PEOPLE HERE FOR A DAY.

J. C. Mackinnon, heretofore traveling freight agent for the Great Northern railway company, recently appointed at New York the general agent for the Oriental Steamship company, arrived on the night train from the east, and is a guest at the Hotel St. George. Mr. Mackinnon has made this territory for several years, and in receiving this appointment, is promoted to an office of considerable importance. As the new York general agent he will have charge of all business connected with the steamship company plying the Pacific practically as a part of the Union Pacific system.

His offices will be in the building occupied by the Union Pacific company in that city. "Oriental shipments from and to the Pacific coast will become more and more important. The maintenance of steamship lines is necessary to the proper development of the foreign trade of this country in that quarter of the globe. Any country so interested in other parts of the coast states is interested in their success." Mr. Mackinnon has many friends here who regard his promotion as just recognition of ability and attention to duty.

THE WIFE'S POCKETBOOK.

It Should Contain a Fair Share of Her Husband's Income for Her Personal Use. "The average American husband does not seem to be able to get it through his well-meant but halting mind that nothing of God's earth humiliates a wife more than to be compelled to ask her husband for money," writes Edward Bok of 'The Ladies' Home Journal.' "She instinctively hesitates to do it, and oftentimes she goes without rather than ask. Every wife should be given all that it is possible for the husband to allow for household expenses, and it should not be doled out to her in dribbles nor given to her as a favor, but as her right, and without question. Over such a share she should have independent sway to do with as she sees fit for the wisest interests of her home and children. That is one right she should have. But there is still another. She should have an allowance of her own apart from the family share of the income. I have no hesitation in saying that if the truth were known it is just this humiliating dependence upon a man for every little trifle that a woman needs that is making thousands of women restless and anxious for outside careers. This is the only fair exemption I have ever been able to see for the hysterical rantings of the modern advanced woman. In that particular she is right and is absolutely justified in filing a protest. A wife is too great and important a factor in the life of her husband to be made a financial dependent."

A King for America. It may be a surprise to learn that there are enough Americans in this country with monarchial beliefs to warrant the publication of a magazine, the first number of which has just been issued in the East. This pretense is as ridiculous as that made by the various bogus stomach remedies which spring up, claiming to be the only cure for dyspepsia and indigestion. The only real king of all stomach remedies is Hostetter's Stomach Bitters. It is founded on true merit, and it must be a very bad case of indigestion, constipation, biliousness, liver and kidney trouble, which it will not cure. It is also for insomnia, and as a spring purifier and preventive for malaria, fever and ague, it has no equal.

A Sweeping Order. The superintendent of the Dubuque division of the Chicago & Great Western railroad company has issued a sweeping order to all employes which has caused a sensation. In effect it prohibits them from using intoxicating liquor in any form, or at any time. It applies to trainmen, station agents, foremen and others who hold responsible positions with the company. It prohibits them from entering saloons or using liquor, whether on or off duty and the penalty for the violation of this rule is immediate discharge. The order also commands all employes to pay their honest debts, and any failure to do so will cause their immediate discharge unless reasonable excuses can be given.

The Cuban Situation. Although the political demonstrations have ended in Havana, the radical element in the Cuban constitutional convention has not given up hope that the United States will recede from the position regarding the Platt amendment. The radical press is doing everything in its power to keep this view before the public. It attributes the action of the United States committee to the influence of the trusts, declaring that the American people generally are in favor of giving Cuba absolute independence, and of rebuking the action of the administration.

PHILIP SOUSA COMMENDS SCHOTT. Pendleton to Hear a Famous Singer on Monday Evening Next Week.

On Anton Schott, the great composer and leader, Philip Sousa, says: "Among the matchless heroes of German dramatic art, the names of the peerless tenors, Anton Schott and Albert Niemann, will go down to posterity among the first. Wagner has had no higher exponents of his grand music, and as for Schott, he is equally as great an interpreter of the exacting Wagner roles as of the tender sentiments of an Italian serenade. With his noble presence, his exalted style, his pure method and his feeling and soulful expression of every phase of the lyric art, he has won the enthusiastic plaudits of the audiences of all great theaters in Europe. Anton Schott, the favorite alikie of German, Italian, French and English audiences, will record new triumphs among the appreciative music lovers of the New World."

THE HARDWICK ESTATE. Mrs. Hardwick Wills Her Property to Her Husband.

The last will and testament of Elizabeth Hardwick, deceased, was filed for probate in Walla Walla Wednesday. The document was drawn at the time the testator was 68 years of age and is divided in two, the residue to be divided among her three children. It is in reality the last paper of its kind drawn or to be drawn by she who signed it.

After directing that after death her body shall be interred without undue ceremony, but with all rites dictated by the demands of decency it directs that all just debts of the deceased be paid as soon as the executor of the estate shall have in his possession sufficient funds. Jethro Hardwick is named as the executor. The remainder of the estate, both real and personal, is bequeathed, during the term of his natural life, to her husband, Jethro Hardwick, and he is given full power to do with it as he sees fit. There is also expressed desire that the estate be settled without resorting to the probate courts. The estate is valued at $100,000.

Mr. and Mrs. Hardwick for many years made Pendleton their home, before taking up their residence in Walla Walla.

THE GLEE CLUB CONCERT. Whitman College Students in Song and Fun Making Wednesday Night.

Concerts by Glee clubs are to an extent test of the college sending them on, in that they reveal the presence or absence of that "esprit du corps" which constitutes a part of a well ordered institution of learning. Applying this test to the concert given on Wednesday evening at the Frazer by students from Whitman college, that school may be judged as possessing much to make the matriculate a better and happier man or woman. College students are proverbially jolly, reckless fellows, liking fun, and making fun for others who watch their antics. Latter day glee clubs incline too much, perhaps, to depart from the "boiling, yeasting" style of song in concert, and people miss it who look for such undignified things as "In Dublin city there livel a man," and the experiences of Michael Royas told in that song, "Who was George Washington, Tell Me Who?" or that old standby, "Ohi Solomon Levi," etc., ad convivia et doctus cantu with laughter. The Whitman boys appreciated this truth regarding college glee concerts, so in the third part of the program they appeared clad in sweaters and minus the clerical and awfully nice eye-glasses, and looking like sure enough college men, assembled in the room of one of their own, and having a jolly good time. They cracked jokes and sang songs and "joshed" each other, and made the audience laugh. Part three was a real glee club feature.

In the other two parts, there were some good glees by the club, and a quartet accompanying an obligato baritone solo. Otto Hauerbach, singing the solo in place of Arthur Hauerbach, who was detained at his hotel with throat trouble. This number was rendered so well as to elicit an encore.

Prof. Hauerbach's reading was just as pleasing as ever and merited the warm applause it received.

Prof. Fischer's violin numbers were classics of composition and genre of rendition.

Miss James' piano playing was highly creditable to the conservatory at Whitman in which she is a student, and people attending were much pleased. Whitman college has many friends in Pendleton, who are always glad to patronize and encourage the institution in every manner possible.

CIRCUIT COURT. W. M. Pierce Obtained Judgment Against Audette Brothers. The case of W. M. Pierce vs. Louis and Felix Audette went to the jury Wednesday evening at 9 o'clock after having consumed several hours over two full days. The jury deliberated two hours, agreed, and sealed the verdict. When court convened this morning the verdict was opened and read. It was in favor of the plaintiff $382.30, the amount sued for, without interest.

The case of Frank Frazer vs. Cleomey Brothers has been on trial. James A. Fee is for the plaintiff and Carter & Bailey and T. G. Bailey for the defense. At the conclusion of the hearing of testimony for the plaintiff a motion for non-suit was argued. The prospects are good for this case occupying the attention of court all afternoon.

John Fitzgerald, the red-haired high-wayman, will have his trial commencing on Monday morning, March 8, Sullivan & Pierce are for the defense.
