RED HOT GAME OF BALL—THE COLLEGE BEATEN 8 TO 2.

Lots of Enthusiasm and Good Feeling All Around.

Athens, March 30.—The baseball season of 1901 was opened in Athens with a red-hot game in which the home team won from the Whitman college team from Walla Walla, the score being 8 to 2. The college boys expected an easy thing with the Athens athletes, but met with a surprise party at every turn. They were outclassed in every particular, and the home players had things their own way from the start.

Lewis, Whitman's famous pitcher, lasted but a few innings in the box, and Brown was called in to save the game. But there was no salvation for them, and Athens continued to lead in the run making. But two errors were recorded against Athens, both being made in the right field, where a substitute was played, owing to the absence of first baseman Vaughn, and a shut-out would have been possible, but for this fact.

The features of the game were the battery work of Saunders and Penland, the former adding to his splendid record in the past by superior head and arm work in the box; Dell's grand stand catch of a long fly after it bounced from the hands of Francis, and B. Brown's work at second, his last double play and good work at the bat drawing out the enthusiasm of the crowd. Koontz also figured prominently at first base, pulling down one hard liner. Willard, Dell and B. Brown led in the batting for the home team.

The crowd was a large one, and enthusiasm the order of the day, all the surrounding hills being represented. The Whitman team took their defeat good naturedly, played clean ball, and won the admiration of everybody by their gentlemanly conduct.

Points of the game.
Whitman this stationed her men: Ryan, catcher; Lewis and Brown, pitchers; A. Hauerbach, first base; Lewis and Brown, second base; Goedecke, third base; Rigby, short stop; Tash, left field; C. Hauerbach, center field; Johnson, right field.
Athens—Catcher, Penland; pitcher, Saunders; first base, Koontz; second base, B. Brown; third base, Willard; short stop, G. Brown; left field, Dell; center field, Willard; right field, Francis.
Score by innings:
Whitman.....1 2 3 4 5 6 7 8 9
Athens.....0 0 0 2 0 0 0 0 0

Julia Downey, a student at St. Joseph's academy, was pronounced by the attending physician to be suffering with smallpox on Friday afternoon. Like all the others, her case is a very mild one. She will remain at the academy during her sickness.
C. O. Stocklager of Boise, associate justice of the supreme court of Idaho, was in Pendleton several hours this morning, and took the delayed train at 10:40 a. m. for Lewiston, where the April term of the supreme court will be held commencing next Monday, April 1.
R. B. Stanfield is in Pendleton today from Butter creek and will go home on Sunday morning. He says an accident which he met with on a cow on Thursday last, which was being applied, and it let fly a hind hoof as viciously as a mule and caught him squarely on the leg. It has caused Robert great physical agony.

Personal Mention Elsewhere.
Heppner Times: Mrs. E. R. Bishop returned the first of the week from Bakerfield, Kern county, California, at which place she and her husband had spent the past several weeks looking for a new home in that sunny clime. They found what they were looking for, and while Mr. Bishop is getting things in shape there, his wife returns home to sell their Heppner property, after which she and their daughter, and son will depart for their new home. Heppner regrets to lose these estimable people, but wishes them every success in their new place of abode.
Heppner Times: Miss Elsie Ayers and Miss Viara Hart expect to leave soon for Pendleton and Hilgard.

A BOOTBLACK STAND.
Harry Sanders Wants the Commercial Association to Act.

Harry Sanders, an Italian bootblack stand monopolist of Portland was in Pendleton the other day looking for a suitable place for him and insure him. He said: "I will start up a bootblack stand. Every barber shop has a stand. Business note any good." He talked the matter over with J. F. Robinson, and the latter told him he would have a meeting of the commercial association called to secure a suitable place for him and insure him a big business. Mr. Sanders went to Baker City, where he is now. It seems that Mr. Robinson has not moved fast enough to suit him in regard to having the Commercial Association act, so Mr. Sanders wrote him a letter, from which the following is an extract: "If you don't get me the location, I will make hard times in Pendleton when I go back to Portland. The real estate men will not be able to sell any more property. The amount you will lose will be from $4000 to $5000 a year. I don't favor me I will run your country down in Portland, and then I am going to San Francisco. You will feel it after I am gone."

"P. S.—I feel sorry for you, Jac, but I am going to do it. I know it will hurt your business. It is the other people I am after." Steps will be taken immediately to subsidize Mr. Sanders, so he will not carry his threat into execution.

Wool is Stronger.
A fair price for wool of average quality in Pendleton today would be 10 cents per pound for the same that would have been worth 11 to 12 cents per pound one year ago. Those who will have wool to sell are not contracting much in advance. The eastern and foreign markets have become firmer in tone, with a slight increase in prices quoted. The lambing season is in full force in Utah and Idaho, and within three weeks shearing will be commenced generally. The shearing of a few bands of rams has already taken place, but wool is not moving to any great extent.

Horses Becoming Valuable.
A. Kuppe, the farmer from Pleasant View, states that he purchased two good work horses 10 days ago for $225, which he could have bought four years ago for $40 a piece. For several years, the horse market of Umatilla county was very low. Horses went down to such a figure that breeders of horses were inclined to go out of the business. With the increased demand for many different purposes, including that of the government of the United States and other governments for cavalry purposes, horses have again become valuable.

Hicks Elected Officers.
Pendleton lodge, No. 288, B. P. O. E., elected the following officers at its regular meeting on Thursday evening, March 29: Exalted ruler, Thomas Fitz Gerald; leading knight, Thomas Thompson; loyal knight, Dr. E. A. Vaughan; lecturing knight, Kaspar Van Druen; inside guard, Dr. A. L.

The MEDICINE FOR SPRING?

At this season of the year now many times we must answer the question "What is a good spring medicine?" Here is our general answer "Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People." It is a medicine that is always available. And if you have all your ailments you can depend on getting personal attention. A complete secretary, Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People, is always on hand. It is the best general medicine we know of. Its powerful vegetable preparation, and no pills are required for it. It is a good spring medicine. It is a good spring medicine. It is a good spring medicine.
