HUNDRED PER CENT LAMBS

THE SEASON IS SATISFACTORY TO OWNERS OF EWES.

Reports From Differnt Sheep Camps of Umatilla County Speak of

The lambing season in Umatilla county commences about the middle of March and closes the last of April, consequently is now at its full height. Reports from many of the sheep camps speak of increased wealth. The yield will be 100 per cent, according to the technical language used by the sheepmen and attaches of the camps. One not familiar with such things might be inclined to reason that the yield could be nothing more or less than 100 per cent of all sheep owned, but that is an expression used by sheepmen to indicate that the number of lambs saved will equal the number of lambs saved will equal the number of ewes. Many lambs die from exposure when the weather during the lambing season is severe. In seasons when conditions are unusually favorable the number of lambs exceds the number of ewes, many twins being born, and then it is said that the increase is over 100 per cent. This season thus far the weather has been reasonably favorable. While it has not been pleasant on account of the wind, it has not been disastrous for the cold has not been excessive and there has been an almost total absence of snow. A change for the better has come over the scene, and the weather is even more propitious, which will be appreciated by those who live nearer the mountains on higher altitudes in the southern and southeast-ern part of the county. There the lambing season is just commencing. On lower Butter creek, lower Birch creek and over in the Cold Spring country the season has been on for Joe Connelly's Sheep.

Joe Connelly returned Monday even-ing from the Cold Spring country, where he has a band of 2000 ewes. He stated that the increase of lambs would be 100 per cent. He also said that similar reports had been received by him from other sheepmen through ont the county. All unite in placing the increase at 100 per cent. H. C. Powell, who is one of Charles Cunningham's men, states that the senson is going on satisfactority, and that the lambs dropped by some of the bands of ewes of Mr. Cunningham, are the finest he has ever seen in this sec-tion. The increase will be 100 per Mr. Cunningham has been in Pendleton for a few days, but went out to the ranch this morning. He has a small army of men at work in his different camps and at his several ranches at this season of the year Cris Nelson and William Caldwell, conditions are favorable and the ewes are looking well after an easy winter, so good returns are confidently ex-pected. Mr. Nelson has 100 head of 2-year-old grade Oxford ewes. Mr. Caldwell has 1700 head of mixed yeari-

"THE PARISH PRIEST."

Whalen Lives But Does Not Proach Christianity. Regarding the play to be given by Dan Sully and his company of fine ac-tors it is said that there is absolutely not a grain of sectarianism in "The Parish Priest." Father Whalen might be of any other calling so far as the lines of the play or the situations are concerned. He teaches no sectarian doctrine and no religion other than that of Christian brotherhood, which is his own parson receives its atrongest. that of Christian brotherhood, which in his own person receives its strongest and most effective realization. He does not preach a sermon. He lives it, and by his example makes others feel its benign and ennobling effects.

The scene of the play is a small Pennsylvania town in the Wyoming valley. There Father Whalen has lived all his life. He knows every individual of his flock, understands and symptomic propertions.
