"Nerve Waste."

One of the most helpful books on nerve weakness ever issued is that entitled "Nerve Waste," by Dr. Sawyer of San Francisco, now in its fifth thousand. This work of an experienced and reputable physician is in readable contrast to the vast sum of false scolding which prevails on this interesting subject. It abounds in carefully considered and practical advice, and has the two great merits of wisdom and sincerity. It is endorsed by both the religious and secular press. The Chicago Advance says: "A perusal of the book and the application of its principles will put health, hope and heart into thousands of lives that are now suffering through nervous impairment." The book is $1.00 by mail postpaid. One of the most interesting chapters—chapter xx, on Nerves and Nerve Tonics—has been printed separately as a sample chapter, and will be sent to any address for stamp by the publishers, THE PACIFIC PUBLISHING CO., Box 3658, San Francisco.

SUNDAY AT THE CHURCHES

Ministers Meeting Appointed for Monday Forenoon at 10 o'clock.
The first meeting of the local pastors, that was to have been held on Monday last, was postponed to wait the return from Meacham of Rev. R. J. Diven and Rev. F. L. Forbes, and will be held on Monday forenoon in the vestry of the Church of the Redeemer at 10 o'clock, Rev. W. E. Potwine, rector, entertaining the other pastors. It is the intention to organize a ministers' union, and hold meetings periodically during the year.
Rev. M. J. Potwine has given to his people the pleasing information that the Sunday school of the Church of the Redeemer attained the rank of 100 out of the total list of more than 4000 Sunday schools of the Protestant Episcopal church in the United States, as so amount of Lenten offering, which was $100.25. The average attendance was 96, total enrollment 126. There were 41 other dioceses and missionary jurisdictions in the union that had no Sunday school that gave so much.
Rev. Walter L. Clark, of Spokane, who spends Sunday here, will visit Heppner and may remain there as rector of the Protestant Episcopal church.

A Crazy Man.
Andrew Anderson was taken in charge by Deputy Sheriff Joe Baker and kept at the jail Friday night, on account of his actions, which indicated that he was not of sound mind. He was allowed to go this morning, but immediately commenced to make the rounds of the saloons giving advice to customers and bartenders, advising them to forsake their evil ways, so that he was again taken in. County Judge Hartman held at examination this afternoon and pronounced the young man a proper person to be confined in the insane asylum at Salem, to which institution he will be taken. Anderson has been a resident of Now Whatcom, Wash., and his father there will be advised as to what has transpired.

A Noted Colored Man.
It may not be generally known that a somewhat noted colored man lives in Portland in the person of R. Crawford, 289 Grant street, says the Oregonian. Mr. Crawford assisted James R. Eads in building the famous Mississippi flotilla at St. Louis, which did such effective service for the Union as Forts Henry, Donelson, Island No. 10, and at Vicksburg, caulked with his own hands for Mr. Eads the Benton and the Essex. The last named boat was badly broken up by the confederate guns at Donelson but was soon repaired and in line again. Mr. Crawford is a good citizen, hale and hearty though nearly 70 years of age, and has a vivid remembrance of the breaking out of the war, and the great rush in getting out the famous Mississippi flotilla in 1861.

Natural Pulp.
Wallace Clark of Yankton, Or., has in his possession some natural pulp which he found near his place. After trees had fallen on the hillside and partially buried itself in the ground, says the Oregonian. The pulp is in uniform layers, each layer about the thickness of Bristol cardboard. It is as pliable as dressed buckskin and has the appearance of fine grade of that article. It is also tough and hard to tear. It may be written upon as easily as upon ordinary cardboard.
