J. J. M'COOK IS WANTED

James Crawford has returned home after an absence of eight weeks attending the Pennsylvania general assembly at Philadelphia, visiting relatives at Swicksburg, Pa., inspecting the Pan-American exposition at Buffalo and sightseeing at New York, Washington, D. C., Chicago, and elsewhere. He had a splendid time. Mrs. Crawford and Miss Mandle Crawford, who accompanied Mr. Crawford on his eastern trip, stopped off at Spokane to remain for a few weeks visiting with Mrs. Burns, at Elwood.

PENDLETON BUSINESS MEN BILKED OF $710.

A Military Man, With a Penchant for Gambling and An Inordinate Thirst for High Priced Wine. A man with a military bearing and plenty of nerve appeared at the Hotel Pendleton on Saturday evening, June 15, and registered as "J. J. McCook," "S. A." He liked the town and did business in his own peculiar way while here. It was quickly learned that he had to "play the high card," and he played it—likewise a number of other things and persons. He claimed to be Captain McCook, and had in his possession a check from the quartermaster's department at the Presidio, San Francisco, for $150, which he wanted to get cashed. He called upon William Fitzgerald, the foot and shoemaker, who had been the captain in 1868, when he was a captain in the 10th cavalry, U. S. A. Fitzgerald introduced him at the First National bank, and the check was cashed. The captain was genial and convivial. He borrowed money right and left, in sums of $50 and $100, and ran his bills high enough to make a soldierman stagger. He made one lasting impression on the town, and that was with all the money obtained, even if he had had out any considerable portion of it.

Charles Graves, a porter at Billy Kruse's barber shop, says he saw Captain McCook at Fort Assiniboine, Minn. at that time was on a base of operations, being at the head of K troop, 10th cavalry. Mr. Graves says he saw this man in Pendleton who claims to be Captain McCook and there is a great resemblance between the two, but he cannot swear that they are the same.

The total amount obtained by the captain in Pendleton was $710, as shown by the necessary figures. Mr. Fitzgerald says he was not personally acquainted with Captain McCook, but does not see how he obtained the check from the quartermaster, if he is not the man he represents to be.

Wanted Elsewhere. It is reported that this same man has recently victimized the people of Portland, Spokane and Riverview, and came here from the scenes of his thievery. The officials here had not been advised of his activities, however, so the man had a free field in which to work, and he left a swath as broad as that behind a 22-foot combine in a ripe field of wheat.

A Warrant Sworn Out. A warrant was sworn out and placed in the hands of Sheriff Blakeley. The officials are hot on his trail. Officers of nearby counties have been notified and it is not unreasonable to suppose that he will be captured and brought back. McCook was last seen in Pendleton on Tuesday, June 18, between 7 and 8 o'clock in the morning.

Mr. Boynton is taking his string of horses to Montana where they will make the circuit, opening at Butte on June 28. He will exercise the horses on the Simpson track for a week and ship them by rail on Tuesday, June 25.

James Crawford has returned home

James Crawford has returned home after an absence of eight weeks attending the Pennsylvania general assembly at Philadelphia, visiting relatives at Swicksburg, Pa., inspecting the Pan-American exposition at Buffalo and sightseeing at New York, Washington, D. Rev. W. H. Bleakney, formerly a member of the faculty of the Pendleton academy, has returned from a six weeks' trip to Pennsylvania and other eastern states. He says times are good back there, coal, gas and iron interests being particularly active. Mrs. Bleakney, who has been at Moro, Sherman county, during the absence of her husband, will arrive on this evening's train. Rev. Bleakney will be pastor of a church at Elgin during the summer, after which he may again go into the educational work. Mr. and Mrs. Bleakney will leave for Elgin within a few days.

THE HEPPNER BAND HIRED

FUND TO BE INCREASED $250 OR $300. Many Visitors Expected to Come From That Town on the Fourth of July.

The band organization of Heppner will be here on the Fourth of July to assist in making the celebration a success. The band was employed because the prospect seemed to be good that many Heppner people would come here on the Fourth, accompanying the baseball team that had been entered as one of the four teams to compete in the three-day tournament beginning on the fourth and continuing through the fifth and sixth. The committee of arrangements and the director, J. E. Krause, believe that the Heppner team and band will bring with them a large number of people from that town and the country will be true of Athena. The ball team and band there have many loyal supporters who will desire to accompany them and "root" for them during the three days' tournament.

Celebration Notes. There will be a dance on the platform on the night of July 3, the music to be furnished by six pieces of the Pendleton orchestra. This will be the opening of Pendleton three days' celebration.

The morning parade will be unique and the largest ever witnessed in a town in Eastern Oregon. The participants in the illuminated parade at night. Prizes will be awarded to the best displays.

There will be two days of sports and three days of baseball.

Ellis presiding, a jury having been impaneled. John McCourt is attorney for the plaintiff and James A. Fee for the defendants.
