ACTORS IN OLD ROLES.

Harry Corson Clarke Very Perfectly
Actis Such a Part.

It is not strange that so many of our famous actors and actresses, in their time of playing many parts, have begun their careers by being cast for old roles? Harry Corson Clarke, who will be seen in Pendleton at the Frazier opera house Tuesday, May 21, in his new play, "What Did Tomkins Do?" is one of these.

"Few of our theatre-goers," writes a San Francisco critic, "have thought of Mr. Clarke as a young man since he made his advent here in old man characters, so completely does he identify himself with the role he assumes. To see him in any role is to have that become the idea of the man himself. On one or two occasions when Mr. Clarke essayed a youthful role the surprise of the audience to find that their favorite "old man" comedian was good-looking, youthful in appearance and spry, instead of decrepit, was something noteworthy. Clarke's humor may be characterized as dry, droll, making. He has yet that flash fire as well as mirth. He is agile, nimble, graceful and quite suggestive of the society man."

ANOTHER WONDER OF SCIENCE.

Science has proved that dandruff is caused by a germ.

Science is doing wonders these days in medicine as well as in mechanics. Since Adam tumbled, the human race has been troubled with dandruff, for which no hair preparation has heretofore proved a successful cure until Newell's Herpicide was put on the market. It is a scientific preparation that kills the germ that makes dandruff or scurf by digging into the scalp to get at the root of the hair, where it saps the vitality causing itching scalp, falling hair and finally baldness. Without dandruff hair must grow luxuriantly. Herpicide at all druggists. It is the only destroyer of dandruff.

Postponed Until Fall and to Come Up in Council Stuffs.

Leison Ballist's case in the United States district court for Southern Iowa, in which he is charged with fraudulent use of the mails, has been postponed, and will probably come up in the fall at Council Bluffs. Speaking of the charges and the case in general, the Des Moines Leader, in which town the case came up last week, says, under date of May 15:

BASEBALL AT WALLA WALLA

SHARPSTEIN'S MEN WON FROM PENDLETON 10 TO 11.

The Game Was Marked by Plenty of Hitting, With Brilliant and Poor Fielding Mixed.

One hundred and twenty-five excursionists went to Walla Walla on Sunday, May 19, leaving this city at 8:30 a. m., and watched John L. Sharpstein's team of that city win the baseball game from Pendleton by the score of 11 to 10. That tells the whole story, in one sense of the phrase, but still there are some who always want to know the harrowing details. So it is described in a few more words.

It rained and was cold in Pendleton in the morning, so that the excursion was not as large as it would have been otherwise. Upon arrival at Walla Walla, the weather improved somewhat and the crowd dispersed, seeking amusement according to the best of individual fancy. The baseball club had its headquarters at the Hotel Duces, which was the rendezvous for baseball cranks for miles around. The Athena baseball club to the number of about 15, including Manager Osburn, joined the party at Athena on the way to play at Dayton, but at Milton received a telegram, not to come as the grounds were in a difficult condition to play upon account of rain. They therefore went on to Walla Walla and watched the game. At 1 o'clock in the afternoon it cleared off nicely after a rain and hail storm, and everything looked favorable for pleasant weather.

A Large Attendance.

The Pendleton boys were the first to take their 15 minutes' practice, followed by Walla Walla. The hour of 3 o'clock had then arrived and the audience present numbered about 800. N. H. Blackman officiated as umpire and gave good satisfaction. No time was lost in bringing excitement to fever heat. Pendleton was first to bat and after Ulrich had retired Cox singled and Fletcher was hit by a pitched ball. Mr. Barlow stepped nimbly to the plate and made a safe hit upon which Cox and Fletcher scored, while he took second on the throw in. Captain Hartman rapped out a bit. Dupuis knocked a fly to McEvoy. Chapler knocked a swift grounder through Groselove and Campbell out in right field, who allowed it to pass him also. Barlow and Hartman scored. Murphy made the third out. Four runs in Pendleton in the first inning made pretty scenery to gaze upon, from a Pendleton standpoint, but it was too good to last.

Walla Walla Up.

Lyons, the first man up for Walla Walla, Lutecher and Buchet got their bases on balls. Three men on the bases and none out. The crowd whispered to McEvoy to do something, and he did it in such a way as to chill the marrow in the bones of the Pendleton contingent. A cold ball pail seemed to settle over the landscape. Mr. McEvoy simply lifted the ball over the right field fence, clearing the bases, making a homerun and tying the score. It was just awful. The audience raised such a yell that the convicts in the penitentiary a mile away tried to break out to join in what they supposed was an outbreak of Indians from some reservation. Berry made a safe hit, but was thrown out at second, Ulrich to Cox on Campbell's grounder, Groselove and Fix went out and the score at the end of the first inning was 4 runs each.

Pendleton did nothing in her half, but Walla Walla made 3. McEvoy scoring Lutecher and Buchet on a two-base hit, and scoring himself on error and fielder's choice.

Pendleton made two more runs in the fourth. Murphy reached first on error of the catcher and Mead did likewise on an error by the third baseman. Ulrich brought them home with a single, but was nipped trying to steal second.

Walla Walla made two runs in the fifth and one in the sixth, so that when Pendleton went to bat in the seventh the score was 10 to 6. Murphy was hit with a pitched ball and Meach got his base on balls. Ulrich came to the center with a pretty single and two runs came in. Cox went out on a fly to McEvoy. Fletcher got a base on balls, and Barlow went out, third to first. Hartman made a safe hit, Ulrich and Fletcher scoring, which tied the score and caused the clouds to sweep. The umpire called time to give Pendleton a chance to enjoy the pleasures of having tied the score. The rain ceased and the game went on. Neither side again scored until in the ninth.

The Winning Score.

After Pendleton had been retired in the ninth, Walla Walla needed one run to win and made it timely: Ryan knocked a high fly to right center, Dupuis and Fletcher both ran for it, and the latter being called to take it, dropped it on the run. Ryan stole second. Lyons struck out. Lutecher went out Ulrich to Hartman. Buchet got his base on balls and stole second. After sparring around awhile McEvoy made a base hit over second base, Ryan cantered home with the winning run, and Manager Sharpstein wrapped up another victory and tucked it into his vest pocket.

Baseball Notes.

Chapler's running catch of a long foul fly in the third inning off the bat of Groselove was pronounced to be one of the prettiest pieces of fielding seen on the Walla Walla grounds this year.

Meach struck out Lutecher, Buchet and McEvoy, supposed to be three best batters in the Walla Walla team, one after the other in the third inning, which was a pitching feat.

McEvoy was the only Walla Walla player to make more than one safe hit. He got four, with lots of eight bases, and batted in seven of the eleven runs made by Walla Walla.

The errors of Murphy loom up rather prominently, but he is a ballplayer, nevertheless. He was playing with a strange team in a position with which he is not familiar. He made three good fly catches, but was unable to nail grounders.

The batting of Ulrich, Barlow and Hartman was opportune. Ulrich batted in four runs, Barlow two and Hartman two.

Walla Walla will be in Pendleton for a return game on Sunday, June 2. Negotiations are pending to have La Grande in Pendleton on Sunday, May 26.

The great Athena team will be seen in Pendleton for the first time this year on Decoration day, Thursday, May 30.
