FENCES TO BE TORN DOWN.

Jesse Carr's Big Ranch is the Property of Uncle Sam.

United States District Attorney Hall is taking steps to have the decree of Judge Bellinger, in the case of the United States vs. Jesse D. Carr, carried out. He will have the fence around the government lands inclosed by Carr torn down. As there are 15 or 20 miles of rock fence in the lot, about five feet in width and four feet in height, the United States marshal or United States troops, or whoever may be sent to tear it down is likely to have an all summer job on hand, especially as Mr. Hall says the rock fence is to be destroyed as was the Tower of Babel, or the Temple of Babylon, or perhaps it was the Temple of Jerusalem (Mr. Hall is not well posted in biblical matters), of which not one stone was left upon another. The miles of barbed-wire fencing will be rolled up like a scroll, but the rimrock cliffs which form a part of the fence will not be molested. Mr. Carr, however, is still in possession of the lands, with the exception of a calf pasture of some 5000 acres, and the end of the trouble is not yet. Carr fenced in many thousands of acres of government land in Southeastern Oregon with the result that proceedings were brought against him in the United States court to recover possession of the lands.

A Generous People.

The people of Hartford, inspired thereto by the Times, have contributed $200 in token of their appreciation of the simple heroism of Miss Ida L. Hathaway. She was a nurse in the Hartford hospital, where, in the line of duty, she contracted ophthalmia from a young child committed to her care, of so serious a character that it led to blindness. Knowledge of the irremediable fate which had overtaken her only served to reveal the strength of this young girl's character, for she accepted it as ordered of God and without repining. Now a sympathetic community has insured Miss Hathaway's future support.

JONES - CAMERON WEDDING

Norval Jones and Miss Nance Cameron married in Baker City Wednesday. Wednesday evening, in Baker City, occurred the marriage of Norval A. Jones and Miss Nance Cameron. The news came as somewhat of a surprise to their Pendleton friends, no previous announcement having been made. But most hearty were the congratulations showered upon them here when the intelligence was received. They will make their home in Baker City.

Mr. Jones is a young man of esteemed character, formerly in charge of the shoe department of the People's Warehouse in Pendleton. His former home was in Walla Walla, where his parents resided. Of late, he has lived in Baker City, where he is employed in the Berry Shoe company's store, in a trusted position.

Miss Cameron is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles A. Cameron, of Pendleton. She has for several years been employed as private secretary of her father, who is superintendent of bridge and buildings of the O.R. & N. system, with headquarters in this place. Miss Cameron was an expert stenographer and accountant, and has the reputation of being one of the most thoroughly posted in railroad matters of all who occupy subordinate positions connected with that system.

Here in Pendleton she has hosts of friends, and, indeed, all along the lines of the O. R. & N. company she is a general favorite. The kindest wishes are heard for the happiness of Mr. and Mrs. Jones.

Germans and French.

Telegrams from Algiers report that Count von Walderssee and his staff, on landing there to pay their respects to the military and naval authorities, reviewed a company of French soldiers, who formed the guard of honor, warmly praising their appearance and discipline. It also appears that during the day French non-commissioned officers showed the German soldiers the sights of the town, and afterward went on board the German steamer Gars and had dinner. The Paris papers express surprise at these occurrences.

Death of Rev. B. DeLorme.
The Catholic Sentinel of Portland gives the news of the death in Turin, France, on June 28th of the Very Rev. B. DeLorme, former vicar general of Oregon. He was a pioneer priest of Oregon, having served the churches at St. Louis and St. Paul, and was at one time, about the years 1858 and 1859, rector of St. Joseph's church in this city. Rev. DeLorme served as vicar general of Oregon under the late Archbishops Blanchet, Seghers and Gross. He was widely known throughout this state and the Pacific coast country and his friends and admirers within and without the Catholic church here will mourn his demise.

Mrs. Freese and Miss Freese are accompanying Mr. Freese on a tour of numerous towns in the Inland Empire the last named attending to his duties as field agent in charge of the circulation of the Spokesman-Review. They remain here until this evening. They have been at Meacham for several days.

Death of J. H. McBroom.

J. H. McBroom, resident of Birch creek, died at the new Walla Walla hospital on Wednesday of heart failure. Mr. McBroom had been taken there for the performance of an operation by Dr. W. G. Cole for bladder troubles, and was in his room under attendance. Dr. Cole was in the surgery at the time, engaged in performing another operation, when the patient hurried down from Mr. McBroom's room with the intelligence that he was apparently dying. The house physician, Dr. Stiles, went on the instant, Dr. Cole being compelled to remain with the subject who was on the operating table. Before Dr. Stiles could reach the room Mr. McBroom was dead. It was beyond doubt a case of heart failure. He had not yet undergone the operation.

Mr. McBroom lived for many years on Birch creek, where he has a large number of relatives. He was about 70 years old.

The Ellis Glenn Case.

The Ellis Glenn case was brought to a close in Parkersburg, West Va., Tuesday by Judge Stapleton, who dismissed the jury upon their statement that they could not reach a verdict. The case was one of the most sensational in the criminal history of West Virginia. The entire case hinged upon the identification of Ellis Glenn as being the same as one Bert Glenn formerly of Williamson, W. Va. While Ellis Glenn appeared in court attired as a woman the prosecution sought to identify her as Bert Glenn, a male.

No Discard.

Pittsburg, Aug. 1.—The elective committee issued a statement this afternoon denying that there was discord in the committee and that all negotiations were being conducted as rapidly as possible. Later, President Shaffer gave out a statement that there is "nothing new" in the situation and that the committee would reassemble tomorrow. Rumor has a report that Schwab, of the steel corporation, is in the city and that Shaffer is in conference with him.

Orphanage Burned.

Salem, Aug. 1.—Well diggers were overpowered by a flow of gas near Highland.

The Salem Catholic orphanage at St. Paul, in this county, was burned. The loss is $10,000.

Should Not Burn Wounds.

A New York doctor was talking of a death that had just occurred in Brooklyn from hydrophobia.

"I never see an account of someone being bitten by a dog, and followed by the statement you see so often, 'The dog blank canterized the wound and it is doing well,' without having a cold shiver run down my back," said he. "Now what right has any doctor to take chances like that? We know that there is such a thing as hydrophobia, and the most of us believe that there is safety in the Pasteur treatment. The very doctors who merely burn over the wound and let the patient go, show that they believe in it, for again and again we read of their asking help from the Pasteur institute when rabies have come upon their patients, and it is too late.

"Far better send a hundred cases to that treatment, where it may not be needed, than to let one man suffer this awful fate. No physician has a right to let his patient run the risk. Give them the treatment; it cannot do them harm, in any case.

PAUL KRUGER WANTS PEACE

So says a Stock Exchange Rumor in London.

New York, Aug. 1.—Miss Katherine D. Elwas, niece of the governor of Bermuda, has written letters now in possession of Robert B. Roosevelt, of this city, showing the needs and conditions of the Boer prisoners. Mr. Roosevelt suggests that it might be desirable to form a committee to investigate the matter. The following from Miss Elwas' letter is made public by Mr. Roosevelt:

"The Boers are absolutely penniless and quite without occupation and an association has been formed here with a view of helping them to make and sell things, and also to find them some sort of recreation. I am honorary secretary of this association, and at present find there is plenty to do. Down here we have arranged that the work exchange is to sell toys, etc., made by the Boers but we shall never find sale for 30 men's work in this little island, so I am anxious to find a market."

Apparently the stock exchange has not had yet a sufficient number of peace rumors. The latest report is that Dr. Leyds had arrived at the Dutch embassy in London as a messenger in order to ascertain if any arrangement for the termination of hostilities in South Africa could be effected. The rumor was naturally taken to indicate that the Boers were at the end of the resources, but it did not receive much credence from official sources. The London correspondent of the New York Tribune.

Order of Treasury Department.

The treasury department has in preparation a circular letter to customs officers throughout the United States, directing them absolutely to refuse entry to all hides of meat cattle from wherever shipped, except when accompanied by a regular consular certificate showing that they are dry-salted, arsenic or lime cured, or have been thoroughly disinfected according to the sulphur formula prescribed by the treasury department, as embodied in the circular.

"Nerve Waste."

One of the most helpful books on nerve weakness ever issued is that entitled "Nerve Waste," by Dr. Sawyer of San Francisco, now in its fifth thousand. This work of an experienced and reputable physician is in agreeable contrast to the vast mass of false writing which prevails on this interesting subject. It abounds in carefully considered and practical advice, and has the two great merits of wisdom and sincerity.

It is endorsed by both the religious and secular press. The Chicago Advance says: "A perusal of the book and the application of its principles will put health, hope and heart into thousands of lives that are now suffering through nervous impairment."

The book is $1.00 by mail postpaid. One of the most interesting chapters—chapter xx, on Nerves and Nerve Tonics—has been printed separately as a sample chapter, and will be sent to any address for stamp by the publishers, THE PACIFIC PUBLISHING CO., Box 206, San Francisco.

SAVED A CHILD'S LIFE.

A Young Woman of Portland Makes a Heroic Sacrifice.

A case of skin-grafting is being performed at the Salem hospital, says the Statesman, that is attracting a great deal of attention. The patient on whom the work is being done is Vera, the six-year-old daughter of Rev. and Mrs. F. C. Butler, of Marquam.

On June 11, the little girl's dress caught fire from a lighted lamp, and she was horribly burned, on the right throat, the right arm, and the right side of the chest, the skin being burned away to the flesh. The unfortunate little sufferer was taken to Salem and every effort was made to save her life with good results.

The skill of the physicians was baffled, however, so far as healing the sores was concerned, and they finally decided that skin-grafting would have to be resorted to.

Miss Lola Edwards of Portland, a sister of the child's mother, heroically offered to supply the necessary cuticle to substitute for that burned off her little niece. She is a healthy and strong young woman, and the physicians accepted the young lady's offer, and they have removed several small sections of cuticle from her lower limbs and grafted them on the throat, arm and chest of the suffering child, with splendid prospects of success.

There are several small patches on the throat, a strip on the right arm an inch below the right armpit to below the elbow, and several inches on the chest.

The Brake Worked.

With only one inch, E. F. McKay, city editor of the Colorado Springs Gazette, on board, a train on the Pike's Peak cog-rail, was turned loose Tuesday near the foot of the peak to test the automatic brake. A speed of 25 miles an hour was quickly reached, at which the brake worked automatically, and stopped the train. A large number of people witnessed the test. These trains are equipped with several varieties of brakes.
