THURSDAY, JUNE 20, 1901.
SEASIDE SUMMER SCHOOL.
Will be held at Newport July 17 to August 14.
Messrs. Conklin and Nowlin wished they had carried out their original idea of the morning to take a 30-30 rifle along with them. At a distance of perhaps one hundred yards they saw a huge cinnamon bear, and it didn't see them, consequently they had a good opportunity to study a zoological specimen in its wild state and native habitat. The bear looked around and walked around as though on exhibition in a circus. Its movements indicated that it had not been practicing any particular system of physical culture to give it grace. It apparently scented the fresh fish in the baskets of the fishermen and it started toward them. Mr. Nowlin said: "It's coming this way. What will we do?" Mr. Conklin answered the question laconically by saying: "If it insists on it, we will give it the fish." It did not come close enough to ask for the fish and finally turned and started off toward the field. The fishermen went on home and told Messrs. Cherry and Link what an experience they had had. The next morning the four got several good hunting dogs, or dogs that were supposed to be good for that purpose, went to where they had seen the bear, and started on its trail. The dogs were unable to locate the big brute, consequently any one with a desire to hunt a cinnamon bear is notified to go to Meadow creek and "take a crack" at this one.

WHEAT AND WOOL MARKET

ACTIVE DEMAND FOR WOOL AND MANY SALES.
There is Nothing New in the Wheat Situation, the Market Being Weak.
Pendleton, June 20.—For strictly fine and staple wool the demand is good and the market active. For medium wools, off in color, the demand is not so good and the market is quiet. If wool keeps moving as the shearing season will all have been sold by the first of July. Quotations remain at 7 1/2 to 10 1/2 c.
Big Sale at Shantiko.
There were 12 wool buyers present at Shantiko on Wednesday, June 19, and 1,000,000 pounds of wool changed hands. The wool was from about 20 different growers, and most of it brought 12 to 12 1/2 c., although some of it went for considerably less than that. All the buyers got some of it. There were a great many different lots of wool, and the buyers submitted sealed bids on each lot. The Baldwin Sheep and Land company was the largest seller, disposing of between 600,000 and 700,000 pounds.
Local Produce Market.
Pendleton dealers are paying the following prices for ranch and farm produce:
Butter, 30 to 35c per roll.
Eggs—15c per doz.
Turkeys—Alive, 12 1/4c per pound.
Geese—12c per dozen.
Ducks—44.50 per dozen.
Chickens—45.50 to $1.50 per dozen.
Potatoes—$1.75 to $2 per sack.
New potatoes are just coming into the market, being brought in by local farmers. Dealers are paying 2 1/2c per pound and selling them for 3c.
The Wheat Market.
Pendleton, June 20.—Wheat has dropped off a half cent in the local market during the past week and is quoted at 49 1/2c for No. 1 club and redchaff delivered at the mills, and 48c at outside warehouses. All the eastern and foreign markets are considerably lower and there is not much of an indication for any considerable advance in the near future.
Wheat in Portland.
Portland, June 20.—The Commercial Review, in its issue today, says of the wheat market for the past week: Small quantities of wheat from east of the mountains are coming down daily. The export demand is over, and what little business now doing is for milling account, as the export trade foreign for the cereal year ends with June. Millers are the only buyers now, and if reports from the interior are reliable, much higher prices have to be paid than could possibly be obtained from exporters. Offerings are small, considering the amount of wheat still held in the country warehouses. Interest now centers in news from different sections as to the growing crops, and in prices at the option of the new season. As to the former, there is some report of injury by frost. Opinions of people directly connected with the trade are at variance as to injury actually done. The question of prices is a very uncertain one; present indications are decidedly in favor of a low range of values, but a chilly month will elapse before harvesting will begin, it is rather early to speculate on what the market may be then. Fuller advices as to the world's supply and requirements will be available, and the trade generally will be able to judge with some degree of accuracy the approximate value of wheat in all countries. Quotations locally are: For club wheat, 60c; bluestem, 62c per bushel.

and upwards, 14 to 15c; dry kip, No. 1, 5 to 16 pounds, 14 to 15c per pound; dry calf No. 1, sound steers, 60 pounds and over, 7 to 8c; do, 50 to 60 pounds, 7 to 7 1/2c; do, under 50 pounds, 6 1/2 to 7c; kip, 10 to 40 pounds, 7c; do calf, under 10 pounds, 7 to 8c; green (unsalted), 1c per pound less; culls, (bulls, stags, motheaten, badly cut, scored, hair-slipped, weather-beaten or grubby), one-third less.

THE WESTON NEIGHBORHOOD

Mrs. Orpha Ivey, of Moscow, Idaho, who is visiting at the home of Mr. and Mrs. S. W. Road, is seriously ill with lung trouble.

NURSES GRADUATE.
Among Them Miss Carrie Anderson of Pendleton.
Eleven nurses were graduated Monday evening from the training school of Good Samaritan hospital in Portland. The exercises were held in the lecture-room of the Oregon Medical college and were attended by a large number of friends of the graduates, who fairly showered them with handsome bouquets of flowers.
The graduates who won their diplomas are: Miss Margaret Baird, Miss Eleanor K. Baird, Miss Matilda J. Muckle of St. Helens, Or.; Mrs. Elenor K. Baird, of Sag Harbor, L. I.; Miss Anna A. See, of Anacortes, Wash., and Miss Edith M. Barnett, of Tacoma, Wash.
The Smart Salem Girl.
You can't beat a Salem girl, says the Salem Statesman. One of the smart guys who came to Salem with the excursion last Sunday was talking with a belle of the Capital City and endeavored to tease her on religious questions by asking her if she believed the story of Jonah and the whale. "I don't know," she said, "but when I get to heaven I'll ask Jonah if it occurred." "But," said the funny man, "supposing he isn't there?" "Then," said the girl promptly, "you can ask him."

UNBEARABLE ITCHING

Felt It Would Be a Relief to Tear Skin From Back. Cured by CUTICURA.
I had a breaking out all over my back. The itching was almost unbearable, and at times I felt that it would be a relief to tear the skin off my back. I tried doctors' prescriptions, and several remedies, without any relief. I read of CUTICURA, and decided to give it a trial. After three applications, my back quit itching, and by the time I had used a box of CUTICURA, the itching had entirely disappeared.
