Retrospect.

It is an evil day for the wife and mother when she scans her worn face in the mirror and asks the question "Does it pay? Does it pay to sacrifice health and happiness to wedded love?" But there is another question which rightly takes precedence of "Does it pay?" It is this: "Is it necessary to sacrifice health and happiness to wedded love?" Half a million women answer, "No!" They have been weak and have been made strong by Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription. They were sick and "Favorite Prescription" made them well. It will do the same for almost every woman who gives it a fair and faithful trial. It stops weak-ness, drains, heals inflammation and cures female weakness. It tranquilizes the nerves and encourages the appetite.

"I expected to become a mother, and a threatened miscarriage greatly weakened me," writes Mrs. J. A. Nations of West Virginia. "My husband got another doctor for me but it seemed to do nothing and I got no better. At last I told the doctor that if his medicine did not help me I would go back to Dr. Pierce's medicine. I did so, and by the time I had taken three months I could do my own housework, except washing, and I could garden too. I was stouter than I had ever been while waiting for my coming, since my first baby came (this one was the sixth child). She is now eleven months old and is a healthy child, as for me, I feel as young now as I did at eighteen years of age, and thirty one. I can cheerfully recommend Dr. Pierce's medicine to all suffering women."

A BOILER EXPLODED IN BUILDING IN CHICAGO.

Ten or More Persons Killed and Many Injured.

ACCIDENT OCCURRED IN A LAUNDRY

People on Street Cars and the Street, Many of Them Workmen Going to Work, Became Panic-Stricken.

Chicago, March 11.—A huge boiler, in the basement of the building occupied by the Sanitary Laundry company, 458 Madison street, exploded at 8 o'clock this morning, completely wrecking that structure and three others adjoining, badly damaging the stores along the street for a block between Throop and Loomis streets, causing the loss of several lives and the injury of a score or more of laundry employes. About seventy-five people were in the building at the time of the disaster.

At 11 o'clock seven bodies had been taken from the ruins, only one of whom is yet identified, that of Bertha Kincaid. The force of the explosion was terrific. Great masses of brick were hurled against buildings three hundred feet away.

The adjacent buildings wrecked are the barracks of the Volunteers of America, Wildstone's dye shop, Donan's candy factory and a vacant building.

The wildest confusion followed the explosion, hundreds of people going to work on street cars and about and tenants of nearby buildings being panic-stricken.

The work of rescue is seriously retarded by great crowds of people. The screams of the wounded could be heard above the roar and crashing of timbers. Nineteen of the injured have been taken to the hospitals, several of whom are fatally hurt.

The Eighth Body Recovered.

The eighth body, that of a girl, crushed almost out of human semblance, was found at noon. The seven corpses at the morgue have now been identified, as follows: George Phil, engineer; Bessie Kincaid, Minnie Olson, Emma Sebraska, Frank Hannimack, Katie Kelly and Marshal Jacoby.

The injured at the hospitals number twenty-five. Some of the corpses are in a frightful condition. The body of one girl was gathered in a basket, the iron grinders having chopped her to pieces. The head of another was smashed flat. The explosion was caused by absence of water in the boiler, which is said to have been in poor condition. The total property damage aggregated $40,000.

HAWAIIAN ISLAND NEWS.

First Legislature in Session, the Importation of Negro Labor, a Fatal Wife.

Honolulu, March 11, via San Francisco, March 11.—Hawaii's first American legislature convened here on February 20. Up to the present time nothing has been done, but much is in prospect. The natives that control the legislature have been in every possible way obstructed and hampered by the republican and democratic whites that are members and consequently little progress has resulted. The native lawmakers are doing their best to become Americanized. The first action in which they asserted themselves was the expelling from the floor of the house Territorial Secretary H. E. Cooper. At the command of President Dole he entered the house and proceeded to instruct the natives as to what they should do and what they should not do, thereby so angering them that they fired him out bag and baggage. After this act the Declaration of Independence was read in both English and Hawaiian and then ordered spread upon the minutes of the house. Today, the seventh of the session, several bills were introduced among them a bill providing municipal and county governments for the different cities and islands. This bill, though opposed by the governor and the large planters, will assuredly pass.

The Oceanic steamer Zealandia arrived here February 24 from Santa Monica, Calif., with 765 Porto Rico laborers for the sugar plantation. On the trip here, several died and since arrival several more have succumbed. While here the negroes were guarded and not allowed off the steamer except to be transferred to the smaller island steamers.

Wm. N. Marshall, a well known newspaper man of California who has been in prison here for four months for libel, was yesterday pardoned by Gov. Dole.

One of the recently imported negroes states that if the planters carry out their announced intention of importing 20,000 negroes that the colored people will be strong enough to control the island. Continuing, the man said: "Most of my people are republicans. From long familiarity with American politics we can do better American politics than the greater part of the voting population of these islands, and a year's residence will give us all a vote. We shall demand the consideration and representation that our numerical strength entitles us to."

A short time ago Lulia, wife of the leper Lai Hoolaps, presented herself to be examined for leprosy, claiming that she was infected, and requesting banishment so as to join her husband. Upon close inspection it was found that the faithful wife had painted her body with iodine and stains to resemble the ravages caused by the dread disease so as to deceive the doctors and be sentenced to Molokai. She says that her place is by her husband's side for they were made one "in sickness and in health."

NICARAGUAN CANAL TURNED DOWN BY ENGLAND.

Great Britain Cannot Accept the Treaty as Amended.

DOES NOT SURPRISE ADMINISTRATION

Transcontinental Railroads Favored by the Decision, and it Will Be Used as an Excuse to Delay Action.

Washington, March 11.—Lord Pauncefote today submitted to Secretary Hay his instructions from Lord Lansdowne, respecting the Hay-Pauncefote treaty. The document practically closes the negotiations with England on the subject of the Nicaraguan canal. It states that England cannot accept the senate amendments to the treaty and expresses regret that these steps had to be taken in this course. But no alternative, however, is offered. Secretary Hay immediately took the note to President McKinley. It is asserted in some quarters here that this news is not disappointing to the administration, as England's decision acts in the way of a barrier to further action upon the Nicaraguan project, which is not one which receives the enthusiastic support of the administration forces. It is even intimated by some knowing ones, friends of the canal, that Great Britain's action will be used for all it is worth as an excuse for delaying authorization for the construction of the canal and it is just what the transcontinental railroads wanted.

Mitchell Added to Committee.

On Saturday, just before adjournment of the senate, Morgan, chairman of the committee on interoceanic canals, asked unanimous consent that Mitchell be appointed to succeed his predecessor, McBride, as a member of that committee. He realized, he said, that it was an unusual request, but it was made because of the notable interest in canal legislation always manifested by Mitchell, who, like McBride, was an earnest and able advocate of the canal. After the request had been granted without comment, Hoar, addressing the chair, remarked that for very obvious reasons no objections were made to the request of Morgan, but he felt bound to say that it was likely to give rise to great inconvenience on both sides of the chamber.
