PENDLETON BRASS BAND

Organization with Fourteen Members Effected Thursday Night.

The Pendleton brass band has again been imbued with life, thus proving that band organizations are like cats in some regard at least, and that is, in having nine lives. Every time the Pendleton band dies, it lies in state in the minds of the people, but the time it is revived, and, about the time it is revived for burial, someone comes along and applies an electric battery, galvanizing it into life. There are plenty of musicians in Pendleton. The trouble heretofore has been in getting them to stick together. On Thursday evening they met at Dr. C. J. Whitaker's office and banded themselves together agreeing to stick for six months at least. This action insures good music for the months of July festivities and on other occasions when band music is necessary to round out the pleasure of any occasion. Dr. C. J. Whitaker was elected business manager; Joe H. Gibson, secretary; M. A. Rader, treasurer; J. A. Gibson, leader and instructor. As a bandmaster, Mr. Gibson stands in the lead with those of the northwest. He was formerly regimental bandmaster at the Presidio, San Francisco.

Open Air Concerts.
The band will meet for practice on Tuesday evening of each week. Friday evening will be devoted to open air concerts. The first event of that kind will occur on Friday evening, June 7, at the corner of Main and Court streets. It was deemed advisable to hold the concert there, rather than on the court house grounds, for the crowd would be on the streets, and thus more people would enjoy it.

MISREPRESENTS THE MILLS

PENDLETON SCOURING INDUSTRY ON SAME BASIS.

Custom Work This Year Greater Than Ever Before—Wool Soils Very Rapidly.

In the Portland Oregonian of May 28 appeared this reference to scouring mills in an article treating of Pendleton's wool market:
"There has been a sort of evolution in the wool industry that has not been previously noted to any extent. It will be recalled that scouring mills were introduced in the interests of the wool growers. The sheepmen were induced to put up money to aid in the construction of scouring plants. The enterprise proved to be beneficial that steps were immediately taken to counteract the effect of the innovation. By means of the scouring plants the wool-growers were enabled to reap the benefits of shipping only scoured wool, and not paying freight on about 65 pounds of dirt out of every 100 pounds of fleece wool. The manifest advantage of the scouring machine became apparent."
"But the victory was short-lived. The herder in his vine-clad cottage is no match for the strenuous commercial athlete in Boston. The scouring plants soon stopped doing custom work. They had been scouring wool for 1 cent a pound and making money. The wool merchants of the East obtained control of scouring plants in many districts and no more custom scouring was done. The scouring plants now offer to buy wool but not to scour it at any price. When the wool is once bought they then scour their own wool and do the shipping themselves."
"There is a movement on foot among the sheepmen to build scouring plants that have no connection with woolen mills, thus insuring a certain independence and freedom that does not prevail where Eastern factories control absolutely the running of the scouring machines. Wool growers are inclined to take note of a paradoxical condition. The woolen mills of Oregon are running, but are consuming little native wool. They are supplied with shoddy, bought at 5 cents a pound. Even with fleece wool at 10 cents a pound there is a demand for shoddy goods, on which the profit is larger."

Wool Selling Rapidly.
Furthermore, the Oregonian article in question said:
"So far as the wool situation is concerned, there would seem to be nothing of an encouraging nature to offer. The wool market is looked upon as stagnant, with but small hope of improvement in the near future. The history of the past years is filled with discouragements. At the time of the February flurry offers of 15 cents a pound were made, and some of the sheepmen parted with their holdings at that figure. Others among them became headstrong and refused to sell. The advance in price was of short duration, and the continued depression ensued that has left most of the wool in the warehouses."
"Some sales are reported at 10 cents a pound and some at an advance of half a cent. But there is scarcely any wool moving. It can safely be said that nobody is selling wool at 10 cents a pound, who can afford to hold it. That some growers will be forced to part with their wool of last season's clip is a foregone conclusion. Many of them received advances from the banks that run as high as 7 cents a pound. They are paying interest on this money as well as warehouse charges, and they cannot stand the pressure very much longer. The banks are beginning to insist on a sale of some kind, as they deem their security somewhat involved."
"As a matter of fact, wool is selling more readily than it has for years at this time of year. Such buyers as E. Y. Judd, of H. C. Judd & Koot, Hartford, Conn., Charles Green, of Koshland & Co., Boston and San Francisco, Frank Lee, and other prominent buyers, have made extensive purchases, finding woolmen more inclined to sell than was expected when the season opened. Mr. Judd has bought 2,000,000 pounds, and the others large quantities."

NICE HAIR FOR ALL.
Once Destroy the Dandruff Germ, and Hair Grows Luxuriantly.
Any one can have nice hair if he or she has not dandruff, which causes brittle, dry hair, falling hair and baldness. To cure dandruff it is necessary to kill the germ that causes it, and that is just what Newbro's Herpicide does. Cornelius Grew, Colfax, Wash., says:
"One bottle of Herpicide completely cured me of dandruff, which was very thick; and it has stopped my hair from falling out." It makes hair soft and glossy as silk; delightful odor and refreshing hair dressing. It will positively make hair grow abundantly, and kills the dandruff germ."

OREGON'S EXHIBIT IS FINE.
Tassey Stewart Says So in a Letter From Buffalo.
Buffalo, N. Y., May 27.—To the East Oregonian.—We will leave here in a few days and journey on towards our old home. We have been here three weeks, most of the time it has been stormy, either wind or rain, although we have had several very pleasant days to attend the exposition. The pleasantest of all was the second opening day, the 20th inst. Although the grounds and buildings were not all in readiness, a great many were present. We were much pleased to see Oregon so well represented. Our timber display is most beautiful, and far exceeds any on the ground. In the agricultural building we stand equal to any of the states, and have loaned to some to help in the building. In the horticultural building everything is most beautiful, and we were pleased to see such a display of Oregon fruit and to hear our state so highly spoken of by all who viewed the exhibit.

Last Friday, the 24th, was the queen's day, and, although it was cool and damp, a great many attended the exhibit. Canada honored the day to the fullest extent. Canada has a most beautiful exhibit in the agricultural building. The mineral display is beautiful from almost all points of view. It will be the 20th of June before the buildings are all complete. Buffalo is to have a grand Fourth of July and it is one of the places that can do justice to the day, as here is the grandest electrical display in the world. TASSEY STEWART.

Tot Causes Night Alarm.
"One night my brother's baby was taken with croup," writes Mrs. J. C. Snider, of Crittenden, Ky., "it seemed it would strangle before we could get a doctor, so we gave it Dr. King's New Discovery, which gave quick relief and permanently cured it. We always keep it in the house to protect our children from croup and whooping cough. It cured me of a chronic bronchitis trouble that no other remedy would relieve." Infallible for coughs, colds, throat and lung troubles, 50c and $1. Trial bottles free at Tallman & Co.s.

WESTON'S ACTIVITIES.

Lumber Output—Normal School and Some Surveying.
The Weston Leader says: J. C. Oldham, the veteran bookkeeper at Fletcher's mill, was down Saturday and reports much activity in the Weston mountain lumber industry. The output averages over 20,000 feet per day, and there is a half-million feet of lumber in the yard, stacked in piles as high as a two-story brick. About thirty men are now employed. The season promises to prove the most favorable and prosperous that the mill has ever enjoyed.

It is altogether worth while for citizens interested in educational work, and parents particularly, to pay a visit to the Eastern Oregon state normal school building while the present exhibit lasts. This visit could be made at any time, but perhaps would be more convenient after school hours. They will see in the downstairs rooms an admirable display of the work of the children of the training department, and of Mrs. Washburn's pupils in drawing.

J. W. Kimbrell, the Pendleton surveyor, was up for several days last week determining the lines of an old government survey in the foothills three miles east of town. It is found that on the east side of the township line the survey is entirely incorrect, and represents an amount of land on paper that has no existence in fact. Parties holding patents have much less land than the descriptions call for. Among those interested are Moses Taylor, Sam Caplinger and A. J. Templeton, each of whom is minus more or less land, the total shortage being over 200 acres, it is said. The government survey, of course, will have to stand, and they have concluded to make the best of it.

Weston Social Items.
Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Benefield received an unexpected and very welcome visit Sunday from Mr. and Mrs. James H. Hall, who reside on the Nez Perce reservation in Idaho. Mrs. Hall is a sister of Mr. Benefield, whom he had not seen for twelve years, and their meeting was mutually pleasant. Twenty years ago or more Mr. and Mrs. Hall lived in this vicinity, and are remembered by old residents. They are on their way to visit their children in Morrow county, and remained but a short time.

Mr. O. M. Castleman and Miss Bertha M. Willaby were united in marriage Wednesday, May 29, at Athena. Mr. Castleman is a popular young druggist, formerly of Milton, who is now located at La Grande. Miss Willaby is the daughter of W. P. Willaby, of Athena. She has many friends at Weston, where she was graduated from the normal, and has successfully taught in the public school. Mr. and Mrs. Castleman begin their married life with the best wishes of all who know them.

W. D. Fenton, a prominent attorney of Portland, was in Weston Tuesday with Mrs. Fenton, on a short visit with relatives while returning from Walla Walla, where they were the guests of Mr. and Mrs. Levi Ankeny. Mr. Fenton is a nephew of Henry Pinkerton, of this city, and renewed acquaintance with his Weston cousins.

Miss Margaret Proebstel and Miss Pearl Willis entertained the ladies of Weston yesterday with an afternoon tea, at the residence of Mr. and Mrs. G. W. Proebstel, under the auspices of the Ladies' Guild.

Mr. and Mrs. E. D. Weaver were in the city from Pendleton Sunday. Mr. Weaver's mother, who has been ill at her home in this city, accompanied them on their return.

Miss Omi Estes, of Walla Walla, has been visiting Mr. and Mrs. H. B. Nelson at their home in this city. Miss Estes was formerly a student at the normal school.

A Deep Mystery.
It is a mystery why women endure backache, headache, nervousness, sleeplessness, melancholy, fainting and dizzy spells when thousands have proved that Electric Bitters will quickly cure such troubles. "I suffered for years with kidney troubles," writes Mrs. Phoebe Chirey, of Peterson, Ia., "and a lame back pained me so I could not dress myself, but Electric Bitters wholly cured me, and, although 73 years old, I now am able to do all my household work." It overcomes constipation, improves appetite, gives perfect health. Only 50c at Tallman & Co.'s drug store.

SOME MAYORALTY CANDIDATES.

Walla Walla Has Several Aspirants Who Want the Office.

Jacob Betz will not give way to Fred Pauly in the race for mayor. Both will be in the contest. A petition for the nomination of Pauly was in circulation yesterday, and one for Mayor Betz will soon be in circulation. They will not have the race all to themselves. There is little doubt that G. W. Babcock will postpone his trip to Europe until he has made an effort to capture the title of mayor and several other estimable gentlemen are only waiting for a little encouragement to announce themselves as candidates. Councilman J. E. McLean does not say that he will or that he won't but he makes some mysterious remarks about what he may do if he takes a notion. His son Richard is a candidate for city assessor, and this may be the result of a shrewd move to keep the elder McLean out of the race for mayor. But even if father and son should capture both offices the combined salaries would not make them plutocrats.

If people only knew what we know about Kodol Dyspepsia Cure it would be used in nearly every household, as there are few people who do not suffer from a feeling of fullness after eating, belching, flatulence, sour stomach or water brash, caused by indigestion or dyspepsia. A preparation such as Kodol Dyspepsia Cure, which, with no aid from the stomach, will digest your food, certainly can't help but do you good. Tallman & Co.
