BREVITIES.

We have notions. Nobby's. Boy your window shades at Murphy's. If you want nice creamery butter go to Demott's. For rent—Five room house. Inquire of M. Conant.

Wanted—Experienced solicitor. Inquire at this office.
Stop at Fletcher's, Main street, and see the 1901 Hambler and Ideal bicycles.

A big assortment of spring medicine at Kooppen's pharmacy, the popular price "drug store on Court street."
A. Smith found F. E. Judd's bunch of keys at the corner of Court and Thompson street and returned them property according to the advertisement in the East Oregonian.

Timms, a boy and a girl, were born to Mr. and Mrs. Lee Baker, in East Pendleton on Monday, March 4. The girl only lived a few hours and the funeral took place on Monday afternoon.

The social to be given by the Ladies Aid Society of the Christian church will be held on Thursday evening of this week instead of Friday evening, as previously announced. It will be held at the home of Mrs. Theo. Danner. There will be a good program rendered and refreshments served. Measure your height before you come. All are welcome.

The school election in district No. 25, Middle Creek, on Monday morning in the school building here closed at 11 o'clock. The school was well patronized, and the school has prospered. There were 25 pupils enrolled. There are 40 school children enumerated, but some are so small they find it impossible to attend.

School district No. 25, on McKay creek, a few miles from Pendleton, held a school election Monday. As a result of the election, two directors were elected, as follows: Mrs. H. A. Faxon and Mrs. M. A. Beagle. Mrs. Martha Whitman is the holder of director. Mrs. Charles A. Chapman was elected clerk. Women's rights seem to be recognized in district No. 25, and if the school is not run right it won't be the fault of the men.

PERSONAL MENTION.
Mrs. Minnie DeWalt is visiting in Pendleton from Alaska.
Wirt Miner, an attorney of Portland, is a guest of the Hotel Pendleton.
H. S. Lyman, ex-superintendent of schools of Clatsop county, is a guest of the Golden Nails hotel.
George Mortimer, a young man who accidentally cut his foot with an axe while at work above Pilot Rock on February 21, was able to be out today for the first time.
Mr. and Mrs. Leon Cohen returned from six weeks' trip east on the Washington & Columbia river train Monday evening. They spent most of the time in New York city.

Scott Bournth, manager of the Pacific Homestead, a weekly Latin paper published by the Statesman Publishing company, here, is in attendance at the woolgrowers' convention.
Long Belt is in attendance at the woolgrowers' convention from his home on East Birch creek. He is an ardent supporter of the coyote bounty tax, as he believes it is of great financial benefit to the sheepmen. He is of the opinion that coyotes do a great deal more damage than good, and should be exterminated.
Richard Scott, of Milwaukie, Or., is a guest of the Hotel Pendleton. He is an old friend of T. F. Howard, the contractor. Mr. Scott came to Oregon years ago and purchased a tract of land two miles from Portland, for $5000. After having held the land five years he sold it for $40,000. His own went to Milwaukee and is now one of the best known men in the state as a breeder of blooded stock.

A. J. Knight, the wheat man, has decided to wear shoes this summer, and today laid in a supply of six pairs, of different colors, shapes, styles and sizes. Standing in front of the Peoples Warehouse shoe department he noticed six pairs hanging up marked $1.50. That was the price intended for one pair, but Norville Jones, the salesman, thought it had been there long enough and accepted the offer of $1.25 for the job.

C. B. WADE'S SHEEP.
Has Some Blooded Rams and a Ewe at his place.

C. B. Wade's display of blooded sheep was the first to be shown. James Hackett has them in charge. He has at George Frowne's every variety of rams, containing seven German Hamburgs, imported one Delaine ram, a Dorset ewe and lamb, and a nice Page Oxford buck, which weighs 250 pounds, and is occupying considerable counter space among the several other displays will be made during the convention.

Senator Mitchell's Daughter.
The fact is recalled by the election of Mitchell as senator from Oregon that his daughter married nine years ago into one of the oldest of France's titled families, says the Spokesman-Review. She is the wife of the late Sir. Lord Rotherham, who has one of the finest lineages in France, three titles, all of last year's bird's nest variety, a commission in the army and a host of friends. He seems to be an exception to the ordinary run of dukes, for he refused to marry his cousin and a great fortune, and took the Oregon girl without a dot. The couple met in Paris 15 years ago. It was a case of love at first sight. Although the duke is 14 years his wife's senior, and had the reputation of a womanizer.

THE CHAMPIONSHIP CUP.

The Pendleton Sportsmen Return Elated From Portland.
The Pendleton representatives of the Sportsmen's Association and their friends who accompanied them to Portland to attend the shoot last Sunday for the state championship, returned this morning elated over their successful and enjoyable trip. H. J. Stiltman, who won the first prize, the Best man, and 50 per cent of the entrance money, brought the trophy with him, and is keeping an eye on it. He is the secretary of the Pendleton Sportsmen's association, instead of the president, as stated Monday.

Concerning the shoot the Telegram has the following:
"More than 500 pigeons had been secured for the shooting, which continued the entire day. They were good birds, and no fault was found with the management of the shoot, which was a complete success. Twenty of the crack shots of Oregon were invited to compete, and were allowed 20 birds each. The managers all did good work and the competition for first three places was spirited."
"W. E. Martin, of Cottage Grove, former state champion, was in this shoot, but did not show up as well as in former years. The amount of money earned taken in this shoot throughout the state would surprise those who do not keep in touch with these matters. Not only were many sections represented by shooters, but there were a number of outsiders among the spectators, who came and went the entire day."

The scores of those who entered are given below. Where the figure 1 is seen, it indicates a dead bird with one shot, while the figure 2 shows that it took two shots to kill the bird. A miss is represented by the cipher. According to interstate rules, each man was allowed two shots at a bird.

Woolgrowers in Session.
The woolgrowers' convention, which opened on Monday evening, closed today at 11 o'clock. The convention was well attended and a number of resolutions were adopted. The delegates from the various sections of the state were present in large numbers. The session was held at the Hotel Pendleton. The following are the names of the delegates from the various sections of the state:

The shots from outside Portland were: Hoch, Stiltman, Waite, Spence and Hamilton, of Pendleton; Loughray and Martin, of Cottage Grove. The winner not only received the cup, but also 50 per cent of the entrance fee. The second man received 30 per cent of the entrance fee and the third 20 per cent.

After the championship shoot there was a pool shoot, five birds to each man and an entrance fee of $2.50. The scores were: Collier 5; O'Regan 5; Waite, 5; Spence, 5; Martin, 5; Stiltman, 5; Hughes, 5; Grist, 5; Ellis, 5; H. Deal, 4; J. Bowles, 4; Hamilton, 4. First and second prizes were given and as there were more first than second men received the most money.

The man who shot under the name of Jones from Portland, was Bob Hughes, who has frequently participated in shooting contests in this city. He is an express messenger.
H. J. Stiltman, who won the state championship, killing 20 straight birds, used a Winchester repeating shotgun, trap grade. The shells were U. M. C. smokeless, big three and one-quarter drachms of Dupont powder, a want ounce and a quarter of chilled. He shot in first barrel, and No. 7 shot in the second, loaded with 11-gauge wads. The shells in the Stiltman and Spence were loaded by the former personally.

A Tragedy in Kansas City.
Ruth Nollard, 18 years of age, clerk in a dry goods store, was shot and killed on the street in Kansas City by Bud Taylor, 23 years old. He is a baseball player and she was formerly his sweetheart. They had quarreled. The girl and her sister were walking along the street in a crowded business district. Taylor, sitting in a window of a second story room, opposite, fired three shots from a repeating rifle. The police arrested him in a lodging house and had difficulty in protecting him from a mob. Taylor served in the army in the Philippines.

Became Suddenly Insane.
A sad case of insanity has occurred at Boardman, Eastern Washington. The patient is a young man 19 years old, by the name of Hovard E. Perierist. The boy was very bright and intelligent and a great student. The father, who is a blacksmith at Boardman, brought his son toavenport and to the sheriff told the sad story of his affliction. "Nothing wrong had been observed with our boy," said Mr. Perierist, "till last Saturday night, when about midnight he awoke in a delirium, and ever since has been hopelessly insane."
The Texas legislature has passed a law making kidnapping a capital offense.
