Senator George W. Proebstel will of course come in for a large share of the credit attached to securing the appropriation. Shortly after that particular provision of the bill was made public at Salem he wrote to his constituents at Weston and laid the matter before them, and suggested what should be done, namely, that additional grounds of at least 10 acres should be secured as a donation. The business men saw the force of the suggestion and acted upon it immediately. Options were secured upon grounds contiguous and adjacent to the present cramped grounds occupied by the little buildings of the school, so that 10 acres could be made available for a donation. It remained for Senator Kelly, of Linn county, to carry off the honor of success in this connection, his bilgoing through both houses of the legisl ature with little opposition. The Kelly bill makes all recorders of deeds registrars of titles in their respective counties, and provides that the owner of any estate or interest in land, whether legal or equitable, may apply to have his title registered.

his title registered.

No mortgage or other estate less than a fee simple shall be registered unless the fee simple shall first be registered.

The proceedings for the registered.

The proceedings for the registered.

The proceedings for the registration of a land title are much in the nature of a suit to quiet title and are brought in the circuit court. All fees are paid by the applicant and the cost will depend upon the history of the conveyances through which the title has passed. All persons interested are given notice as in a suit of equity, but any person claiming an interest may have his claim considered within two years. After the expiration of two years. After the expiration of two years he may also make his claim, but cannot, in case he establish a right, secure the land itself. He must accept satisfaction of his claim in money. After land has been registered, no title there adverse or in derogation to the title of the registered owner shall be acquired by any length of possession. When a land title has been reg-istered, a certificate of such registration is made, and a duplicate certificate de-livered to the owner of the land. For two years this certificate shall be prima facie evidence of title, and after hat time it shall be conclusive evi Transfers

A registered owner of land, desiring to transfer his whole estate or interest therein, or some distinct part or-parcel thereof, or some undivided in-terest therein, or to grant out of his estate for life, or from a term of not ess than 10 years, may execute to the intended transferee a deed or instru-ment of conveyance in any form au-thorised by law for that purpose. And upon filing such deed or other instru-ment in the registrar's office and surrendering to the registrar the dupli-cate certificate of title, and, upon it being made to appear to the registrar that the transferce has the title or interest proposed to be transferred and is entitled to make the conveyance, and that the transferee has the right to have such estate or interest transferred to him, he shall make out and regis-ter as hereinbefore provided a new cercertifying the title to the estate or in erest in the land desired to be veyed to be in the transferee, and shall note upon the original and duplicate note upon the original and duplicate certificate the date of the transfer, and the name of the transferer and the volume and folio in which the new certificate is registered, and shall stamp across the original and surrendered duplicate certiciate the word "cancelled."

"Every transfer of registered land shall be deemed to be registered under this act, when the new certificate to the new transferee shall have been entered, as in the case of the first reg-istration; and all other dealings shall be considered as registered when the danger. nemorial or notation shall have b entered in the register upon the folium constituted by the existing certificate of title of the land. But, for the protection of the transferee or person claiming through any transfer or dealing the registration shall relate back to the time of filing in the registrar's office the deed, instrument or notice aureuant to which the transfer memorial or notation is made."

INSPECTED THE WREAT FIELDS R. M. O'Brien Gives the Result of His

Observations R. M. O'Brien spent Thursday and Friday on a tour of inspection of the wheat fields of a considerable area of wheat fields of a considerable area of Umatilla county. He traveled from a few miles west of Athena to Warren station on the W. &. C. R. railroad, thence to the Helix region and afterwards through the Gerking Flat. In his opinion the condition of winter wheat is above the average. He has seen wheat in Umatilla county looking better and he has seen it looking worse. He thinks that there has been, perhaps, a superabundance of moisture, which has prevented wheat from having a phenomenal growth. He only noticed two fields of wheat on the trip that had been damaged by frost, one not to exceed two per cent damage and the other not to exceed five per cent damage. Mr. O'Brien has given the subject of raising wheat in Umatilla county more than ordinary study, and is consequently in a position to make is consequently in a position to make comparisons and to cause his osberva-tions to have more than usual weight.

MOORE IS ESTHETIC.

Ghamber in the City Jail.

Fred Moore, serving sentence for stealing cigara from the Klondike showcase, is esthetic in his tastes. He insists on occupying the bridal chamber in the city jail and "hogs" the covers. Saturday evening he retired to his private cell and took the only two biankets in the jail along with him. He was having things all his own way until Officers Coffman and Scheer went around about 8 o'clock, took the bed clothes away from him and made him lie on the floor. They offered to let him out of jail, provided he would leave town, but, he refused. He said he wanted to stay in Pendleton where he could make money. Moore is a young man who seems to have best come infatuated with jail life in Pendleton. He first tried the accompany of the contract of the lock of the breath of the first tried the accompany was so delighted with the accompany are in great demand at the lock of the locks. This litigation has been pending for two years. Mr. Matlock owns a number of lots in dispute, and may lose them. That is one thing that demands his presence there at this time. The brewary property in which he interested can read its title clear, not being within the boundaries of the Moore tract. He said he wanted to stay in Pendleton where he could make money. Moore is a young man who seems to have become infatuated with jail life in Pendleton. He first tried the county jail, and was so delighted with the accommodations that upon release he tried to break back in, but only got into the city jail, on account of the crime committed being too trivial. Moore will be excused from living in Pendleton at the earliest opportunity of the police department. the police department
