King Edward, the seventh, reigns now over England. Death chooses the sovereigns of Britain, instead of the people doing so.

King Caucus did not win at Salem and the result is it is anybody's race at Salem still.

General MacArthur, the head of the American army in the Philippines, has recommended the payment of a bounty of $250 to every soldier in those islands who re-enlists for another term.

Senator Hanna, we are told, is going to join the Grand Army of the Republic. The senator has just disclosed the fact that he has a war record, as he was a second lieutenant in the civil war.

Spokane is behind a proposition to hold a big fair within its limits in 1902 or 1903 in which is to be spent $750,000. The proposition is already being pushed by Spokane brains and money.

Some Eastern Oregon men should be elected to the United States senate. The office belongs east of the Cascades.

ron should be given a senatorship, and nothing less will settle the score. An Eastern Oregon man in the senate could do something for the state, and its people, for Portland and its people, more than any Portland or lower Columbia river man could do.

ROYALTY'S ALTHRED SPHERE. "Before half-past 2 o'clock on the morning of June 10, 1837, William IV. was lying dead in Windsor castle, while the messengers were already hurrying off to Kensington palace to bear to his successor her entombed to the throne."

The reign of William IV. (1830-1837), uneventful as compared with that of George I. (1820-1830), and short as compared with that of George III. (1760-1820) will forever stand out in history as a transaction and the full arrival of constitutional government in Great Britain.

Victoria's service in the narrow governmental sense has been to subordinate direction of statecraft to that personal characteristic of royalty which was expressed in the term too often erroneously applied—"the first gentleman of England."

When the Hair Falls Out. Swollen glands, aching muscles and bones, the disease is making rapid headway, and far worse symptoms will follow unless the blood is promptly and effectually cleansed of this violent destructive poison.

THE HOUSE OF CASTELLANE. It is worth while to think about Castellane. He means much. He is a part of the riddle of the new century's social sphinx.

Some Eastern Oregon men should be elected to the United States senate. The office belongs east of the Cascades. Eastern Oregon is without representation in congress.

So like the humble earthworm which breaks up the clods into fertile soil for the farmer, the Castellane has had his place in the economy of nature. Is he going to accomplish the same results hereafter?

NOTHING ELSE CURES.

Why Paine's Celery Compound is the Best Remedy in the World.

"When everything else has failed, Paine's celery compound has brought me back to health."

The thousands of instances where this has been said—the scores of people in every community who have told this simple story; the downright, hard, cold facts; the grateful acknowledgments of men and women who have suffered from the diseases that have their origin in impaired nervous systems and sluggish, impure blood—these are what have made Paine's celery compound far and away the one remedy above all others that physicians prescribe and the public endorse.

It is by merit, and merit alone that Paine's celery compound has achieved its wonderful pre-eminence, not only in this country but throughout the civilized world.

After the unfortunate person who is ailing because the blood needs new life and the nerves require nature's food, finally tries Paine's celery compound, and gets immediate relief, another is added to the great multitude of people whose praise of this remedy has made the demand for it many times larger than that of all other remedies put together.

A person may have lost all confidence in his fellowmen who can read the following letter and not be convinced of the great benefit Paine's celery compound has done, is doing, and will continue to do for sick and nervous people wherever it finds them.

When a sick man or woman finds that he or she has taken a remedy that has actually done for him or her all that is claimed for it—it can be safely predicted what will follow. Every acquaintance, sick or well, will be told about it.

General Rodriguez has written down his experience in the hope of helping others who may be so afflicted. The general is today connected with the civil government of Havana.

General Rodriguez was a very sick man. He was as near nervous prostration as one can be and lived after five years' suffering his first good night's sleep came immediately upon his taking Paine's celery compound. His letter reads:

"Dear Sir: For five years I had not had a good night's rest. I had a serious case of nervous prostration, my strength seemed to be leaving me, and I felt tired and weak all the time. My blood was impure and I suffered from pains in the back, constipation, and an inactive liver. I had no appetite and no ambition. I was constantly consulting physicians, and it seemed as though I was nearly ready to die. Providence sent me a bottle of Paine's celery compound, and this great remedy cured me of all the irritable symptoms with which I was afflicted. I can frankly and sincerely say that had it not been for Paine's celery compound, I would today be either in the cemetery or in the insane asylum. Among the many prominent people who testify to the virtues of Paine's celery compound are Santiago Rodriguez, M. D., J. M. Bracho, Eduardo de la Torre, Porfirio Madrid, E. F. Gato, O. E. Pineda, Pedro Herrera y Hernandez, A. Rincon, Andres Angulo, Aurelio de Varona Quesada. Very truly yours,

"GEN. J. M. RODRIGUEZ." No remedy ever had the outspoken approval of men so highly esteemed in business and professional life. No remedy ever deserved so well of people in the ordinary walks of life and none ever got such instant recognition from the discerning public. Its success has been confined to no one class of society.
