PEASE FIRED THREE SHOTS.

ABLE PEASE CAUSED A DISTURBANCE EARLY SUNDAY EVENING.

Trouble Occurred at His Home, First House East of St. Joseph's Academy.

There was a sound of revelry by night, early Sunday evening, to-wit, about 7:15, at the home of Able Pease, first house east of St. Joseph's academy, on Court street. Gathered there were Mr. and Mrs. Able Pease, Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Sheldon, stepfather and mother, respectively of the head of the household, and Arthur Pease a younger brother. Three shots were heard from the house, followed by screams from the women members that "he was murdering" some one, or was "going to murder" some one. Such sounds being so foreign to the usual quietude of Sunday evening in Pendleton naturally attracted a crowd of nearly 100. Attorney S. A. Newberry, who lives in the neighborhood, happened to be going by at the time, and took steps to solve the matter by stepping into the academy and telephoning for the police. Officer William Scheer got the message and hurried to the scene. By the time he arrived Mr. Pease had gone back into the house and blown out the lights. After the shooting he stood around on the outside with the crowd telling them what he was going to do, flourishing a couple of pistols in the meantime.

Arrested by Officers.

Mr. Scheer was for going right in and getting Mr. Pease, but those present explained that he had better not, so he waited a little while. Mr. Sheldon in the meantime had come down town and asked Officer William Coffman to go to the skitful time to assist in quelling the rebellion. Upon Mr. Coffman's arrival he and Mr. Scheer held a consultation and decided that they would bring Mr. Pease back with them dead or alive. Mr. Pease had reloaded a lamp and was seated where he could be seen through the window. He was seated playing a harmonica, with a 45 calibre Remington revolver held carelessly in his right hand lying in his lap. Mr. Scheer and Mr. Coffman went to the door and knocked. Mr. Pease asked who was there. Mr. Scheer replied "Me." Mr. Pease said: "I suppose you're all right." Mr. Scheer said he was. Pease opened the door and Mr. Scheer stuck a revolver in his face. Mr. Pease held his big Remington in his right hand, an index finger raised, but was caught by Mr. Scheer. The two of them scuffled to near the center of the room, when Officer Coffman cracked Pease on the forehead with a billy, which brought him down. The officers then escorted Pease to the city jail and locked him up. He insisted on the journey that Officer Coffman had shot him, instead of hitting him with a billy.

The Prisoner's Reason.

Sunday afternoon, up to about 6 o'clock Pease had been drinking, and had been taken home by his stepfather and brother at 6 o'clock, while his mother brought up the rear. He expressed the belief that he had been "doped," and that he had not drunk enough to affect him that way unless there had been something put in the beer he consumed. He said he was just wanting to have a little fun and fired his revolver just as he was in shooting at a mark; that he didn't mean anything by it; that he didn't shoot at any person and did not intend to hit anyone when he fired. In addition to the six-shot Remington in his hand when arrested, he had a five-shot American pocket revolver, never used, in his pocket. Both were loaded to the brim, and he had loose cartridges for the smaller revolver in his pocket besides.

The prisoner married Mande Smith from Michigan, in Pendleton, on May 1, 1900. He and his wife have not lived together as happily as they might. W. H. Sheldon, the stepfather, Able and Arthur Pease and one other, are the four men who were arrested a few weeks for robbing the Indian cache a short distance north of Mission station. The Pease boys were held in the sum of $250 each. The other two were released. J. W. Cave, who put up the cash bond for Able Pease in that case, notified the sheriff that he surrendered the prisoner to him, and would no longer be bondsman. Mr. Cave left for the west on last night's train.

Pease in County Jail.

Able Pease was taken from the city jail to the county jail this morning, when he awaits arraignment, which will perhaps take place this evening, with the convenience of District Attorney Halley.

AN ORIENTAL EXPOSITION.

The Appropriations for the Columbia Exposition.

Portland, Dec. 2.—A meeting of a number of Portland's principal citizens was held last night in the rooms of the Commercial Club in the Chamber of Commerce building. The meeting was called for the purpose of talking over the advisability of holding an Oriental exposition in this city during the summer of 1902. The question was thoroughly discussed and arguments were presented for and against the proposition. The consensus of opinion was that affairs are not in such a state in the Northwest at the present time to make the success of such an extensive fair as was originally suggested. There are several appropriation bills already in state of preparation for presentation at the session of congress about to convene, and it is thought that the Northwest stands in greater need of the appropriations for the Dales-Cello canal and the improvement of the Columbia mouth than of the fair. It is the general impression that the introduction of a bill asking for an appropriation for the exposition would jeopardize the other bills that are so much needed. A series of resolutions were passed by those who attended the meeting and these resolutions set forth the views of the body upon the question. The representatives in congress said that in their opinion the introduction of a bill asking for an appropriation for the fair would mean the defeat of one or the other bills already in state of preparation. A meeting of the trustees and one also of the members of the Manufacturers' Association will be held next Tuesday and at these meetings, it is believed, further action will be taken regarding the matter. Already a meeting of the board of trade has been held as has been already mentioned in this correspondence and at this meeting it was decided that the fair would be a good thing and that the appropriation could be secured from congress if only sought. Whether the board of trade members will alter their decision after the receipt of the resolutions framed and adopted by the business men who met last night is not known.

Internal Revenue Inspector.

Gen. W. T. Clark, inspector of internal revenue offices, has been in town for the past three days and has made a thorough examination of the office here. He reports that the office and all records here are in good condition and that he has found no better conducted office since he began his tour several months ago. The general has made inspections at other points in the Northwest and left this evening for Sacramento, California, where he will examine the office of the inspector there he goes south and will visit New Mexico and Arizona, also all the states east of the Mississippi, bordering on the Gulf of Mexico.

The general had not visited Portland since 1879 and in that year he was here on a business trip. Grant when he made his famous tour around the world. As might be supposed many changes have taken place in Portland since the general was last here and he believes that Rip VanWinkle saw no greater changes in the little village on the Hudson after he awoke from his sleep of a score of years, than is to be seen in Portland today by one who has not visited it since 1879, which is but a score and one years ago.

THISTLES AND DANDRUFF.

An Interesting Parallel and Valuable Deduction Therefrom.

Cutting down thistles no more relieves the head of thistles than does scouring the scalp cure dandruff. In each case, permanent relief can only come from eradicating permanently the cause. A germ that plows up the scalp in searching for the hair root where it saps the vitality, causes dandruff, falling hair, and baldness. If you kill that germ you'll have no dandruff, but a luxuriant suit of hair. Newbro's Herpicide is the only hair preparation in the world that cures dandruff, falling hair and baldness by killing the germ. "Destroy the cause, you remove the effect."

Worse Than War.

Hundreds of thousands are killed by consumption. There would be no deaths from this terrible disease, if people could be made to understand that Shiloh's cough and consumption cure is a sure remedy if taken in the early stages. 25 cts., 50 cts. and $1 a bottle. Druggists will refund the money if a cure is not effected. Tallman & Co., leading druggists.

Just Arrived.

E. L. Smith has received a carload of Canton plows and harrows. They are high grade implements, easy runners and long wearers, which makes them the cheapest to buy. Mr. Smith also has a large line of buggies, spring wagons and hacks, also the latest in mountain spring wagons and buggies.

Is This Plain Enough.

If you have a nagging cough and are losing sleep, go to a drug store, and get a bottle of Shiloh's Consumption cure. LEATHERS-NICHOLS NUPITALS.

Wedding of Pendleton Young People Sunday Evening.

The wedding of William A. Leathers and Miss Kila Nichols occurred at the bride's home on Water street on Sunday evening, December 3, the ceremony being performed by Rev. John Ureton pastor of the Methodist Episcopal church. Those present included the mother, sister and brother of the bride, the father of the groom, and B. F. Dupuis, of Weston, and H. H. Edwards. The wedding took place at 9 o'clock, and after receiving the congratulations of their relatives and friends the newly wedded couple repaired to the home on West Court street which had been fitted up by the groom for their reception. The principals are well known and popular. The groom for a long time had been a trusted employe of Jacob Lamb, but is at present in the employment of M. A. Rader, the furniture man.

Robbed the Grave.

A startling incident, of which Mr. John Oliver of Philadelphia, was the subject, is narrated by him as follows: "I was in a most dreadful condition. My skin was almost yellow, eyes sunken, tongue coated, pain continually in back and sides, no appetite—gradually growing weaker day by day. Three physicians had given me up. Fortunately, a friend advised trying 'Electric Bitters,' and to my great joy and surprise, the first bottle made a decided improvement, I continued their use for three weeks, and am now a well man. I know they saved my life, and robbed the grave of another victim." No one should fail to try them. Only 50c, guaranteed, at Tallman & Co.'s drug store.
