

Three Beautiful Styles of Shoes

- We are showing:
- 1st—A patent calf with the new Cuban heel, new plain toe.
 - 2nd—A French kid with full Louie heel, hand turned sole.
 - 3rd—A cloth top French kid, hand turned shoe.

These three shoes are the neatest, dressiest shoes this season. Call and see them even if you have a new pair. They will make your eyes glad.

"Our little girl was unconscious from strangulation during a sudden and terrible attack of croup. I quickly secured a bottle of One Minute Cough Cure, giving her three doses. The croup was mastered and our little darling speedily recovered." So writes A. L. Spafford, Chester, Mich. Tallman & Co.

The Pioneers of the Pacific will meet this evening. There will be an ice cream social on the court house lawn on June 1. James Hawke and Miss Anna Male took out a marriage license today. The prospective bride is a daughter of Louis Male. This is the evening for the regular meeting of the city council, when the contract is to be let for the grading and graveling of Webb street. J. E. Krause, local manager of the Western Union, has had the office newly papered with paper of a rich, not to say gaudy, hue. It adds to the beauty and cheerfulness of the office. Tuesday, May 14, was the warmest day of the season thus far. The thermometer touched 86 degrees on that day, according to the report of William Hilton, voluntary observer. Judge Lowell's subject for his lecture tonight at the Presbyterian church will be "Some Pictures Not in Colors." It is one upon which he has spent much time in preparation and is said to be a very fine production, literary and oratorical. The infant daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. E. McMillin died at 4 o'clock this morning. It was the only child. The funeral services were held at the residence on Jackson street this afternoon at 4 o'clock, being conducted by Rev. D. E. Vernon, pastor of the M. E. church, south. Mr. and Mrs. McMillin have only resided in Pendleton for six weeks. The former is a nephew of G. A. Smith. "I have been suffering from dyspepsia for the past 23 years and have been unable after trying all preparations and physicians to get any relief. After taking one bottle of Kodol Dyspepsia Cure I found relief and am now in better health than I have been for 20 years. I cannot praise Kodol Dyspepsia Cure too highly," writes Mrs. C. W. Roberts, North Creek, Ark. Tallman & Co. Millard Thompson and Miss Alta Boatman were united in marriage on Tuesday afternoon, May 21, in the law office of Collier Brothers and John McCourt in Association block. Rev. G. W. Rigby performed the ceremony, which was witnessed by a small party of relatives and friends. The contracting parties are from the vicinity of Bingham Springs and Gibbon.

TOMPKINS WAS IN BED.

His Understudy Took the Part Intended for Harry Corson Clarke. "What Did Tomkins Do?" Tompkins (who in the play is Harry Corson Clarke, the renowned comedian) went to bed at 7 o'clock, or thereabouts, on Tuesday evening, and remained there, comfortably snoring, until this morning, when he arose, ate breakfast and boarded the mail for The Dalles. The famous comedian's understudy, Percy S. Sharpe, who was cast for the part of "Old Grimes," essayed the role of Colonel Tomkins, and so cleverly enacted it, that the 300 people who witnessed the performance will read this statement with surprise. Harry Corson Clarke is a confirmed invalid. He has what Eastern surgeons and physicians call an exposed nerve in the stomach, and he frequently lives on only molasses taffy and milk. He offers $10,000 in gold to the man or woman or woman who will successfully treat the disease and make him once more a healthy man. One of these attacks came on while he was here, hence substitution of Mr. Sharpe for Mr. Clarke. George D. Londen, the manager, was a busy man who was manager, stage manager and actor all in one, and demonstrated his versatility on this occasion. An old favorite in Pendleton is Max Steintle, who appears now in German parts. He has previously been seen here in juvenile parts exclusively. Joining from his work as Baron Hochenstein Tuesday night, Mr. Steintle has found a line in which he will make a reputation. His Baron Hochenstein is well done, and promises training for the young actor such as will give him great facility in German characters he may take in the future. Miss Swain and Miss Hathaway were charming in their work. Miss Swain's lullaby song being really very pretty and sweetly sung. The company, considering the fact that they were laboring under such great disadvantages, got considerable out of the evening's performance.

WILL PARSONS REMAINS.

is in Malolos as Chief Clerk for Provincial Treasurer. Letters from Will O. Parsons convey the information that he has remained in Malolos, Bulacan province, Philippine Islands. His regiment, the thirty-fifth United States volunteers, has returned to the United States and has been mustered out. Mr. Parsons, who was a corporal, on detached duty as chief clerk in the office of the collector of internal revenue at Malolos, now occupies the same position with the treasurer of the province. The internal revenue collectorship has been abolished, the treasurer being substituted. Corporal Parsons writes that he is in the best of health and likes the country. He intends to remain there for a year or two, at least, and perhaps for several years after coming home for a visit during 1902 or 1903.

Athenas Will Take a Trip.

Clarence Penland will leave on the train this evening for Athenas, and will accompany the baseball team of that place on a trip. Games have been arranged as follows: At Dayton on Thursday, May 23; Waitsburg, 24; Colfax, 25; Spokane, 26. Mr. Penland expects to be back home by Monday, May 27.

PERSONAL MENTION.

United States Marshal Zenth Houser is a visitor in Pendleton today. Attorney L. B. Resder and E. E. Kennedy, of the Tribune are in Portland on business. Burr Johnson is in town today from Alba, where he has cattle. Stock is in good condition, he says. William Estes, of Athenas, is in Pendleton today on business. He expects to return home on Thursday morning's train. S. B. Calderhead, general passenger and freight agent of the W. & C. R. railroad, was in Pendleton Tuesday evening. Mrs. W. W. Caviness, of Westfall, Malheur county, is the guest of her mother, Mrs. Susan Welch and other relatives. She will make an extended visit in Pendleton. Jacob Shenerman has returned from a wool-buying trip to northern Idaho. He says the orchardists are picking and shipping cherries in the vicinity of Lewiston, and that strawberries are plentiful. Rev. A. H. Sunderman, Christian minister at Pilot Rock and Echo, was in from his home at the former place on Tuesday. He and his family will move to their home on Meadow creek to spend the summer. Pete Marsh, the famous pitcher of Weston's baseball club several years ago, now bookkeeper for Charles Cunningham, spent Tuesday and Wednesday in Pendleton, a guest of his brother, Charles H. Marsh, deputy county recorder. Mrs. Green Estes, who has a mild case of smallpox at the family home near Gibbon, has about recovered. She was able to be about the house last Saturday. This is a very different and much more pleasant piece of news than the rumor that she had died. Harley Rothrock returned to his home in Pendleton on Tuesday, after having been engaged in farming at Eastland for over two months. He says both winter and spring wheat are looking well, although tar weed is of rather luxuriant growth in the fields sown in the fall. Victor Fquette got back home this morning on a trip from Portland. He is infatuated with the trip from The Dalles to Portland by steamer. He left Pendleton on Wednesday, May 15, with a horse which he had sold to a man in Portland. He went overland to The Dalles. He says the river scenery at this time of the year is magnificent. James J. McNamer, of San Francisco, is a guest of the Hotel Pendleton. He is a wool-buyer and spends a considerable portion of his time in Pendleton every year. Mr. McNamer's striking resemblance in appearance to J. S. Hays, of Spokane, who formerly was proprietor of the Square Store here, has been the means of causing him some amusement. Many people speak to him thinking he is Mr. Hays, which afterwards necessitates explanations. Frank Morrison, a well known newspaper man, spent Tuesday night in Pendleton. He is making the trip overland from Salem, Oregon's capital, to Boise, the capital of Idaho, and is accompanied by his family and his nephew, Jesse Baker. Mr. Morrison was for years connected with the Salem Statesman, but is now in charge of the circulation department of the Evening Capital News. The distance by wagon road between the two capitals is about 600 miles and the journey will occupy about one month. Mrs. E. A. Campbell has returned from California. She spent the winter at Los Angeles and visited other cities and points of interest, going to the seashore at Santa Monica. Out side of a mild even climate, Mrs. Campbell likes Oregon best. She says: "They have beautiful trees and shrubs and things growing all the year round—things of beauty. As to grain fields, vegetables and apples, ours here at home are far ahead, and I speak from knowledge, for I have lived here continuously since 1864, crossing the plains by team."

William Lester, late of company D, 35th U. S. infantry, is in the city. He and another named Chester Talcott were working for E. T. Wade two years ago now, herding sheep. They became anxious to join the army and enlisted at Walla Walla August 9, 1899. They shortly afterwards went to Manila and took part in the campaign, participating in a number of engagements. On June 4, 1900, at Balubad hill, Mr. Lester had the experience of having a bullet from a Mauser pass through his hat, which was too close to be comfortable. When asked if he intended to re-enlist, Mr. Lester said "Oh, no," three times, and added, "I got enough."

PASS HIM ALONG.

A Ballplayer From Spokane Accused of Larceny. City Marshal Missouri John Heathman is in receipt of a letter from H. G. Brown, president of the Spokane professional baseball association, asking in regard to a player named Hartman. The inquiry came on account of the similarity of the professional's name with that of George A. Hartman, Jr., captain of the local team. Mr. Brown states that the professional signed with the Spokane team as Henry Hartman, but was released. When he left, he took away with him a mask, protector, mitt and a pair of baseball shoes, the property of the association, and he wanted to have them sent back or he would cause Hartman's arrest. The Mr. Hartman referred to in the letter has not made himself known in Pendleton, but no man of that character can get a position on the local team if the directors know anything about it.
