Many entries have already been made and the horsemen generally have given assurance that they will assist Frank Frazier, the manager, in making it a great day for horses, as well as a spectacle long to be remembered by spectators. All owners of good horses are invited to participate. Entries must be made by April 25.

NEW BOOKS FOR LIBRARY. List of Those Which Have Just Been Placed on the Shelves. A number of new and popular books have just been received by H. C. Guernsey, chairman of the library committee of the Commercial Association, and they are now ready to be read by those entitled to do so. The list, which is as follows, contains some works which have been but recently read by a critical public, but have already passed the test successfully and become sought for: "Eben Holden," by Rachel; "In the Palace of the King," by Crawford; "Springtown on the Pike," by Lloyd; "Alice of Old Vincennes," by Thompson; "Eleanor," by Ward; "Tommy and Grizel," by Barrie; "Master Christian," Correll; "Unleavened Bread," by Grant; "To Have and to Hold," by Johnston; "Cardinal's Snuffbox," by Harland; "Red Postage," by Cholmondeley; "When Knighthood was in Flower," by Caskoden; "Richard Carvel," by Churchill; "Gentleman from Indiana," by Parkington; "Capt. Dieppe," by Hope; "Sky Pilot," by Connor; "Wanted, a Matchmaker," by Ford.

THE FLOOD OF 1882. It commenced on Wednesday, December 13, of That Year. A dispute that has been agitating the minds of some of the oldtimers of Pendleton for the past week, was settled today by reference to the files of the East Oregonian. The question was over the date of the big flood. Many in Pendleton who have come here since have frequently heard "the big flood" referred to. From the East Oregonian's report, that famous flood commenced on Wednesday evening, December 13, 1882, and reached its height at 6 o'clock on Thursday morning, December 14. Water ran in many of the streets several feet deep and much damage was done.

ALL PENDLETON IS INVITED

MAYOR VINCENT RECEIVED THE INVITATION FROM WALLA WALLA. It Will Be Acted on at the Council's Next Meeting—Date of Reception May 25.

Mayor E. W. Vincent in receipt of an invitation from Mayor Jacob Beta, countersigned by R. P. Reynolds, city clerk, of Walla Walla, saying: "You and your people are cordially invited to be present at the reception of President William McKinley to be given by the city of Walla Walla, Wash., May 25, 1901."

Official action will be taken upon the friendly invitation at the next meeting of the city council. Should there be any change in the date of the reception, timely notice will be given.

PERSONAL MENTION.

Mrs. Figg Thompson, of Walla Walla, is in Pendleton. Mrs. Frank Pike, of La Grande, is a guest of Mrs. H. L. Carl. District Attorney T. G. Bailey will arrive home tonight from La Grande.

The Rev. S. B. L. Penrose, D. D., returned home this morning to Walla Walla. A. T. Brewer, of Adams, is in Pendleton today accompanied by his family. Mr. and Mrs. F. F. Wamsley returned this morning from a trip to Portland.

Jim Pepper left today to resume work for C. B. Wade on the Cox-Minor ranch, or Dixie ranch, near Alba. C. C. Berkeley left Friday evening for Portland on contracting business. He will be home Sunday or Monday.

Mrs. Thomlinson, of Weston, who recently underwent an operation at the hospital, is recovering rapidly. Mrs. E. B. Conklin has returned from a visit at Union, accompanied by her sister, Miss Nellie Eckersey, who will remain in Pendleton for a short time.

Charles Goodwin and family, after having lived in Pendleton for about two years left last week for Portland, where they will make their home in the future. Latest advices from Bob Lindsey, at Walla Walla this morning, were to the effect that he was getting alive, but very low. His death has been expected daily for more than a week.

Frank Bacon, of lower McKay creek, is in town today. He says he has sold the last of his potatoes at the ranch for 75 cents per sack. He raised 125 sacks of Burbanks on less than one acre of ground.

Charles Nobergall has changed his plan in regard to opening a candy and cigar store at La Grande. Instead, he expects to go into business at Sumpter. He is still a guest at the Hotel Pendleton, but will leave this evening or Sunday.

W. H. Garrett, the traveling man, is home for a few days. He says he was in the Cornucopia district of Baker county recently, and encountered between four and five feet of cold snow. He prefers the rainy seasons of Unadilla county to that kind of weather.

John Paine is in town today from Walla Walla. He is interested in the application for a road through his land and the land of John King at Helix, which will come up at the next session of the county court. Mr. King is averse to the granting of the petition for a road.

J. W. Keen is in town today from Athena. He has 280 acres of winter wheat, which he thinks will go from 25 to 40 bushels per acre. His farm is five miles northwest of Athena. He sold the most of his wheat at 48 cents last fall, and wishes he had let it all go. He says that wheat generally in his section is looking well.

Joe Hoch has returned from the John Day country, leaving the stock in the charge of John Garrison. Mr. Hoch says the weather has settled and cattle and horses will get along all right from this time. Gus Lafontaine, Mr. Hoch and Mr. Garrison wintered their stock in the Cold Spring country and use the John Day region as summer range.

Elmer E. Cleaver, Cleaver Bros., returned Friday from a trip to Prairie City, where he is interested in mining property and real estate. He has great faith in the mine of that district and says that if ore as rich as has been recently found there had been discovered in a Colorado camp there would have been a stampede of 10,000 people to the scene of the excitement inside of 30 days.

LEVEE BUILDER BANKRUPT

R. M. Riner, Sr., Contractor, Files Petition in Portland. R. M. Riner, Sr., who built the Pendleton levee, a contractor of Portland, has filed a petition in United States court asking that he be declared a bankrupt. Riner sets forth in his petition that he has creditors whose claims are unsecured, amounting to $2100; also, that he signed an appeal bond on which judgment has since been taken for $1400. There are also some smaller debts, and the assets of the petitioner are said to consist of Portland property valued at $100 and two lots at Fort Wayne, which are valued at $1200. He declares that he had only enough funds to pay the expenses of the bankruptcy proceedings. Mr. Riner received $11,000 for constructing the levee here. According to his own statement, he expended only $21,000 in building the levee, leaving $19,000 as his profit.

SMOKEL-SS POWDER. Government to Investigate the Quality of that Now Used. Washington, April 20.—The navy department intends to make an investigation of the character of the smokeless powder at present used in the service. This is a result of the accident which recently befell a 13-inch gun of the Kearsarge.

There is a suspicion that the smokeless powder has deteriorated to a degree which makes it a dangerous composition. Some such experience befell the smokeless powder adopted by the army and it was found necessary at that time to destroy a large quantity of the material which was found unsafe to use in the army guns.

The navy smokeless powder is made from a different formula, but there has always been more or less suspicion of smokeless powder, which is a comparatively new composition and is deemed by the experts to be still in an experimental stage.

If the investigation shows that the navy smokeless powder has deteriorated to a degree of unsafety it will be a serious matter for the service. All the ships are using this material and its rejection at this stage will be a costly matter.
