Walla Walla Statesman: T. P. Yager, who was shot in the left hand by Chris Hillbreck on April 7, yesterday afternoon had his arm amputated below the wrist. The operation was performed at St. Mary's hospital by Dr. C. A. Hauber, assisted by Drs. Keylor and Nelms. Mr. Yager's condition is considered precarious, as symptoms of blood poisoning have set in.

Ed Peters and Ed Baker, both expert fishermen, have made a match as to which one will catch the largest number of trout next Sunday. They will go together. First one will be allowed to travel in advance as they ascend the stream and then the other, alternately in that manner until the time limit has expired. They will wear bathing suits and the trout refuse to rise to the flies cast by the boys will get into the water and catch them. The result of the contest is awaited anxiously.

TRIP THROUGH WASHINGTON. Odessa is a Lively Town West of Spokane.

J. L. Sharon returned Sunday evening from a trip through eastern Washington, accompanied by Ed Miller, of Iowa. Odessa, 77 miles west of Spokane, was one of the liveliest towns they visited on the trip. The name is about all there is to the town at present, but its future is bright. Immigrants are coming into Eastern Washington by the thousands. In one week 1000 immigrants got off Northern Pacific trains and 700 off Great Northern trains at Odessa, to locate right there for the purpose of inspecting land in the vicinity. Much of the land is already in the hands of speculators. One company has secured 12 full sections, or 7680 acres. Ritzville, in a good wheat section. Wheat there looks better than at any other place visited, being 9 to 10 inches high. There are indications of a big yield of wheat in that vicinity.

BOARD OF REGENTS. A Meeting Will Be Held by Them About May 15.

The two regents of the Eastern Oregon normal school, Senator G. W. Probstel, of Weston, and E. Alexander, of this city, were not sufficiently many to hold a meeting on Monday in Pendleton. Mr. Probstel and Dr. Beattie went back home on the evening train, and Architect M. Lazarus took the night train for his home at Portland. He has commenced on the plans for the normal school building and will have them completed ready for inspection by the time of the next meeting of the board. Thereafter it is the intention to push the construction work with all possible speed.

Secured a Judgment. Judge Bennett returned Saturday from Walla Walla, where he succeeded in winning a case of a peculiar and somewhat character, securing a judgment for his client for $15,000, says The Dalles Chronicle. The action was brought to recover this amount on a certificate of deposit issued by a Walla Walla bank that failed some eight years ago. The certificate had been secured by one of the directors of the bank who has since died, and the action was brought against the administrator of the decedent's estate. The claim of Judge Bennett's client, a Mrs. Rathmuller, was generally considered by the legal fraternity as worth nothing, but the judge succeeded in establishing it, just the same.

DR. HILL'S TISSOT LECTURE

THE CELEBRATED PICTURES AND THE RECLUSE ARTIST DESCRIBED.

The Speaker, a Trustee of Pendleton Academy, Talks of That Institution and its Needs.

The Rev. Dr. E. P. Hill, pastor of the First Presbyterian church of Portland, delivered a delightful lecture on Monday evening at the Presbyterian church on "The Tissot Pictures." The lecture was illustrated by the use of a stereopticon and elegantly prepared slides that brought out the merits of the pictures they were designed to represent.

Dr. Hill told the history of the unique man who became an earnest devotee of the Christian religion, and who, turning from the pursuits of the bon-vivant, lives the life of a recluse, in the communion of the Romanist church.

The lecture was the second in the course of four now being given by the students of the Pendleton Academy.

Dr. Hill is a trustee of the Pendleton Academy, and is deeply interested in the school. He made thorough inquiry into the conditions, visited the academy during the morning, and also consulted with the principal, F. L. Fortes, and other members of the board of trustees. Speaking to the East Oregonian on the subject, Dr. Hill said:

"I am surprised to find an institution here of such merit. I find a principal of excellent executive ability, of scholar attainments, and who holds the strong support of the people of the town. I find a faculty composed of competent instructors and an attendance that would do credit to a town twice the size of Pendleton.

"In my opinion, Pendleton people can well afford to uphold the academy. I understand that plans are formed for placing it on better footing. The need of more money is apparent. Perhaps it is not generally known but the members of the faculty are now making great sacrifices and are giving their time and labor to the school.

The institution should be given funds to enable the trustees to erect buildings and to provide furnishings and apparatus for use in carrying on the class work. I hope to see the plans carried out and the school made the strong institution its presence excellence deserves."

OFFER PRIZES FOR BUTTER Dairy Commissioner Bailey Will Try to Do So.

For the purpose of encouraging Oregon butter and cheese makers and demonstrating the importance of turning out the highest grade of dairy products, says the Telegram. State Food and Dairy Commissioner Bailey is in hopes of inaugurating in this state the system of prize competition that is in vogue in the dairying industry in many of the Eastern states.

This system provides for monthly or quarterly competition under the direction of the state food and dairy commissioner. Cash prizes are offered for the highest score in butter and cheese, the money being obtained from the sale of the butter and cheese.

The effect of these competitions is a continual effort in the direction of improvement, in consequence of which the art of butter and cheese making has reached a high stage of perfection, and reputations are established for products that assure the enterprising and progressive manufacturers top-notch prices for their output. Those who carry off successive honors at these competitions always receive better prices for their products than their distant competitors. This is the direct benefit to the producer.

The public is benefited through a higher grade of dairy products, and the industry receives a stimulus that it could perhaps receive in no other way. Did it in Utah.

At the recent annual convention of the Utah State Dairyman's association, 12 samples of butter were presented for competition. The highest score was 98.1, and the lowest ranged down to 94, as follows: 98, 97.8, 97.4, 97.1, 96.7-8, 96.3, 95.5-8, 96.0, 95.9. These scores show that the competition was close, and that some very fine grades of butter were entered. The result of this contest is being offered at the Chicago Dairy Exchange and other market exchanges, and thus establish a reputation for the dairies turning out the highest grade of products.

While there is no provision in the Oregon dairy law for offering cash prizes for contests of this kind, Commissioner Bailey is of the opinion that the $1200 annually allowed him for the encouragement of the dairying industry could be expended for this purpose without prejudice to the objects of the appropriation, and in strict conformity to the law. He will consult Secretary of State Dunbar and Attorney General Blackburn in reference to the matter, and if they see the situation in the same light that he does and with him believe in a liberal construction of the law, the way will be paved for a material step forward in the dairying industry. The price offered are never large, usually ranging from $2 to $10, and Mr. Bailey is of the opinion that a portion of the $1200 allowed him for miscellaneous purposes could not be turned to better account. If the results to the law are what they have been in other states it will be a most profitable investment.

PEOPLE HERE FOR A DAY. E. B. Braden, northwestern agent of the American smelting and refining company, of Spokane, has been in Pendleton looking at some of the high-bred horses owned here. He desired to make purchases of growing animals, but has not yet announced a decision. He greatly admires the horseflesh of Pendleton and this county and thinks the horse industry will some day have attained to great proportions.

The fame of Pendleton as a center for high-bred horses, racing and carriage, has spread throughout the entire coast region.

PERSONAL MENTION. L. M. Watrus, of Adams, is a visitor in Pendleton.

W. M. Pierce is still at La Grande on legal and other business.

A. D. Stillman has returned from a trip to Burns, Harney county.

M. A. Butler, of Baker City, is registered at the Hotel Pendleton.

Dave Letts, of La Grande, has succeeded John B. Moran as yardmaster of the O. R. & N. company at Pendleton, and has moved here with his family.

The Dalles Chronicle: Mrs. W. E. Garretson, of Pendleton, who has been visiting for a few days with Mrs. John S. Schneck, left yesterday afternoon for Portland.

W. A. Toutsch left Saturday evening on the W. & C. R. railway for Adams county, Wash., where he has a ranch. He will have some plowing done and put in a crop.

William Scott, the popular proprietor of Hildaway springs, left this afternoon for home, after laying in a supply of provisions for the spring run of custom at his sylvan retreat.

Heppner Gazette: Geo. D. Fell, manager of the Pendleton woolen mill, will be in town Wednesday in company with John Turnbull, the new buyer for Judd & Root, wool merchants of Hartford, Conn.

J. E. Bean, city recorder, left Monday morning for Albany, called there by the death Sunday evening of his mother-in-law, Mrs. Bean had been at her, W. H. Smith, from sometime prior to the death.

Mrs. Thomas Fitz Gerald and two children arrived home Saturday evening from Vancouver barracks, Wash. Mrs. Fitz Gerald was the guest of her sister, Mrs. C. L. Hunt, wife of the chief clerk in the quartermaster's office. She also visited at Woodburn, Or., and was away from Pendleton just four weeks.

Chester Beagle has returned to Pendleton after an absence of several months at Sumpter, and more recently at Lawton and Alamo. He visited the Red Boy property, which employs nearly 100 men and which is taking out and milling 100 tons of ore per day. The Quebec, at Alamo, is putting up a 20-stamp mill.

G. A. Smith, the contractor, and his brother, W. H. Smith, from Selkirk, have recently returned from a tour of inspection of the Bear valley and John Day country. They selected a stock farm on the north fork of the John Day, and W. H. will buy cattle and run them. He will make his home in Pendleton and has secured a house on the north side of the river.

M. L. Fix, from the head of Alkali, was in Pendleton this morning. He was met here by his nephew, Will Fix, of Walla Walla, and they went out home together. Mr. Fix while here got 39 eggs which cost him $6.50. They were of the Leghorn and White Minorca breeds. Mr. Fix will have a big business at work in a week or so. He will stay out on the ranch this year, but intends to come to Pendleton to live if he can buy a suitable piece of property in the suburbs, and engage extensively in the poultry business.

SHEEP SHEARING MACHINES. Those of N. H. Cottrell Will Commence Thursday.

N. H. Cottrell was in the city today. He announced that his sheepshearing machines run by water power would commence operations on Thursday morning, April 25, sure. A band of 2100 sheep, the property of Henry Seales will be the first sheared. Mr. Cottrell's machines are at his home on his ranch on East Birch about two miles from Pilot Rock.

Warm Springs on the War Path. Canyon City, says the Blue Mountain Eagle, was visited by some Indians from the Warm Springs reservation last Monday who apparently had no object in view other than obtaining information about the killing of the Columbia Indian, Scarlock Ghahoy, in the Lee country two years ago, and had the nerve to ask where the party was who did the shooting. When informed that they could find the man who did the shooting any time they were so disposed, one of them appeared very indignant and furnished the Gilberts around in a manner that would indicate that he was actually looking for trouble. They soon departed on their way southward.

A SALEM BANK FAILURE. Gilbert Brothers Compelled to Quit Because of a Suit.

Salem, April 23.—Gilbert Brothers' bank failed this morning, because of a suit instituted against the Gilberts by the heirs of the William Caspar estate. Emma Johnson is suing to recover the estate, declaring that $300,000 has disappeared.

Weston Young People Married. Walla Walla, April 23.—At the residence of Rev. G. A. Blair, in this city, Sunday morning, Clarence Beattie and Miss Artie Case, were united in marriage. After the ceremony the young couple took the train for Weston, Ore., where their future home will be made.

Upon their arrival at Weston a reception was tendered Mr. and Mrs. Beattie, the entire population of the city turning out in a body to welcome them. Refreshments were served the guests.

Death From Freezing at Nome. Seattle, April 23.—Partial confirmation of the rumored deaths by freezing at Nome were received today. The Some Digger of January 30 gives full account of a terrible blizzard. Dr. Felton, of Oakland, died of frostbite on the trail frozen to death. Sixteen men and women were found huddled together in a cabin on Pilgrim river partially frozen and maimed. The bodies of Alexander Stowe, Dr. W. F. Baum and Dr. Tam were found.

License to Be $600. Walla Walla, April 23.—In executive session as a committee of the whole, the city council last night repudiated its former action relative to placing the license on saloons and decided upon $600 per annum, as the fee to be charged before the city's permission will be granted for saloons to be run. Every member of the council was present.

The April "American Boy." The April American Boy (Sprague Publishing Co., Detroit, Mich.) is a beautiful of good things for boys, as usual. It contains 112 pictures. Its leading article treats of "gentlemen-boys." The stories are: "They Boy Who Knew a Moose"; "Go It, Tom"; "The Men of Might"; "The Lusty Nine"; "The Great Bicycle Race at Putney"; "Splitting the Herd"; "Three Boys in the Mountains"; "Lasy Jack"; "A Vegetable Discussion"; "The Cruise of the Yacht Gannet"; "Other Items of Interest: Talks with Boys and Their Friends; The Charleston Navy Yard and a Visit to an Ocean Liner; Turning Points in a Boy's Life; the Boys' Picture Gallery; The Boy's Library; What Boys are Doing; Boys as Money Makers and Money Savers; April in American History; How to Make Your Own Tackle and Something About Fishing; The Agassiz Association; Boys in the Home, Church, School, Office, Store, Factory and on the Farm; The Order of the American Boy; Boys in the Animal Kingdom; The Poultry Yard; Boys in Games and Sport; The Boy Stamp and Coin Collector; and the Boy Photographer.

This is one of the handsomest numbers yet issued by this company. $1 a year.

Astoria will probably pass an ordinance compelling a tax of 10 cents a month on all telephones used in the city.

THE FREE POSTAL DELIVERY

A. D. SMITHERS, THE INSPECTOR, IS IN PENDLETON TO OBSERVE.

Conditions Are Favorable to Having the Service in This City—Houses Must Be Numbered.

A. D. Smithers, postal inspector, arrived in Pendleton Monday morning and registered at the Hotel Pendleton, where he is making his headquarters while in the city. His object in coming here is to observe the size of the town, the character of the streets and sidewalks, the manner in which the city is lighted, etc., for the purpose of making a report thereupon to the department regarding the putting in of the free postal delivery system in Pendleton, the number of carriers required, etc. Mr. Smithers went up the road Monday and returned this afternoon. He is in company with Councilman F. B. Clifton, who has been giving the free postal delivery subject considerable attention, and they are driving around the city, and even beyond the suburbs to take a look at the outlying country.

Pendleton is in position to fill all the requirements regarding the free postal delivery system except in regard to the numbering of houses and the naming of streets. Before the system is accorded to Pendleton, the department must be given a suitable guarantee that the street corners will be marked with the names of the streets, and that all the houses will be numbered in accordance with a system to be regulated by the city council.

THE DISPENSARY MEASURE. Honolulu Lawmakers Are Considering the Liquor Question.

Honolulu, H. T., April 9.—via San Francisco, April 22.—A prolonged struggle over the dispensary bill has occupied the attention of the Hawaiian legislature during the past week. A bitter fight is being made against the bill by the liquor interests of the islands, and it is charged that a fund of $65,000 has been raised to defeat it. The bill proposes to take the sale of liquor out of the hands of private individuals and place it entirely in the hands of the government.

The main argument in its favor made by its friends is that it will reduce drunkenness by doing away with bars. No liquor is allowed to be drunk on the premises, but it is to be sold by the bottle, only and taken away, thus stopping the "trading" habit.

Some idea of the growth of the liquor industry in Hawaii can be had by a comparison of the government statistics which show that the duties and import values have tripled in the past few years, last year amounting to $371,072.

Health reports show that liquor has more to do with killing of the native Hawaiians than all diseases put together. The opponents of the measure state that the bill has been clumsily drawn and has many defects, and also asserts that the Hawaiian is not addicted to drinking, but that the law will only accentuate his present proclivities and increase the tendency to take home liquor and drink it by the wholesale.

Queen Lil's Pension. The majority report of the house committee on the bill to pension Queen Lilokalani by allowing her $1000 per month during her life recommends that the queen be given a lump sum of $150,000 in bonds, in place of the monthly allowance. The minority report recommends that she be paid $10,000 per year, and that all bonds that is possible to issue should be used on public work. All the papers in the islands support the minority report, but the native party endorses the other proposition.

Chinese Retire. Peking, April 23.—The Chinese troops under Gen. Lin have obeyed the emperor's command and have retired into Shanai. The Germans, however, continue to advance.

While in Portland. We purchased a manufacturer's line of sample china at a bargain. We will give some startling values in these later.

We also purchased a job lot of Johnson Bros., white semi-porcelain at less than jobbers cost that we will sell at the price of common ironstone ware.

The price list will be published upon arrival of goods. Watch this space for it.
