A Lady's Lunch

Has been rudely defined by some cynic as "slops and sweets." And after all there's more truth than poetry in the definition. Ice cream and cake may satisfy the palate, but they are far from satisfying to the stomach, which requires that food be nutritious first and nice afterward. By careless eating women pave the way for stomach "trouble," and its kindred miseries. Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery is confidently commended as a cure for diseases of the stomach and other organs of digestion and nutrition. By curing diseases which prevent the assimilation of food it enables the body to be built up and strengthened in the only way known to nature—by food digested and assimilated. "For twelve long months I suffered untold misery," writes Mrs. Mollie Colgate of Randolph, Charlotte Co., Va. "No tongue could express the pain that I endured before I commenced taking Dr. Pierce's medicine. I was not able to do anything at all. Nothing except bread and tea—or if I did the top of my head hurt so it seemed it would kill me, with all that I could do it would turn like fire. But now, since using your 'Golden Medical Discovery' I feel almost anything I want and can do a good day's work as well as anybody else. Am better than I have been for years." HAWAIIANS LEARN SOME NEW POLITICS

Delegate Wilcox Tells Them About the Plums.

SAYS THEY MUST BE REPUBLICANS

If They Would Get Good Things From the Hand of Uncle Sam—Reorganizing a Party.

Honolulu, April 28, via San Francisco, April 29.—The forty-sixth day of the legislative session has passed, and the amount of work done can be briefly summarized in the words "ninety-three bills introduced, eleven bills sent up for the governor's signature." A fair sample of the legislation proposed by newly made Americans is the bill for regulating gambling acted favorably on by the house. The bill defines gambling as "Nothing more nor less than a simple contract made by two or more persons to undertake any chance for profit by paying a certain consideration, generally called the state money, for the same." The measure provides for the appointment by every legislature of three "commissioners of gambling" who are to look after the licensing and regulating of the various joints. Switching a Party. A movement headed by Delegate Wilcox has been going on in the ranks of the native home-rule party, with the object of switching the party over to the republicans or making the republican party a native party. At a meeting called to discuss the matter, Mr. Wilcox stated that he had been the "whole thing" at Washington, was the only territorial delegate that had honors showered upon him by both the president and congress. He concluded by stating: "I have been advised in Washington to come home and advise you about your future. Wise men, your true friends bid me say to the Hawaiians, 'If you want to make your delegate great and powerful at Washington, send him back as a republican.' Never send a delegate back who is not a native and a republican. The republicans pass all the laws, and have all the good things to give. They can make everyone Hawaiian a present of land in his own country." Humphrey the Plotter. The missionary element in the islands think they see in this proposed movement a plot to overthrow the control in republican and territorial affairs now exercised by them. They assert that the prime mover is not Wilcox, but Judge Humphreys, one of the most bitter opponents of the Dole administration. They assert that, if he can induce the home rulers to declare themselves republican, he can say to Washington: "You see that the Hawaiians would not come into the party for Dole, whom they hate, but easily succumbed to my influence." This would make his influence paramount in island politics, and probably result in Seward's appointment as governor. Wilcox Has a Plan. It is also asserted that the object of importing Tom Fitch is to run him for congress as a successor to Wilcox, who will be placated with an appointment as a United States representative to Italy. "Conspiracy" is alleged to have for its object the overturn of the missionaries on one hand and the prevention of complete native ascendancy on the other. It is probable however that Wilcox is playing his own game, and, if he succeeds in turning over the reins to the republicans, will himself reap the reward. The name of the organization will be the independent home rule republican party. The leaders have decided not to confirm any of Dole's appointees, and will probably petition President McKinley to remove Dole and appoint D. K. Kalaanabalani in his place.
