If it is a failing the standpoint of the strict constructionist.

The word "political" is used here in its generic meaning, and is not intended to convey any suggestion of an unworthy character. The position of the supreme court is that the prevail, ing wishes of the American people shall overweigh the merely technical wordings of the constitution, and that, in determining the intention of the framers of the nation's organic law, it is true that they had not in mind any such particular situations as that which the nation now faces. In the absence of such definite thought in the minds of the makers of the constitution it was the duty of the justices to throw upon congress the responsibility of deciding according to present prevailing views of the whole people. And since congress is, constructively the whole people, the court has virtually left the final determination of the question to the voters of the

CIRCLING THE GLOBE.

When Jules Verne sent Phineas Fogg around the world in eighty days he provided him with a satchel contain-ing $200,000, and had him throw the money away like a crazy broker un-loading Delaware & Hudson stock on blue Thursday. When Fogg missed a liner he bought a tramp steamer. When he missed a train he bought an elephant. Whenever he bought anything he paid two or three times its value. He never stopped to haggle. He raised his bids a thousand pounds at a time without even being asked.
Of course such a trip would be no fair test of the regular capabilities of transportation routes. traveler does not buy tramp steamers and elephants. Therefore, in determining by actual experiment the time required to go around the world by way of the Trans-Siberian railroad the American has accepted the rule that only the regular conveyances shall

Lonely Homes

Yet many homes are childless. Many wives are solate for the lack of a child to love. Their lives are aimless -void of the high motives of motherhood. While barrenness is causing incalculable sadness and sorrow, it exists in most cases on account of some little female trouble, which Wine of Cardul would speedily set right.
This pure Whe regulates the disordered female organs by building up the worn out nerves and regulating the menstrual flow. It restores the fallen womb to its proper place. By strengthening the generative organs, it makes preg-nancy possible where barrenness exists. You

WINEOFCARDU

Suffering women all over the land have been depending on it for seventy-live years. No testimony of Mrs. Benson, who is only one of thousands of women to whom Wine of Cardul has brought a permanent cure. Many cases of miscarriage—that trouble which robs mothers of their hopes—have been avoided by timely use of the Wine. You are asked to try Wine of Cardui and Thedford's Black-Draught, its companion medicine. Nine out of ten cases of female trouble, barrenness included, yield to them. All druggists sell $1.00 bottles of Wine of Cardui.

Last May I had a miscarriage, which was followed by flooding. I read your Almanac and my husband got me a bettle of wine of Cardui and it stopped my flooding and restored my fallen womb to its place. Now I also morning. I am expecting to become a mother to take which I got this morning. I am expecting to become a mother and Wine of Cardui will be my doctor.
