Eastern Oregon should be represented in congress—in one house or the other—but it isn't. Eastern Oregon is too easily satisfied. It should demand what is due it. If it does not it will never get it.

Eastern Oregon should have the senatorship, but since it cannot, it will probably be given the speakership. Portland politicians are in the habit of giving to Eastern Oregon the things that they do not want.

"Great Achievements in Modern Bridge Building," by Frank W. Skinner, associate editor of the Engineering arts. McClure's magazine for January. While one of the oldest of the engineering arts, bridge building is one of the newest in the principles and methods which it follows today. Modern methods of construction developed with the first metal truss bridge, which was put up about 1840. Many of the great bridges of the world have been built within the last quarter of a century. In 1863 a bridge with a span of 320 feet was thrown across the Ohio river. was thrown across the Ohio river. poisoned blood must be invigorated and it was a remarkable feat at the time, purified, and when this is done cancerous
