Ashley, of Stockton, Calif., in which the writer says he is endeavoring to ascertain the whereabouts of Whittier Hamilton, who was born in Trara, Nova Scotia. He has a brother by the name of Luke Hamilton, at Angels Camp, Calaveras county, Calif., and a sister-in-law is Alameda county, whose husband, James H. Hamilton, is dead. There is a small estate awaiting Whittier Hamilton, who is believed to be dead.

PERSONAL MENTION. H. S. Carl has returned from a trip to Ashland, Or. E. H. Clarke is again back at the Hotel Pendleton after a brief absence on business. C. E. Redfield and G. W. Phelps, Heppner lawyers, are in town attending the supreme court. Dalton Biggs, of Burns, Harney county, arrived Monday evening. He has business before the supreme court. Johnny Noble, an employe of Charles Cunningham, at Pilot Rock, is a visitor in town to remain for a couple of days. Robert Starkweather has returned from Huntington. While there he bought a stock ranch and also some cattle. Turner Oliver, for several years clerk of Union county, now of La Grande, is at the Hotel Pendleton. He has business before the supreme court. F. L. Pyle, organizer for the Woodmen of the World, is in town. He will remain ten days or more to assist Pendleton camp to swell its membership. State Senator William Smith, of Baker City, arrived in Pendleton on the train Monday night and is in attendance at the session of supreme court. Lawton Standard, Miss Edna Carlson accompanied her uncle, W. W. Robbins, to Spokane this week where she will spend about a month visiting relatives. H. E. Courtney and F. M. Saxton, of Baker City, arrived Monday night and are registered at the Hotel St. George. They are attorneys, and are attending supreme court. Doc Osburn, manager of the Athena "Yellow Kids" baseball club, and Lee Brown and Fred Fischer, of the same city, spent Monday evening in Pendleton and went home this morning. Mrs. Thompson, of Weston, who has been at the Pendleton sanitarium for the past three weeks, and who underwent an operation for cancer, returned to her home this morning, having practically recovered. Mrs. Mary E. Clopton, who was taken to the New Walla Walla hospital on Sunday, is so much improved that it is hoped it will be unnecessary to resort to an operation. She was accompanied by her daughter, Mrs. C. S. Jackson, her son, Frank H. Clopton, and by Miss Miesie, who remains with her. Mrs. Jackson and Mr. Clopton returned home on Monday evening's train. Baker City Democrat: H. C. Jones, the founder, editor and publisher of the Eastern Oregon Tocsin, that has been published at Carson in Pine valley for several years, informs us that he has been compelled to suspend on account of the prevailing depression in that section occasioned by the mining troubles at Cornucopia, the closing down of the Iron Dyke mines and the irrigation litigation of Pine valley. Mr. Jones has published a very good paper for a place of the size of Carson and it is a matter of regret that his able and energetic assistant, Mr. Jones will return to Pendleton where a good position has been offered him.

A BEAUTIFUL DANCER. La Lole Fuller, With a Company of Excellent Specialists. La Lole Fuller, who appears Wednesday night, tomorrow, at the Fraser, continues to win ecstasies from the press along her tour of the west. Here is a pose while giving one of her marvelous dances, for which she is famed the world over, in America and Europe.

ALXANDER WAS CAPTURED. Believed to Be Dangerous and Was Arrested by Officers. Deputy Sheriffs Joe Blackley and D. Turner went to the home of John Alexander on East Birch creek, 12 miles from Pilot Rock, on Sunday, May 5, and after some maneuvering induced John Alexander to come out of his dugout and go a short distance therefrom. They then got between him and his dugout, so he could not barricade himself in, and arrested him. He was thereupon brought to Pendleton and placed in the county jail. Witnesses will be subpoenaed and Mr. Alexander will be examined later by County Physician Vincent and County Judge Hartman as to his sanity. Mr. Alexander has been acting queerly and his neighbors were afraid he would do himself or them great bodily injury if not looked after.

BAKER COUNTY VS. UNION. Mandamus Case in Circuit Court for Possession of Panhandle. Legal matters are at fever heat in Pendleton, with supreme court, circuit court, county court and justice court in session. One of the most interesting cases in any of the above mentioned courts is that being heard by Judge W. R. Ellis, of the circuit court. It is entitled Baker county vs. Benson, county clerk of Union county. At the session of the legislature of 1901 an act was passed transferring a portion of Union county, known as the Panhandle, to become a part of Baker county. Union county didn't propose to stand it, so refused to proceed to carry out the provisions of the act. Baker county thereupon commenced mandamus proceedings to compel Clerk Benson to carry out the wishes of the legislature as expressed in the new law. T. H. Crawford represents the defendant, while Sam White, district attorney, and F. M. Saxton, represent Baker county and propose to get that slice of territory, because Baker county needs it in her business.

WATERWORKS COMPARED. Pendleton System Makes a Good Showing Opposite Walla Walla. F. B. Clopton, a member of the Pendleton city council and waterworks commissioner, made a trip to Walla Walla recently, and learned a few things regarding the operations of the waterworks system of that city. A comparison of the two systems shows Pendleton in a good light. The minimum rate in Walla Walla is $1.50 per month, while in Pendleton it is $1; the meter rate there is 30 cents per thousand gallons, here 25 cents per thousand gallons; there they have gravity system; here the water has to be pumped by steam power. D. Curry, of Baker City, is a visitor in Pendleton.

LECTURE THIS EVENING. Dr. H. W. Kellogg, of Portland, at the Presbyterian Church. A lecture of great merit will be delivered at the Presbyterian church this evening, accompanied by 125 superior stereopticon views. Dr. H. W. Kellogg, the lecturer, is pastor of the Taylor-street M. E. church of Portland. His illustrations are apt and humorous and the audience will be pleased. An admission of 15 cents will be charged. The views are of unsurpassed beauty and interest.

MISS MORGAN'S BODY FOUND Searching Party Discover It Near Colfax, Wash. Colfax, May 7.—The body of Laura Morgan, who disappeared March 12, was found on a sand bar in the Palouse river, four miles west of Colfax Monday afternoon. A searching party started on Monday in boats, wagons and on foot to make a thorough and systematic search of the river. Mrs. Morgan, mother of the dead girl, drove down the river in a boat, while her father, Mr. Morgan, discovered the body. It was lying on the bank fully dressed. Mrs. Morgan was nearly crazed when the body was found. She was on the opposite bank of the river and it required the efforts of a number of persons to restrain her from plunging into the river to reach the body of her daughter. Laura had been suspended from school for one day for a slight infraction of the rules and left school with two books under her arm. The next morning her cap was found on a bridge a mile from town and her books on the bank of the river near the bridge. There is much conjecture as to the real cause of the girl's death, some believing that she was playing along the bank of the river and fell in, while others profess to believe that she became despondent and cast herself into the stream. The body was removed to the Morgan residence in this city and the funeral will be held shortly, although definite arrangements have not yet been made. The whole community is shocked at the tragedy which has been revealed.

CONSTITUTION LAUNCHED. Bristol, R. I., May 7.—With her hull gaily decorated with flags and her deck well filled with sailors, the yacht Constitution was christened this evening by Mrs. Butler Duncan, who broke the traditional bottle of wine on her glistening bow just as she started down the ways. The Constitution will carry about 14,600 square feet of sail; the Columbia carried 13,140 feet.

A BOY'S ESSAY ON EDITORS. Some Things He Said That Were True as Preaching. A boy's essay on editors is going the rounds of the newspapers: "A newspaper is a sheet of paper on which stuff is printed. The men look over the paper to see if their names isn't in it, and women use it to put on shelves. I don't know how newspaper men came into the world. I don't think God knows. The bible says nothing about editors, and I have never heard of one being in heaven. I guess the editor is the missing link them fellows talk about. The first editor I ever heard of wrote up the flood. He has been here ever since. Some editors belong to the church and some try to raise whiskers. All of them are liars, at least all that I know, and I know only one. Editors never die, at least I never saw a dead one. Sometimes the paper dies and the people get mad, but someone starts it up again. Our paper is a mighty poor one, but we take it so we can put it on our pantry shelves. Our editor don't amount to much, but pa says he had a poor chance when he was a boy. He goes without underclothes in winter; wears socks and has a very good support him. Pa hasn't paid his subscription for five years and says he don't intend to."

NO NEW STORIES. Tim Murphy, the actor, met Henry Watterson, the editor, in Washington the other day. "What is your latest story?" the actor asked. "No such thing as a new story now," growled Watterson. "It is impossible to keep a story good for two days. What's the use of thinking up new stories when they get ahead all over the country between daylight and dawn? Why, sir, do you know why it is impossible to keep a good story as your own property? It's these blank telegraph operators, who like good stories better than anybody. Suppose Chauncey Depew has a good story in New York. He tells it. Some telegraph operator hears it, and that night, when things are quiet on the wire, he asks the fellow at San Francisco or Denver or Tinian butte if he has heard the latest, and then he ticks it off. Every man along the line hears it and ticks it off to the fellow he is working with, and by daylight the new story is the property of the wide, wide world. New story? Faugh!"

RUSSIA'S BUTTER EXPORTS. "Russia in recent years has been creating a large export trade in butter," reports Consul Mabin, at Reichenberg, to the state department. The export in 1897 amounted to 19,081,030 pounds, and for the first ten months in 1900 the exports doubled that amount, being $37,725,230 pounds. The principal item of export is in the butter product of Siberia. To facilitate the trade butter trains, equipped with refrigerating apparatus, have been employed to transport the goods to the ports for shipment. During the season of 1900 two special trains of 25 cars each were dispatched weekly, loaded with butter for the Baltic ports, where in four months 1,428,000 pounds of butter were delivered.

ENGLAND FORBIDS TOBACCO RAISING. It is an odd fact that in England the cultivation of tobacco as a crop is prohibited by a law so high on every acre sown with tobacco seed that no Englishman could afford to grow it, except as Joseph Chamberlain grows orchids—as an expensive fad. The origin of this prohibition is still more curious. It originated in the reign of Charles II., when parliament passed a law forbidding the growth of tobacco in England for the express purpose of encouraging trade with the new colony of Virginia.

"NERVE WASTE." One of the most helpful books on nerve weakness ever issued is that entitled "Nerve Waste," by Dr. W. F. Frazer, now in its fifth thousand. This work of an experienced and reputable physician is in agreeable contrast to the vast sum of false teaching which prevails on this interesting subject. It abounds in carefully considered and practical advice, and has the two great merits of wisdom and sincerity. It is endorsed by both the religious and secular press. The Chicago Advance says: "A perusal of the book and the application of its principles will put health, hope and heart into thousands of lives that are now suffering through nervous impairment."

GEORGE H. WELLS LOST Manager of Portland Concern Missing in New York. New York, May 7.—R. George H. Wells, manager of the New York office of the Tescott Packing company, of Portland, Ore., and general commission merchant, has disappeared from his home in this city. Relatives of Wells say that he disappeared nine days ago while his wife was at Clifton Springs, New York, on a visit. When his disappearance became known, Mrs. Wells returned to this city and though she has prosecuted inquiries in every direction she has been unable to get any clue to his whereabouts. A relative also says that Wells has been greatly worried over their affairs of late.

FIGHTING THEATRE TRUST. Actors and Chorus Girls Form Opposition Union. The fight made by Mrs. Minnie Madden Fiske, of Becky Sharp fame, against the theatrical trust, seems to be rearing fruit. The trust has become very strong, four or five managers dictating the affairs of the theatrical world in true imperial fashion, with the result that opposition is breaking out in many places. Already a powerful enemy of the syndicate has arisen in the organization known as the "White Hats," which includes almost all of the great vaudeville actors. This is the greatest concerted resistance the syndicate has yet encountered. All members of the organization are pledged to take no bookings with the syndicate or book through any firm allied to the trust. The "White Hats" have established their own booking agency, and no longer pay syndicate firms the 5 per cent demanded of the actors for securing them dates at different theatres. In New York at this writing another organization, to combat the growth of the trust, is under formation. It is a union of all chorus girls, who in the metropolis alone number thousands. They, like all actors and vaudeville performers, have been compelled to pay syndicate firms 5 per cent of their salary for securing bookings. The chorus girls have rebelled. They call their organization the "White Mice," and refuse longer to pay booking commissions. Another important outbreak of revolt against the trust has taken place in Indiana. There theatrical managers have united in an organization that includes every important theatre in that great state. All managers are pledged to refuse syndicate show dates at their respective houses. They are convinced that there are sufficient good attractions outside of the trust to fill their houses for an entire season. They feel that they cannot afford to pay the syndicate the commission premium of 75 per cent or more of the receipts that is exacted by trust attractions.
