It is well to remember that 100 here, with a dry atmosphere, is not so uncomfortable as 90 or 95 in the middle west, or in Portland.

The cooler weather will be grateful to the crews of harvesters who are now engaged in gathering the crops. Men and teams will not suffer any so long as the temperature is not higher than that now prevailing.

This comparatively cool weather has operated to keep at home many persons who ordinarily go to the mountains, or to the seacoast. However, many are going to the coast, more than in any previous season.

J. P. Goodhue tells the Walla Walla Statesman that those who are complaining about the heat here now would have thought this weather cool had they lived at Walla Walla some years ago where he said that the heat was so severe one summer that he built a fire to cool off the atmosphere.

THE WAGES OF HARVESTERS

SOME AGITATION AMONG THE MEN FOR A COMBINATION. Plan Not So Definite as That Pursued by Laborers in Walla Walla County.

On the streets of Pendleton is heard some talk of a combination of harvest hands to demand a scale of prices for the various positions in the fields. The movement has not assumed very definite form and is only in the agitation stage.

Over in Walla Walla county, the men held several meetings and formed a society, of which they had the usual officers, with a sort of field agent to look after the affairs of the concern, and keep the men in line.

Here, the wages are about the same. Men are able to obtain work at will and for compensation so reasonable that a man may accumulate quite a sum, if he will work throughout the summer.

Baker City Herald: "Missouri John" Heathman, marshal of Pendleton, and an alternate delegate to the Red Men's council, is in town. He returned this morning from a flying trip to Sumpter, and wanted to go home, but the Pendleton delegates instructed the Baker City police to retain him, and John will remain.

POWDER VALLEY WAS HOT

Judge Fitz Gerald Says Pendleton is now a Paradise. Judge Thomas Fitz Gerald has returned from Baker City and other places which he has visited during the past week. He declares:

"We who live here do not appreciate how pleasant is the climate, in the Powder river valley, in which is Baker City, the thermometers have all melted, and the people were gasping for breath while I was there. Monday night was of a character to remind one of Dante's Inferno."

Judge Fitz Gerald speaks in praise of the hospitality of the Baker City people who entertained the grand council of the Redmen. Everyone was welcomed in a royal spirit, and the meeting was a success. Pendleton was given the honor of having L. B. Reeder elected to the office of senior grand sagamore. Mr. Reeder was junior sagamore, and was advanced to the senior position under a rule of promotion that governs the election of the chief officers.

At La Grande, Judge Fitz Gerald held court as United States commissioner, in the case of the bankruptcy of Ernest Thorsen & Co., saloonkeepers. The liabilities are $4900; the assets $1800 of real estate and $1900 of stock. The creditors were responsible for the involuntary bankruptcy into which Thorsen & Co. were thrown.

The first meeting was held in Pendleton on July 9, and the meeting in La Grande was to save the expense of having all the creditors come over here. Near Union, Judge Fitz Gerald saw the hot water artesian well, which is spouting close to the O. R. & N. tracks. He learned that the Hot Lake property, in which W. M. Pierce is heavily interested, is regarded as one of the best paying propositions in Eastern Oregon.

At Sumpter, he found a good business town where trade is good and merchants prosperous. HE SOLD INDIANS LIQUOR Fred Lloyd Brought From Portland to Serve Out a Sentence. Fred Lloyd, who was taken to Portland to answer a charge of selling liquor to Indians on the Umatilla reservation, was brought to Pendleton this morning by Al Roberts, deputy United States marshal, the latter's son accompanying him.

Lloyd was tried before Judge Bellinger, in the United States court. He was fined $100 and six months in the county jail here. There was also against him a charge of taking liquor on to the reservation, which is an offense against the federal laws.

More Trusts Forming. If the trust formation continues the time is not distant when almost everything in the country will be controlled by them. Whether this would be beneficial to the country or otherwise, we are not prepared to state.

An Awful Mistake...
