ECZEMA.

That torturing and disfiguring disease has its cause in an impure condition of the blood. The impure condition of the blood often arises from a diseased condition of the stomach and allied organs of digestion and nutrition. When digestion is imperfect, the nutrition of the body is inadequate to its needs. The blood becomes thin, poisons accumulate in it, and these poisons often manifest themselves in some eruptive disease.

Doctor Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery cures diseases of the stomach and other organs of digestion and nutrition. It eliminates poisonous substances from the blood, purifying it and increasing its quantity and richness. The "Discovery" cures perfectly diseases which originate in a diseased condition of the stomach.

The "Discovery" is absolutely a non-alcoholic and non-narcotic medicine. There is nothing "just as good."

"For three years I have suffered with that dreaded disease, eczema," writes Mrs. J. E. Jones of Meroux, Oregon. "I was told to try Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery which I did, and after I had taken fourteen bottles I was permanently cured. It has been a year since I stopped taking your medicine and has never appeared since. I think your medicine was a wonderful cure and hope others suffering as I did will take it and be relieved of their suffering."

Doctor Pierce's Pleasant Pellets are powerful aids to the cleansing of the clogged system. By all dealers in medicine.

WOOL IS NOW FLOWING INTO PENDLETON

All Warehouses Are Filled to Capacity.

IT BREAKS ALL PREVIOUS RECORDS

Not Less Than 4,000,000 Pounds Have Been Bought by the Buyers Operating Here.

The amount of wool coming to Pendleton at present has never before been equalled. The warehouses of the Pendleton wool scouring mills, as well as those of W. J. Furnish, are chock-a-block. There are nine cars on the railroad sidetrack at the mill awaiting their turn to have their contents transferred to the warehouses and mills for scouring. The same situation is presented at Furnish's warehouse. They can scarcely take care of the wool as it comes in. Pendleton this year, more than in any previous year, is drawing upon Eastern Washington, Northern Idaho, and the extreme eastern portion of Oregon, of which Huntington is the center, for wool.

Wool From Other Points.

Wool keeps coming in also from Morrow and Gilliam counties. There it is a steady stream of shipments from Arlington, in the latter county. It is estimated that 4,000,000 pounds of wool has already been purchased in Pendleton this season, 75 per cent of which has brought from 9½ to 10½c. A big percentage of Umatilla county wool brings 10 to 10½c. The heavy wools, with plenty of sand in them, from lower Butter creek, sell at about 8c.

Scouring Mills Rushed.

The Pendleton scouring mills are being operated to their full capacity day and night. The largest force of men is at work that has ever been seen around the establishment, and a few more good reliable men could be used in the sorting department. The mills handle 40,000 pounds every 24 hours, in the grease, which turns out on an average 10,000 pounds of scoured wool.

THE ASSISTANT PAYMASTER

Major George Arthur Dies in a Cleveland Hotel.

Cleveland, June 6.—Major George Arthur, assistant paymaster of the United States, son of H. M. Arthur, chief of the Brotherhood of Engineers, died suddenly at the Weddell house this morning. He walked in at 2 o'clock, sat in an office chair, fell asleep, and, later, when the clerk attempted to awaken him, blood gushed from his mouth. Physicians said it looked like poison had been given, but apparently there is no indication of foul play, as Arthur had his watch, money and diamonds. Recently he returned from the Philippines, where he spent 2 years as paymaster.

An autopsy showed that death resulted from a blow received on the head in a fight in the Philippines when a number of drunken soldiers attacked a detail that was guarding the money box.

A VERY SMOOTH FAKIR.

How Portland People Poured Out Their Silver Dollars.

A smooth-tongued fakir took about $125 out of a crowd last night at Sixth and Washington streets, gave the dupes nothing in return, and got safely away on the 8:30 train for San Francisco. The fakir was a well dressed young fellow, and he had a far-reaching, persuasive voice that would have made an auctioneer envious.

At the outset he got a crowd around him by telling the men what good fellows they were, and that he was there to give them something for nothing, and incidentally to sell "spoons and corn-salve."

"See these spoons?" he went on. "Now, these are not silver, but good judges tell me the spoons will last longer than silver ones. Have a few. Nothing then, this corn-salve, it is warranted—" and he gave away exactly four samples of corn-salve. Then he sold a silver dollar for 80 cents, and four bits for 35 cents, and smaller sums in proportion. Various men pressed forward and gave him silver coins, and he said he would reward the coin "in a minute."

"To show the scuffers in this crowd how many of you will give me one dollar?" he went on. He held out his hat, a shower of dollars dropped into it, and he gave his card to each donor. "Perfectly satisfied, boys?" he inquired.

"You bet," came from the crowd.

"When I met you first, I told you; was a mesmerist, and that I would make a boy disappear, in your presence, in two minutes," the fakir proceeded. Excitement ran high, as the fakir said: "Step up, boys," and a boy came forward.

"Step into this carriage," commanded the fakir, motioning to a carriage nearby. The boy jumped in, and so did the fakir.

"Go ahead, driver. Good-by gentlemen. In two minutes we're gone," yelled the fakir, and away the horses tore down Sixth.

The police were notified, and it was ascertained that the fakir had carried a regular hawk's license. The victims looked at one another, laughed, and sneaked away, telling on-lookers to see to it that the store did not get into the newspapers. Inquiry at the terminal depot showed that the fakir had boarded the California train.

IDAHO PARDON HAS POLITICAL POSSIBILITY

Paul Corcoran Asks Release From Prison.

WAS IN THE COEUR D'ALENE RIOTS

Miners Take a Hand and Will Present a Monster Petition to the State Pardoning Board.

Boise, Idaho, June 6.—Special.—Paul Corcoran, the most noted inmate of the Idaho penitentiary, has given notice, in accordance with the state law governing pardons, that he will on July 3 apply to the state board of pardons, which consists of Governor Hunt, Secretary of State Bassett, and Attorney-General Martin, for a full pardon. He is serving sentence of 17 years for murder in the second degree.

Corcoran's trial and conviction grew out of the riots in the Coeur d'Alene, which were the precursors of the establishment of martial law in that section of Idaho. Briefly, the facts are: On the 20th of April, 1899, eight hundred or a thousand armed men, from the towns of Burke, Gem, Mullan and Wallace, proceeded to Warden, destroyed the mill of the Bunker Hill & Sullivan mining company, and killed James Cheyne, a mill man. Some friction had existed between the mining company and the miners' union since 1892, but the immediate cause of the difficulty was the demand that the employees of the Bunker Hill & Sullivan company should join the union and the refusal of the company to employ union men.

He Was One of the Shooters.

Paul Corcoran, financial secretary of the Burke union, was arrested, together with three or four hundred others engaged in the riot. Evidence was shortly produced showing that Corcoran was one of the firing party that killed Cheyne, he being identified by Mrs. Ida Sinclair as the person who refused to help her carry the murdered man, Cheyne, to her home. Corcoran was indicted and tried in July, 1899, for murder. He was found guilty of murder in the second degree, and sentenced to seventeen years in the state penitentiary.

His counsel asked the state supreme court for a writ of habeas corpus, but the request was denied. An appeal was then taken, various errors of law being alleged, but the judgment of the lower court was again affirmed. An attempt was made which was unsuccessful to obtain a writ of error from the supreme court of the United States.

Owing to the great expense of a trial and the difficulty of obtaining a jury, none of the other men arrested for complicity in the crime were tried.

Since his incarceration, Corcoran has been a model prisoner, obeying all the rules and regulations of the prison and conducting himself in a very creditable manner. The question of his pardon may take a political or partisan turn, as the present state administration has abolished martial law in the Coeur d'Alene, and was supported at the polls by the miners' union, which is preparing an immense petition asking for Corcoran's release.

A RIGHT OF WAY SECURED

Powder River Canal to Be Constructed Next Year.

Baker City, June 6.—Right of way was finally secured today by the Rock Creek & Powder River Irrigation company, a local concern for a distribution canal five miles in length. This canal is surveyed from Rock Creek to a large tract of land between 6000 and 6000 acres area, south of the village of Haines, in this valley. It is announced by the management that work is soon to commence on the canal, which will carry 280 inches of water. The sections of land to be irrigated are fertile when watered, and well adapted to cultivation. It is not the intention to construct the canal in time for use this year. A storage reservoir is contemplated in connection with the enterprise, and will not be undertaken until after completion of the canal.

Beauty is Health.

Wainut Lake, Ark., June 3, 1900.

I thank you for the booklet received from your advice and the Wine of Cardui took in my terrible condition. My life was no pleasure to me at all and I was of no use to anybody. After receiving your advice and medicine I commenced taking it and began immediately to improve. The pains left me and the menses, which came at the correct time, continued three days. I have gained strength and my weight has increased. My husband says the medicine has made me better looking than ever before.

Mrs. J. E. HANSELL.

Womanly health means bright eyes, rosy cheeks, clear complexion and elasticity of form. This is the youth unmeasured by years—the beauty of perfect womanhood. Beautiful women are happier and get more out of life than their sisters whose faces indicate suffering.

Wine of Cardui made Mrs. Hansell "better looking" and infinitely happier because it cures all of these terrible pains. But she has more.

WINE OF CARDUI

is giving thousands of women health, beauty and freedom from the dragging pains which make their lives so miserable. Was faces, haggard eyes and emaciated forms are the results of suffering. What suffering, in comparison with the torture of irregular menstruation, leucorrhoea and falling of the womb! Beauty flees quickly before the ravages of such disease. The sharp pains of falling of the womb deepen the crow tracks in the forehead. Menstrual irregularities rob the eye of its fire and the complexion of its transparency. Leucorrhoea drains the body of its strength, and Wine of Cardui restores the natural beauty, brightens the eye, cleans the complexion, rounds out the figure and brings back the vigor of health. Every druggist in this city handles $1.00 bottles of Wine of Cardui.

For address and literature, address, giving name, "The Carter Medicine Dispensary," The Chamberlain, Boston, Mass.
