Over Ninety-Five Million Magazines.

More than ninety-five million copies—to be exact, 95,237,523—of the Ladies' Home Journal have been issued since the magazine was first printed, seventeen years ago. December, 1883, was the Journal's birth-month, and the first edition aggregated, all told, twenty thousand. The magazine was well received at the very start, and from that time on its growth has been phenomenally rapid, the increase never halting, until the circulation has reached nine hundred and twenty-three thousand copies a month. During the past eleven months the increase has averaged forty-seven thousand copies per month over the corresponding interval of last year.

WEEKLY MARKET REVIEW.

For the Past Week the Market Has Been Listless.

Pendleton, Nov. 8.—The excitemet incident to election, the general apathy of farmers who have wheat, and others things have combined to make a listless wheat market for the past week. There are no startling changes to be noted. No sales to any great amount have been consummated recently, and exporters seem to be not over anxious to get wheat at quotations. The price for No. 1 club and redchaff hovers around 42 to $42\frac{1}{2}$c, with bluestem a couple of cents higher. There is no demand for barley for export. Local price for feed is 60c per hundred weight.

Apples of unusually good quality have been obtainable here this fall. They are quotable at 65 to 75c a box.

Other local retail prices are:
Lemons, 40c per doz.
Oranges, 50c per doz.
Eggs, 30c per doz.
Butter, dairy, 40 to 50c per roll; creamery, 50 to 60c per roll.
Flour, per sack, 80c.
Cheese, 20c per pound.
Potatoes, 65c per sack.
Cabbage, 3c per pound.
Sweet potatoes, 5c per pound.
Celery, 5c per doz.
Poultry, chickens, per doz., $3 to $3.50.
Turkeys, alive, 8c per pound; dressed, 10c per pound.
Geese, 10c per pound.
Ducks, $4 per dozen.

Wheat in Portland.

Portland, Nov. 8.—The Commercial Review in its review of the market in its issue today, says: Portland trading ruled quiet the past week, owing principally to holders refusing to sell at present limits. Shippers have placed their bids on a level with English market values, and have no present need for loading stuff. They decline to pay from 2 to 5 cents per bushel more for wheat than they themselves can sell at, and are content to wait until such time as sellers are willing to meet the market, or an advance abroad should justify raising prices here. There is no doubt whatever about exporters being fully supplied with grain, not only to meet the wants of tonnage at hand, but the needs of pre-chartered vessels have been largely anticipated. The shipments of wheat and flour from July 1 to October 3 from Puget Sound and the Columbia river, flour reduced to wheat, amounts to over 7,500,000 bushels. Reports from various sections of the interior indicate that about 40 per cent of the crop is out of the farmers hands and is held by interior merchants and warehousemen. Receipts have been very liberal, and there is selling going on constantly, but not in any very large lots. If the market should take an upward spurt of 3 or 4 cents, fully 30 per cent of the crop now held by the farmers would come out. As it is, most of them are pursuing an awaiting policy. Warehouses here are heavily taxed with grain, notwithstanding the very large shipments made in October, and they show very little depletion, as cars are waiting daily to be unloaded. Notwithstanding the low price being paid, sellers are getting full values on sales, while growers get but small results from their season's work. The late foreign improvement has not been reflected here as to values, owing to the fact that local values have been too high right along. Exporters were giving part of the profits on cheap ships to the grower. We quote Club, 53c; Bluestem, 56c; Valley, 60c per bushel.

Wheat in San Francisco.

San Francisco, Nov. 8.—The market here shows signs of comparative dullness, owing to scarcity of tonnage and weak foreign advices. Exporters are not extending their operations beyond meeting current requirements, and are in the market only when wheat can be purchased on a profitable shipping basis. There is a tendency on the part of holders to hold back offering supplies, present selling prices being far from satisfactory, and those in a position to carry their grain will do so, trusting to the gradual disappearance of wheat in exporters' hands to bring about enhanced values. In the speculative market dealings are very limited, and fluctuations have been within narrow limits. We quote No. 1 shipping, 96c to $98\frac{3}{4}$c; milling, $1 to $1.05 per cental.

Liberty's Lightning Rods.

The statue of Liberty, in New York harbor, was recently struck by lightning and emerged unharmed. One bolt struck the upraised arm and another hit it on the forehead. The statue is protected by the finest system of lightning rods ever made. Lightning is no more dangerous than disease, and yet many people will protect their homes, while exposing their bodies to th s deadly enemy. The best protector in the world is Hostetter's Stomach Bitters. It will cleanse the system, invigorate the nerves, and enrich the blood. It does this by strengthening the digestion. Good health depends solely upon the proper performance of this important function. Weakness here results in constipation, indigestion, dyspepsia or biliousness. See that our private revenue stamp covers the neck of the bottle.

Automobile Beat a Train.

William K. Vanderbilt, jr., seated in his famous automobile the "White Ghost," made the train which left Garden City at 4:46 yesterday afternoon look like a vegetable cart drawn by an elephant, says the American.

The train had started for Queens and was poking along at its usual monotonous gait when the passengers saw a white streak shoot along the road which runs parallel to the railroad all the way to Jamaica. The engineer saw the streak, too, and discerned the man who was piloting ware his hand in what seemed to him a sarcastic defiance.

He threw open the throttle and the engine shot forward to the dismay of the passengers, who dashed to the conductor to learn what was wrong. The conductor explained that a race was on between the train and the automobile of Mr. Vanderbilt. In an instant every neck was craned out of the windows to see the contest.

A white streak in the far distance was all the passengers could discern of their rival, and when they arrived at Jamaica a good deal ahead of time they were told that a flash of lightning had been seen making its way somewhere and that Mr. Vanderbilt was probably eating his dinner at home.

MARK TWAIN'S TESTIMONY.

The Way He Recommended a Well Managed Railroad.

Some years ago Samuel L. Clemmens, known to every American reader as Mark Twain, had occasion to take a trip over the Lackawanna railroad from New York to Elmira. This journal led him across the beautiful meadows of New Jersey, up into the Blue Ridge mountains, along the tops of hills and mountains with an occasional dip into the valleys, the train most of the time skirting the picturesque Morris and Essex canal, the magnificent Delaware river, or the beautiful Susquehanna river. It led him through Delaware Water Gap, one of the most magnificent natural scenes on the American continent, where mountain, cloud, and water literally meet. It led him through the busy coal mining region in Pennsylvania, and with it all he was delighted. Arriving at Elmira he sent the following telegram to a friend who had escorted him to the station in New York: "Left New York on Lackawanna railroad this morning in white duck suit, and it is white yet." This testimony of Mr. Clemmens' to the cleanliness of the Lackawanna railroad is no fancy of the humorist's brain. The road burns anthracite coal, and there is, therefore, no smoke, and its road-bed is rock ballasted, hence there is no dust. Mr. Twain's white duck suit was white at the end of his journey because those elements of railroad travel which cause one usually to desire a bath immediately after leaving a train, are entirely wanting. When travelling between New York and Chicago or Chicago and New York take the Delaware and Lackawanna railroad for comfort.

A Good Thing.

Our great-grand mothers' garrets contained the same herbs of all healing found in Karl's Clover Root Tea. They gave our ancestors strength, kept the blood pure, and will do the same for you if you say so. Price 25 cts and 50 cts. Tallman & Co., leading druggists.

One of the incidents of election day in Chicago was the suicide of Fred Janneck. Upon reaching the polls he remarked that he was about to cast his first ballot. This he did, then purchased a bottle of carbolic acid, and upon his return home committed suicide by drinking the contents of the bottle.

You can't afford to risk your life by allowing a cough or a cold to develop into pneumonia or consumption. One Minute Cough Cure will cure throat and lung troubles quicker than any other preparation known. Many doctors use it as a specific for grippe. It is an infallible remedy for croup. Children like it and mothers endorse it. Tallman & Co., leading druggists.

As to Prescriptions

when physicians recommend you to have them compounded by us, what does that mean? Simply the certainty on their part that you will get exactly what is prescribed—the right quantity and the right quality, which is even more important. But we go further than that, for we take honest pride in our skill in compounding.
