Brief Biography of Black Hern. Black Horn is the Indian who was accused a little over a year ago of killing Wipe-sha and placing his on the O. R. & N. track near Mission station to indicate that he had been killed by the train. He was acquitted owing to lack of evidence, although opinion was strong against him. He is the son of the famous medicine man, Smo-halla, who long since passed on-ward to the happy hunting grounds, the Indian heaven. John Something, whose real name is unknown, is a Lapwai Indian from the Yakima agency, and has been a guest of Black Horn at the Umatilla agency.

Smohalia's Ghost Dance. Smobalia, father of Wipesha, once very potent throughout the Pacific Northwest states. He invented common to all indians. It purported to be efficacious in conjuring the Great Spirit to come in war array and lead the Indians to victory over the whites. The ghost dance spread to all western tribes and gave much trouble to the federal authorities.
