LEANDER ROWERS ARE VICTORIOUS

Win the Cup Race From the Americans.

PLENTY OF MONEY CHANGED HANDS

Pennsylvanians Started in the Lead, But Could Not Maintain It—An Ovation to the Winners.

Henley, July 5.—The Leander crew won the grand challenge cup race from the University of Pennsylvania by a length in seven minutes flat.

English crews are unanimous in the opinion that the American method accounted for the Pennsylvania's defeat.

The victory of the Leanders is the ninth successive time they have taken the cup. Excellent weather drew thousands to the course for the final day's racing. The Americans were everywhere in evidence. Both the crews were in fit condition. There was plenty of American money put, placed generally at even terms. In some instances they required odds. The Pennsylvania got away first and two lengths from start led by three yards. The English crew put on a spurt and at the halfway mark was in front. Maintaining a steady stroke, the Leanders continued to increase their lead, and just as the finish was reached pulled clear, winning by an even length. The Pennsylvanians seemed done up, but the coach denied that any of them had collapsed, as was stated after the race was over. There was great enthusiasm over Leander's win, the demonstrations lasting for some time.

WM. J. BRYAN'S SENTIMENTS

Sent to Tammany Hall White Celebrating Independence Day.

New York, July 5.—Tammany hall held its regular Independence Day celebration, at which the Declaration of Independence was read and speeches were made by Governor Jennings, of Florida, and other leaders of the democratic party. A letter from William J. Bryan was read, in which he said:

"In response to your request for a sentiment appropriate for the occasion, I beg to suggest the following:

"Liberty is not safe without a written constitution, and a constitution to be of value must be strong enough to control every public servant and broad enough to include within its protection every person who acknowledges allegiance to the flag."

Good Boys

Are the lad boys very often. The boy that's good for anything is generally pugnacious. He's a healthy animal, and the healthy animal will always fight for his rights.

When a boy shuns the rough sports of his companions he is apt to be a weakling, and to be conscious of the fact.

It was completed a few days ago and the removal of the remains was accomplished in secret.

BOTH PARTIES STAND PAT

Amalgamators and Steel Labor Officials Come to No Agreement.

Pittsburg, July 5.—In the negotiations between the officials of the Amalgamated association and those of the Steel Trust labor officials they have decided to do nothing rash, but they have also taken a stand, and, according to what can be learned, not a single backward step will be taken by either of them. LATEST PHASE OF MINERS' STRIKE

No Further Bloodshed Expected at the Smuggler-Union.

THREE KILLED AND TEN WOUNDED

Company Agreed to Withdraw Men From the Mine Until the Strike is Settled.

Origin of the Fight.

Denver, July 5.—The latest news from Telluride in regard to the trouble at Smuggler-Union mine is to the effect that no further bloodshed is feared, as the company has agreed to withdraw all men from the mine except a few watchmen, and to make no effort to resume work until the strike is amicably settled and officially declared off. Three men were killed and at least 10 wounded in the battle which occurred Wednesday between 150 armed men and a force of miners and deputies at the mine.

Killed: John Barthel, miner, one of the attacking party; George Nicholson, shift boss at the mine; J. Logan, Mexican, employed as trapper in the mine.

The men employed in the mine, numbering 100, were driven over the range into Ouray county and warned never to return to Telluride or San Miguel county.

As near as can be learned the fight was precipitated at the Sheridan tunnel, which is about three-quarters of a mile above the Ballistic tunnel through which the mines are worked, and where the principal boarding and bunk houses and other buildings and the upper terminal of the main tramway are located.

A number of union miners went up to a point near these places and sent a man with a message to the men working with William Jordan to the effect that if they would stop work and come down the hill there would be no trouble. In response to this message the union men were fired on, resulting in the instant killing of Barthel, Jordan and his crew then sought refuge in an old tunnel and it was while running for its mouth that Jordan was shot through the hips. At about 11 o'clock an opportunity was offered for bringing Jordan to town by an old and unused trail, all other avenues to the basin being strongly guarded by the union men. The firing gradually worked down to Bullion tunnel.
