"Young Corbett" of Denver won from Joe Bernstein in the seventh round of what was to have been a 10 round bout before the Colorado Athletic association at Denver, with a left hook to Bernstein's jaw, which broke it. Bernstein threw up his hands and the referee separated the men, giving the decision to Corbett. While the honors were about even, Corbett was the aggressor in most of the rounds and blows seemed to carry more steam than Joe's.

Thronges Wait For News. London, Jan. 21.—Great thronges gathered at Bingham Place and Marlborough Place all day awaiting news of the queen's illness. Lies in a State of Coma at Osborne House.

THRONGS IN LONDON AWAIT NEWS

Wales at Osborne and York in London, as Two in Direct Succession Cannot Be in the Same Place at the Same Time.

Cowes, Jan. 21.—All night lights shone from the windows of Osborne house. At 10 o'clock the queen sank into a state of coma and it was thought the end had come. The members of the family gathered in an adjoining room, where they remained all night, prepared to answer the final call at an instant's notice. The persons present in the queen's chamber were her two faithful waiting women and her physicians. When she had begun to sink there was the greatest alarm lest she should expire before the Prince and Kaiser William left London at 8 o'clock this morning, arriving at Cowes at 10 o'clock. The formalities were waived, no salutes being fired in their honor for the reverberation would disturb the queen. They were driven, upon their arrival here, immediately to Osborne house, while the populace maintained a solemn quiet.

When the physicians learned that the prince could not come until morning, stimulants were freely used. Oxygen was administered several times and the queen was aroused sufficiently to sip some champagne and later was able to take a little nourishment the first time in 48 hours. The queen's objection to the presence of other physicians than Drs. Reid and Powell were quietly disregarded and Dr. Thomas Barlow, the brain specialist, was summoned and consulted with Drs. Reid and Powell this morning. Cowes is filled with a deep gloom. Few people are at work, the crowds remaining in front of the bulletin boards. A verbal message from the palace at 3:15 this afternoon says there is a slight improvement in the queen's condition.

Caucus Call a Failure. It has practically been settled that there will be no caucus of republican members of the legislature to select a candidate for United States senator. During the past week a caucus call was circulated by the friends of ex-senator H. W. Corbett, but there are only 31 signers to it which is 16 short of a majority of the legislature.

It is understood that two democrats will vote for Corbett on the first ballot tomorrow the opposition concede that he will receive from 30 to 35 votes. Senator George W. McBride claims to have 20 votes that will stand by him until the legislature convenes. Binger Hornman, commissioner general of the land office, will, his friends claim, have 10 votes on the first ballot. Senator Mitchell is a possibility.

Scrofula

THE OFFSPRING OF HEREDITARY BLOOD TAIN.

Scrofula is but a modified form of Blood Poison and Consumption. The parent who is tainted by either will see in the child the same disease manifesting itself in the form of swollen glands of the neck and throat, catarrh, weak eyes, offensive sores and abscesses and oftentimes white swelling—sure signs of Scrofula. There may be no external signs for a long time, for the disease develops slowly in some cases, but the poison is in the blood and will break out at the first favorable opportunity. S. S. S. cures this wasting, destructive disease by first purifying and building up the blood and stimulating and invigorating the whole system.

J. M. Beale, 115 Public Square, St. Louis, Mo., says: "Ten years ago my daughter fell and cut her forehead. From this would the glands on the side of her face became swollen and burst. Some of the best doctors here and elsewhere attended her without any benefit. We decided to try S. S. S., and a few bottles cured her entirely."

It makes new and pure blood to nourish and strengthen the body and is a positive and safe cure for Scrofula. It overcomes all forms of blood poison, whether inherited or acquired, and not only cures it, but thoroughly and effectively cleanses the blood. If you have any blood trouble, or your child has inherited some blood taint, take S. S. S. and get the blood in good condition and prevent the disease doing further damage.

Send for our free book and write our physicians about your case. We make no charge whatever for medical advice.
