POSTPONEMENT OF BLECTION.

Indians Are Deliberate in Their Movements-a New Proposition.

Ed Brisbow, chief of the Indian police, said on Sunday that the elec-tion of a chief to succeed Young Chief was not likely to be a accomplished for a few days. The cayuses are in-clined to take their time about it, and indulge in more deliberation than marks the Presbyterian general assembly debate over the revision of the creed at Philadelphia.

A new feature of the contest is a proposition to have all the Indians on the Umatilia reservation vote for the successor, the Umatilias and the Walla Wallas, as well as the Cayness. This is opposed by many, on the ground that it would operate permanently to are giving a discount of destroy the autonomy of the tribes, and virtually disfranchise the Cayuses, giving the determining power to the
