League work, and her last trip from home, with the exception of the journey to Hot Lake for her health, was to Walla Walla last summer as a delegate of the last named society to a convention there. In talking with her pastor, the Rev. John Uren, regarding her funeral sermon, she said: "Pronounce no eulogy for me. Give Christ the credit."

Funeral This Afternoon

The funeral services were conducted in the M. E. church, Thompson street, at 2 o'clock this afternoon, by the Rev. Perry Chandler. Messrs. Redd, Bixby, H. E. and John Collier, Kimbrell and Perry were the pallbearers, and the Misses Maggie Lee, Huston, Mumford, Coon, Crawford and Rugg honorary ballbearers, all of whom had been designated to so act by deceased, while making other preparations for the funeral.

The casket was covered with choice flowers, including a square piece composed of asters, sweet peas and marguerites, with the letters "E. L." in red flowers from the Epworth League; sweet carnations, her favorite flower, from Howard Dodson, Portland; wreath of roses and chrysanthemums, from Mr. and Mrs. Jack Lyette; and many other bouquets and pieces of pretty design from friends and relatives.

Many persons called at the family residence in College street on Sunday and Monday morning to offer their sympathy and to testify to the loving, charitable, unselfish character of deceased.

She was the greatest sufferer, but the most patient, is the universal testimony. Her life was a continual sacrifice and self-sacrifice. Of her death it may truthfully be said, "She hath done what she could" for humanity, both temporally and spiritually.

Her parents, Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Fell, four brothers, Theron E., George, Walter P., and Dr. J. H., of John Day, and other relatives and hundreds of friends blessed her life, regret her death and profit by her example.

PEOPLE HERE FOR A DAY.

Prof. H. G. French, head of the agricultural college of the University of Idaho at Moscow, was in town on Sunday, en route to Moscow from Boise. He attended the Intermountain Fair at Boise, and has brought a car of fine blooded sheep which were bought for breeders near Moscow; also, some thoroughbred Shorthorn heifers purchased for a north Idaho breeder. Prof. French says he emphasizes the importance of improving livestock in the Palouse country, and everywhere else, for that matter. He has been the means of introducing better methods in farming, and has well stimulated an ambition in Northern Idaho to produce as good cattle, horses, sheep and hogs as in any part of the union. He went to Moscow today.

CIRCUIT COURT.

Trial of Columbia George Will Commence Monday, October 22.

Columbia George and Toy-Toy were arraigned at the opening of court this morning, upon an indictment of the grand jury charging them with having murdered Annie Edna, an Indian woman, on August 24, by administering poison-strychnine. Counsel for defendant, Col. Wm. Parsons, made a motion that they be tried separately, after each had entered his plea of not guilty. The motion for separate trial was allowed, and Judge Ellis set the trial of Columbia George for Monday, October 22, at 9 o'clock a. m. The trial of Toy-Toy will come on right after that of Columbia George has been disposed of.

James H. Childers and Frank Cardwell, accused of stealing 14 head of cattle from F. T. Glenn, of Sunnerville, Union county, will be brought up for trial on Saturday, October 20, at 9 o'clock a. m.

Other Matters

State of Oregon vs. Al Bachman, charged with horsestealing. Trial by jury Saturday, October 13, and acquitted.

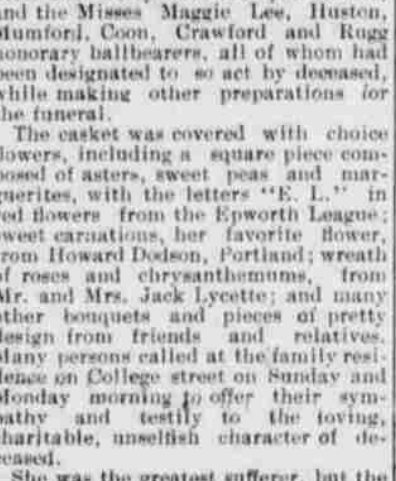

Konstantin Uimer was granted citizenship papers.

Felix Audette vs. Nelson Boyer. On trial by jury today.

The coroner's jury in the case of Thomas Sheridan, who was run over and killed by a Great Northern freight train while working in the yard of the Puget Sound Saw & Shingle Mill company, at Everett, rendered a verdict charging his death to be due to the criminal carelessness of the railroad company.
