GENERAL NEWS.

The sultan of Turkey, who is much affected by the death of Queen Victoria, has wired King Edward VII. an expression of sympathy at his loss and felicitations on her accession.

A warrant of removal was granted at Los Angeles in the United States district court for the return to Indian Territory of Jeff Davis, an Indian, who is wanted for the murder of Henry Carlisle, December 18, 1900.

J. J. Hill and his party of guests are booked to leave St. Paul, on a special train, on March 1, for Seattle. It is said this train will represent more wealth than was ever gathered on one train in the history of the world.

General MacArthur has ordered the deportation to the United States of George T. L. Rice, editor of the Daily Bulletin, a marine journal. Rice will sail on the Pennsylvania Monday. The order characterizes him as a "dangerous incendiary and a menace to the military situation" because he accused the officer of the port of Manila of grafting.

Estimates made by the best-informed persons in the financial field fix the value of Queen Victoria's private estate at something between $50,000,000 and $60,000,000. Parliament upon her accession granted her $1,925,000 a year. This sum, it was estimated, would maintain the royal establishment and leave the sovereign $400,000 for private money, or personal expenses.

The destruction by bush fires in Australia, according to mail advices by the steamship Aorangi, have been appalling. While many people are dropping dead from heat apoplexy, the thermometer running up to 115 and 120 in the shade, hundreds upon hundreds of families have been burned out, and many have made miraculous escapes.

Grace Anderson has brought suit against Charles J. Anderson in San Francisco for divorce on the ground of cruelty, and he brought suit against her to recover 40 United States government bonds of the par value of $40,000, each, amounting to $22,000, and gold dust and nuggets worth $19,000. It is a romance of the Klondike where Anderson made his fortune and picked up his wife.

PACIFIC NORTHWEST NEWS.

Monsignor Martinelli, who visited in Portland last spring, will soon be made a cardinal, so says the Washington correspondent of the New York Sun.

Mrs. Isabella Henshaw, wife of Albert Henshaw, a merchant at Condon, died of typhoid fever a few days ago. She leaves a husband and one daughter.

William Wilson, of Sherwood, Washington county, swore out a warrant against his brother-in-law, Thomas Hines, charging him with slaying at the plaintiff with intent to kill. There has been bad blood between the two men for some time.

Jacob Johnson, a pioneer resident of Oregon of the days of '49, died at his homestead home on Johnson creek, near Portland, after an illness of but a few days, with la grippe. Mr. Johnson was 72 years of age, and up to the time of his last sickness was in the best of health.

The Eugene Guard says that Miss Nellie Addington lies at the home of her parents, in Lost Valley precinct, in a very precarious condition, from the result of a bump on her nose at a New Year watch-party. Inflammation of the brain has resulted, together with entire paralysis of the nervous system.

Since last Monday from one to ten visitors from 16 different states, and from 27 towns in Oregon, outside of Portland, have called at the rooms of the Oregon Historical Society, in the city hall, Portland, and registered. The total number of visitors since January 1 has been 1222, making a total of 12,222 since December 16, 1899.

Mrs. Sarah J. McClure, a pioneer of California and Oregon, died at her home in Seattle Thursday. Her father was Henry Dillard, a pioneer. She was born in Tennessee in 1837. With her parents she came across the country by ox team in 1855 and settled near Petaluma, Calif. Two years later she moved to the Willamette Valley, settling in Lane county, Oregon, where she lived for many years.

Don't Marry.

Almost everybody remembers the celebrated advice of the London French, "To those about to marry, Don't." There is in that advice the expression of the feeling of many a mother who says, "I hope my daughter will never marry and suffer as I have."

In ninety-eight cases in every hundred there is no need for this suffering. Doctor Pierce's Favorite Prescription cures the womanly diseases which cause wifely misery. It dries encaking drains, heals inflammation and ulceration and cures female weakness. It invigorates the womanly organism, tranquilizes the nerves and gives the mother strength to give her children.

Do not allow an unscrupulous dealer to sell you something in place of "Favorite Prescription," claimed to be "just as good." There is nothing just as good for women as "Favorite Prescription."
