Railroad Work is Progressing—Doyle Has a Leg Broken.

Echo, Oct. 20.—The railroad work near Echo is progressing steadily, several hundred men being employed. It is reported that more or less of a rough element follows this class of work, and it stands one in hand to watch carefully when out at night, as the recent holdups attest.

Mr. Doyle, in the employ of M. M. Hotts & Co., sub-contractors, was brought in Friday morning with his leg broken above the knee. He was a new man, having gone to work the day before. After supper he had strayed away from the camp, looking for a sack of clothes he had left near the track, when he fell off the bank 10 or 12 feet. Not being able to make himself heard at the camp, he was obliged to be out all night, until the men went to work the next morning.

INDIAN MURDER TRIAL.

COLUMBIA GEORGE ACCUSED OF KILLING ANNIE EDNA.

Jury Secured and Testimony is Now Being adduced.

The case of the state of Oregon versus Columbia George was called at 9 o'clock this morning. Judge W. R. Ellis was upon the bench. The state was represented by prosecuting attorney T. G. Hailey and John McCourt. The defendant was present and represented by Colonel William Parsons and R. J. Slater.

The indictment of the grand jury charges Columbia George and Toy-Toy, two full-blooded Indians, with the murder of Annie Edna, an Indian woman, by administering poison, on the evening of August 24 last. The defendants asked for separate trials, and it was granted.

The jury box was filled and the examination of jurors was commenced. Selecting Jurors.

T. J. Kirk and Charles A. Frazier were examined as their qualifications to serve as jurors and were excused.

Winn Johnson, Pendleton, lived in this county and Grant county for 30 years, miner, was accepted as first juror.

L. C. Rothrock had been a resident of this county 30 or 31 years. Had been present at the preliminary hearing of Columbia George and Toy-Toy. Excused for cause.

Max Moorhead has an opinion as to guilt or innocence of accused, and was excused for cause.

Robert Jamieson, of the Farmers' bank of Weston; resident of this county 30 years; qualified.

J. M. Ferguson, a farmer of Umatilla county 20 years, had no opinion prejudicial to Indians, and was challenged by defense; the challenge was resisted and denied; he then stated he had conscientious opinions regarding capital punishment, and was challenged by prosecution and excused.

Martin Simpton was accepted as the third juror.

A. McKenzie, of Albion; native of Scotland; 15 years in the United States and 12 years a resident of this section. Accepted as fourth juror.

William Slusher, sheep raiser of Pendleton, had prejudice against Indians. Challenge for cause excused.

B. F. Benn, of Pendleton; here 14 years; in Marion county at time of Indian war of '78; had read of the case. Peremptory challenge. Excused.

E. T. Wade, a resident of Umatilla county 16 years had no antipathy or prejudice toward Indians, up to the time he received an injury from them. Challenged and excused.

Another Lot to Pick From.

Four jurors having been secured out of the list of 12, the box was again filled with the following eight: J. Henderson, J. H. Ross, J. H. Parkes, Hester Nelson, George Minger, Wm. Fitzgerald, Andy Sample and G. S. Berry.

J. Henderson, of Fulton; resident of this county 16 years; had read of this case in the East Oregonian; was closely questioned and finally challenged peremptorily.

Robert Ross, Weston; farmer; taxpayer and resident of this county for 29 or 30 years, but owned no property in the state at present. Excused.

Joe H. Parkes, abstractor and insurance agent of Pendleton. Resident of this county 18 years and had known defendant ten or twelve years; had had defendant before him when frames of the peace; did not think that he could render an impartial verdict against this Indian. Challenged peremptorily.

Peter Nelson, a stockraiser of Juniper; was a member of the jury that tried the case of the Indian after the Indian war of '78 and some of those Indians were convicted; was a member of jury convicting them; challenged peremptorily.

George Minger, butchering business in Pendleton; first came here in '82; eight or nine years since he came back to live here in Pennsylvania; challenged peremptorily.

William Fitzgerald, shoemaker, Pendleton; had read and talked of this case; was about to be accepted when prosecuting attorney asked if his name was on tax roll, and replied that it was not. Excused for cause.

Andy Sample of Pendleton; runs stationary engine at Forster's planing mill; qualified; accepted as fifth juror.

G. S. Berry; name not on tax roll; excused.

W. F. Woodstock, stockman of Nolin for eight years and a resident of the state for 12 years; had no opinion regarding the guilt or innocence of the accused and was excused for cause.

E. J. Summerville, of Pendleton; resident of this county for 21 years, and was formerly Indian agent; had read of the case and had formed an opinion; excused for cause.

Chas. White, farmer of McKay creek, four years in the county and 12 years in the state; answered the questions satisfactorily as propounded by counsel for defendant and state and was accepted as the sixth juror.

The jury of 12 having been selected, the clerk instructed to issue a special venire for 15 jurors from the body of the county.

Court thereupon took a recess until 1 o'clock p. m.

MONDAY AFTERNOON'S PROCEEDINGS

Defense is Exercising Great Care in Selection of Jurors

Great care is being exercised by the defense in the selection of jurors. In a case of this sort, where the defendant, if convicted, is liable to punishment by death or imprisonment in the penitentiary for life, the defense has a right to 12 peremptory challenges and the prosecution to six.

By the side of Columbia George is his wife, Elinor. Colonel Parsons and R. J. Slater, counsel for defense, have the services of Joe Craig as private interpreter while examining jurors. Columbia George is alert to his interests and appears to pay more attention to the proceedings than did Mrs. Minnie Crockett, the defendant in the murder case proceeding this one.

St. E. Johnson, of Fairview, had read of the case, but had not formed an opinion as to guilt or innocence of accused; a resident of Umatilla 20 years; accepted.

W. S. Nelson, Pendleton; had been in business here until recently for the past 15 years; had known accused two or three years; challenged peremptorily.

R. R. Dixon, of Pendleton; in business here eight years; had known defendant three or four years; challenged for cause and excused.

John Matz, James residing seven miles south from Pendleton; had fixed opinion. Challenged for cause and excused.

E. F. Strong, McKay precinct farmer, 9 years in this county knew nothing about the case; had no opinion regarding capital punishment; challenged by prosecution peremptorily.

Jacob Scheuerman, of Pendleton; a resident of Pendleton for 15 years, and of the state 20 or 25 years; was a corporal in the regular army during the Indian war of 1878. Peremptory challenge by defense.

August Zeuzke, of Warren; a farmer at the head of Middle Cold spring; would treat an Indian on trial as though he were a Japanese, Chinaman or white man; had a feeling against them in 1862, when a boy; didn't believe in capital punishment. Excused for cause.

Ed Linsner, a farmer; 11 years in county; read of the case and formed the opinion that the accused was guilty; excused for cause.

A. Nelson, farmer of Juniper; accepted as eighth juror.

U. H. Ferguson, of Adams, was peremptorily challenged. William Connerly, of McKay, was accepted. E. Gibbs, of Pendleton, was challenged peremptorily. Robert Laing, of Pendleton, was accepted. J. P. Sullivan, of Pendleton, was accepted.

John W. Bryant, of Pendleton, was accepted, and made the twelfth juror.

Statement of Counsel.

At 2:30 p. m. prosecuting attorney Hailey commenced his statement of the case to the jury. He read the indictment and related the killing of Annie Edna, and wound up his statement by saying that the prosecution would not only prove the facts as he had stated them, but that since his incarceration in jail Columbia George had freely and voluntarily confessed the whole crime, and that that would also be brought out in the course of the trial.

Colonel Parsons replied briefly and stated among other things that he didn't know what the state would be able to prove regarding the giving of poison to Annie Edna a short time before her death by Columbia George, or in regard to his confession. The defense would show that there were a number of kinds of poison that could not be told from strychnine. He stated that the defense would be made as the case progressed.

B. E. McEvoy was the first witness by the prosecution. He told his story of the case.

A. P. Woodward, an employe of Mr. McEvoy, was on the stand at 3:20.

PERSONAL MENTION.

R. F. Johnson, of Fairview, is in Pendleton on business.

Mrs. B. F. Scott, of Creswell, Ore., left this morning for her home, after having been the guest of her brothers, Lee and W. A. Tentsch, for the past 10 days.

Milton Eagle: The family of County Treasurer S. K. Yates moved to Pendleton this week to reside. Their many friends here will regret their departure.

W. Roseburg Review: Mrs. Allie Sheridan, who has been visiting here for a few days, left this morning for her home in Pendleton. She expects to leave for New York to spend the winter.

William Welch, grand master of Odd Fellows of Oregon, was one at Echo Saturday evening and at Adams tonight. He holds from Astoria and has many friends in Pendleton both with and without the order.

Mrs. James Peters and daughter, Miss Alice Peters, have been visiting in Aurora and Portland. They have returned to their home here, accompanied by Mrs. Peters' father, W. E. Harris, who will visit here for sometime.

R. T. Cox, who has been at the Buffalo mine near Granite, as superintendent, went recently to Portland, to attend his brother, L. B. Cox, who was operated on by Dr. K. A. J. McKenzie for appendicitis. Mr. Cox came successfully through the operation.

Walla Walla Union: Gov. E. T. Geor of Oregon and Mr. W. E. Humphries of Seattle, were entertained at dinner Thursday night by Mr. and Mrs. Levi Ahoney. Those present were: Gov. Geor, Mr. Humphries, Mr. and Mrs. B. D. Crocker, Mrs. Walsh, Mr. A. S. Lefrow, Mrs. Jorgensen and Mr. and Mrs. J. Hudson and Watson.

Milton Eagle: E. L. Smalley and family moved over to Walla Walla the first of the week, where they will reside in the future. Mr. Smalley owns the Pioneer drug store of that city and will devote his personal attention to its management. Mr. H. A. York, a graduate of the California college of pharmacy, will have charge of his store here.

Assault and Battery.

B. E. Marlin, of Meacham, entered complaint against Frank Wakefield, Ollie Crowner and Elia Todd, of the same town, alleging that, on October 9, they were guilty of "assaulting and battering" him. Justice Fitz Gerald held the three men in $50 bonds and set the case to be tried on Thursday of this week.

Railway Across Colville Reserve.

Tacoma, Oct. 22.—Ex-Senator Warner Miller, of New York, has secured from the secretary of the Interior a permit for a railway across the north half of the Colville Indian reservation, for the Republic and Kettle River railway.
