THE FISH CATCH IS SMALL

Salmon Prospects Are Not Very Encouraging. Although the fishing season has been in progress on the Columbia for more than a month, the catch thus far has been exceptionally small, and the prospects for the immediate future are not encouraging. Two principal reasons for this are: First, the backward spring has resulted in unusually cold water in the river for this season of the year, and the schools of salmon from the artificially propagated salmon have been during the past few years hatched almost exclusively from the eggs of the fall, and even the August runs, as a result of this, the large runs of fish have been coming later each year, and old fishermen predict that within the next ten days the catches will increase materially. The prices remain the same as at the opening of the season. Seven cents per pound being paid for the large or cold storage fish, and one-half cent for the smaller ones. Seven canneries and four cold storage plants are in operation on the river, but none of them are working over but three-quarters time.

ANOTHER WONDER OF SCIENCE.

Science has proved that dandruff is caused by a germ. Science is doing wonders these days in medicine as well as in mechanics. Since Adam delved, the human race has been troubled with dandruff, for which no hair preparation has heretofore proved a successful cure until Sewer's Herculite as put on the market. It is a scientific preparation that kills the germ that makes dandruff or scurf by digging into the scalp to get at the root of the hair, where it saps the vitality; causing itching scalp, falling hair and finally baldness. Without dandruff hair must grow luxuriantly. Herculite at all druggists. It is the only destroyer of dandruff.

PARDON FOR A LARCENIST

Governor Geer Asked to Free Robert Jordan from the Penitentiary. Salem, May 24.—A strong effort is being made to secure the pardon of Robert Jordan, of Harney county, who is under seven years sentence for grand larceny of a cow. The trial judge, district attorney and jurors agree with the petitioners. Judge Clifford's letter is mystifying to the governor, as he says in substance that the prisoner deserved all he got, but that,

AN ODD FELLOWS' REUNION

R. ALEXANDER PRESIDED AT THE BAKER CITY MEETING.

Grand Lodge Sessions Ended—Rebekahs Elect Officers—Mrs. Barnett, of Athens, Treasurer.

The Odd Fellows' grand lodge and the Rebekahs' state assembly at Baker City completed the business in hand on Thursday evening, Wednesday evening, a reunion was held in the Baker City theatre, R. Alexander presiding. It was an occasion of great pleasure for the 500 or 600 delegates who were there, as is shown by the following reference to it in the Baker City Republican:

"The occasion was the eighth annual reunion of the past grand masters, past grand representatives and past grand patriarchs' association. Tickets had been distributed with a free hand. Most of those present were either members of the order of Odd Fellows and Rebekahs, or interested in those who were. Enthusiasm marked the various efforts, which might be regarded the culmination of a week of celebrations. Baker's elite joined with the visitors in bursts of applause. Taken all together, it will be an event to live in the memory of local citizens. On the stage was gathered the distinguished lights of the domain, together with Mayor Carter and local representatives. R. Alexander presided, and upon either side of him were ranged Grand Lodge officials, Grand Encampment officers and many well known past grand masters and past grand patriarchs. The black-bordered and betwined red fez of the Muscovites were conspicuous in boxes to the left, while the grand officers of the Rebekahs were accorded similar stations of honor on the right."

Grand Master Welch, of the past year, appointed on standing committee, R. Alexander, chairman of finance; G. W. Bradley, of Athens, on per diem and expenses; T. F. Howard, on appeals; Dr. W. T. Williamson, of Salem, formerly of Weston, on state of the order; E. E. Sharon on printing.

Joseph Micelli, of Roseburg, received the plum of grand wardenship, and the position coveted by the several aspirants for chair honors. J. H. Nelson, of McMinville, was elected grand master; Robert Andrews, of Portland, deputy grand master; Joseph N. Micelli, of Roseburg, grand warden; C. L. Palmer, of Baker City, grand representative; E. E. Sharon, of Portland, re-elected grand secretary and Dr. Byron E. Miller, of Portland, re-elected grand treasurer.

The next meeting place of the order will be in Newport, on the Wednesday following the third Monday in May, 1902. Newport captured the prize for a brief contest, in which Portland was the only other competitor.

Baker is highly complimented by having given to one of her esteemed citizens the office of grand representative. Past Grand Master Welch, retiring, was in this race, and sustained defeat at the hands of Mr. Palmer. The most spirited contest was over the office of grand warden, the junior elective position in the chairs. For this there were four candidates, the others being A. J. Johnson, of Seio, J. C. Mills, of Independence and Dr. Pogue, of Ontario.

NORRIS & ROWE'S SHOWS

A Fine Display of Animal Intelligence—A Performance Tonight.

Norris & Rowe's trained animal show gave a most interesting performance, beginning at 2 o'clock this afternoon, and will repeat it this evening at 8, near the O. R. & N. depot. It is a display of animal intelligence that greatly interests the student of natural history and the curious person who cares for the unusual and marvelous. All small boys and measles patients are appointed, and will be made by the president some time during the afternoon or evening, before adjournment. Appointment of district deputies will also be made at the same time.

Indian Woman and Her Sorrow Over Lost Money.

The East Oregonian office have a lady visitor who comes faithfully every day and plaintively asks if her lost purse has been found. She asks not in words, for long since have the articles of the newspaper learned what she seeks, and upon her entering the room, promptly say: "No ketch 'em money. If find 'em, take 'em to Lee Moorhouse." Then the lady sadly departs, with a look indicating intense yearning for that lost money, and an almost suspicion that somehow she is being badly treated. Her faith in the value of advertising is sublime, and is an example for business men who

THE CONDITIONS AT THE MOUTH OF MCKAY CREEK ARE FAVORABLE.

Some Information Regarding Fish and the Subject Generally.

E. C. Greenman, superintendent of the Oregon state fish commission, accompanied by J. C. Bradley and G. A. Brown, returned from Willowa county Wednesday, and spent Thursday in Pendleton, giving valuable information to a number of citizens in regard to propagation of fish. He made a number of important discoveries in Willowa county, among which was the fact that hundreds of thousands of fish are destroyed every year by getting into irrigation ditches and finally getting out onto cultivated land. This state of affairs was particularly noticeable along the Willowa river. The farmers taking out ditches would think only of water for irrigating and would overlook the fish altogether. Mr. Greenman stated that he would notify the owners of ditches, whether private individuals or corporations, to put screens at the headgates of the ditches and not allow the fish to get through, in accordance with law. Other counties of course come under the same law and those who take ditches from Birch, McKay and Meacham creeks, and from the Umatilla, will likewise have to put screens at the headgates.

Pendleton Hatchery

The conditions at the mouth of McKay creek for a hatchery are favorable so far as known. The proposed site for the hatchery is about three miles west of Pendleton. One thing remains to be learned before the hatchery is assured. That is, do a sufficient number of salmon come up the Umatilla river to supply such an institution with eggs for hatching. A rack will be placed across the Umatilla just above where the McKay creek empties into that stream, which will catch all the salmon ascending. It is believed that the result will be perfectly satisfactory.

Blueback Salmon.

Messrs. Greenman, Bradley and Brown brought back with them a number of specimens of the true blueback salmon which had been caught in Willowa lake and river. This was a valuable catch for them, as it proved conclusively that the blueback, which is one of the most valuable of fish for the market, can be successfully propagated in those waters. Mr. Brown left for Portland Thursday night, while Messrs. Greenman and Bradley went on the train this morning to Eastern Washington to investigate the conditions along a number of streams with the intention of putting up a hatchery there. At the last session of the legislature a sum of money was appropriated sufficient and the officers were authorized to establish eight or ten fisheries with Oregon money. The most of them will be put up in this state, but Washington and Idaho may get one or two.
