SUNDAY CLOSING CASES DECIDED

Walla Walla Convicted, White Dayton Acquitted.

QUESTION IS AS TO THE LAW

Constitutionality Has Been Attacked—Also Defense Alleges Statute is Invalid Because Repealed.

Walla Walla, July 25.—James Casey is guilty of violating the Sunday closing law by keeping open a drinking saloon on July 14, as far as the courts of Walla Walla county are concerned. In the superior court in chambers session yesterday morning Judge Thomas H. Brents, in the hearing of the habeas corpus proceedings instituted by Mr. Casey, sustained the decision of the justice court in finding the defendant guilty.

Notice of appeal to the supreme court was at once given in both the case of Casey and of Adolph Schwarz, also found guilty in the justice court of violating the closing law.

The contention of the defense in the hearing yesterday was that the law was unconstitutional and not valid from the fact that it was repealed by an act of the legislature passed in 1873.

The statute relative to the closing of certain places of business, including saloons, was passed by the territorial legislature in 1855 and a fine of not less than $30 or more than $250 was provided in case of violation. In 1873 an act was passed which repealed this law. In 1881 the legislature authorized the compilation of a code of the laws of the territory then in effect. Judge Brents holds that the act of 1873, the compiler in arranging the code, placed in it the old Sunday closing law, repealed in 1873.

The state legislature, by an act passed in 1891, saw fit to accept the statute, although previously repealed, and not belonging in the code. By this Judge Brents holds that the act is law. "The case has been appealed to the supreme court," said Judge Brents, "and I am anxious to see what will be done by that body in regard to the matter."

"The fixing of the fine by the justice of the peace in the case where trial by jury was held was no doubt irregular, but if the defendants so desire I can call a new jury and have a rehearing of the case. Then I will impose the fine."

Dayton Decided Otherwise.

Dayton, Wash., July 25.—A special to the Union says: The jury in the case of the state of Washington vs. Charles Booker, charged with operating a business on Sunday in violation of the laws governing the actions and conduct of business in this state, brought in a verdict of not guilty at 12:20 this morning, after deliberating two hours. Prosecuting Attorney Brown gave notice of appeal from the decision of the justice court which now discharges the prisoner. The defense was on the grounds that the law was contrary to the constitution of the state. The jurors who rendered the decision, which, if sustained in the higher courts, will permit of open houses on Sunday were the following: W. H. Van Lew, Eli Tompkins, C. E. Cantrel, John Knox, K. J. Rosqui and H. Kendall.

This decision is of great importance to the business men of this county, as it virtually means that the fight to prevent the sale of goods and liquor on Sunday has been a losing one in Dayton. The verdict is very much at variance with the opinions held by many people and notably by the members of the W. C. T. U., who first instituted the movement and among the several hundred persons who waited up until the jury reached a verdict there were several who announced that it could not stand in the higher courts. This remains to be seen. The outcome of similar cases in Walla Walla had led to the belief that a fine would be imposed.

DROUTH WAS PARTLY BROKEN

Welcome Rains Fell in Several States.

IOWA WAS QUITE WELL DRENCHED

St. Louis Had Some Hot Weather, But Relief Came About Noon, When the Temperature Cooled.

Chicago, July 25.—Reports received this morning indicate that the great drouth has been broken in at least one state in the corn belt, Iowa; and that some relief has come to Nebraska, Northern Illinois, the Dakotas, Southern Minnesota and Michigan. In Iowa last night and this morning, heavy rain fell and the corn that survived the week of hot, dry weather is safe unless such another unprecedented period comes on. The Western Nebraska corn belt is safe. Dispatches were received here this morning saying that heavy rain had fallen throughout that section.

Rainfall was also reported in portions of Texas and Kentucky.

Ice in Big Demand.

Chicago, July 25.—Chicago is being deluged with orders for ice from the drouth-stricken regions of the west and southwest. The dealers in those sections telegraph their orders without asking the price, apparently being concerned only with the time in which their demands can be satisfied. It is estimated that from 30 to 40 cars of ice are being shipped out of Chicago daily, which is a larger amount than ever before in the history of the trade. Thus far the prices have not been advanced, and the manufacturers decline to discuss the possibilities of the future.

"I never saw such a demand for ice," said President J. S. Field of the Knickerbocker ice company. "The unexpected demand comes from the southern cities which we supposed to be fully supplied by the artificial ice companies. They have found the intense heat prevents them from turning out their full capacity."

ST. LOUIS AGAIN SUFFERS

Death Record Today Greater Than That of Wednesday.

St. Louis, July 25.—Another day of intense heat confronts St. Louis, and yesterday's record of over forty deaths promises to be equaled, if not exceeded. Up to 1 o'clock this morning, 43 heat deaths had been reported. The large stores, wholesale houses and factories began today to close early, until the hot spell has passed.

St. Louis Has Relief.

St. Louis, July 25.—A break in the hot wave came shortly before noon. The mercury at that hour registered 92, as against 100 at the same time yesterday. Less than a dozen fatalities were reported since midnight.

100 Degrees at Kansas City.

Kansas City, July 25.—The hot spell continues unabated here. One hundred degrees was reached again at noon.

NEGROES ARE TO BE USED

Effort to Substitute Them for Whites Near Chicago.

Chicago, July 25.—Efforts are being made to bring three hundred negroes to Meleces Park, in the suburbs, to take the places of white men in the steel mill. It may cause bloodshed. The negroes arrived this morning, but were not taken to Meleces for fear of an attack by indignant citizens. The officials of the plant appealed to the sheriff for 200 deputies to protect the negroes. The citizens of Meleces are organized and will use force, if necessary, to repel the invasion by the negroes.

WERE TO STIR UP VIOLENCE

Strikers Sent to Give Basis for Injunction Suits.

Pittsburg, Pa., July 25.—The Amalgamated association is anxiously awaiting developments at the McKeesport and Wellsville sheet steel mills. The strikers who went to Wellsville last night were sent there to stir up violence to get a basis for injunction suits.

SOME MILLS RUNNING.

Partial Success for the Employers at Wellsville.

Wellsville, July 25.—Three mills were in operation this morning. It is thought the same number will work this afternoon. Manufacturers are making some headway and the strikers fear this partial success may be the forerunner of greater efforts in getting men into the mills.

The Tailors' Strike.

New York, July 25.—It is likely that the great army of striking tailors will be reinforced by cloak makers 15,000 strong. The leaders are not issuing an order for a strike, but the rank and file want to go out. Five thousand clothing cutters will also go on a strike, unless the employers are prompt in conceding demands. Thirty-five manufacturers have settled with the strikers, who are confident of victory.

Riot in 'Frisco Strike.

San Francisco, July 25.—Business is still at a standstill on account of the tailors' strike. This morning three hundred more teamsters quit work. A small riot occurred on Bryant street, near Third, between the police and the strikers. No one was seriously injured.

Settled at Derby.

Derby, Conn., July 25.—The machinists' strike here which caused the issuance of the Gager injunction was settled today. The men go to work Monday.

DEFENDANT'S MOTHER TALKS

Fosburg Case Now Ready for the Final Argument.

Pittsfield, Mass., July 25.—Bertha Shadon was the star witness in the Fosburg murder trial today. She said that after hearing the shots she rushed to May Fosburg's room and saw her lying on the floor with her brother Robert lying by her side. She asked Robert Fosburg what was the trouble and was told there were burglars in the house. She admitted she saw no burglars. Private Detective Hazon, who was employed by the Fosburgs, was the next witness. She said she had little difficulty getting through the window on which the screen raises eleven inches. The prosecution claims it is impossible for burglars to have escaped that way.

Defendant's mother testified this afternoon, and declared she positively saw two burglars in the house, each of whom wore pillow case masks. Her story of the death scene was extremely dramatic and tears stood in the eyes of the women in the court room when her story was finished. The defense rested this afternoon. Defendant did not testify.

BROOKLYN BRIDGE BUSTED

Twelve Suspenders Gave Way—Repaired Today.

New York, July 25.—Regular traffic was not resumed on the Brooklyn bridge this morning. The north driveway, where twelve suspenders gave way is entirely closed. It is expected that the work of repairing the broken suspenders will be completed today. The bridge officials say the big structure is entirely safe.

Charge Against Officials.

New York, July 25.—The district attorney's office is investigating a charge that the Brooklyn bridge officials have known of the weakness of the structure for about a week. Efforts to fix responsibility will be made.
