AGED GERMAN BADLY HURT

FREDRICK WILLAR WILL PROBABLY DIE AS A RESULT.

The Sawmill of Knott & Patton, in California Gulch, Ten Miles From Pilot Rock, Was the Scene.

Fredrick Willar, a German aged 72 years, met with an accident at 7 o'clock Tuesday morning, August 13, at Knott & Patton's sawmill in California gulch, ten miles southeast of Pilot Rock, and will probably die.

He drew the cutoff or saw saw toward him and it cut through the bone of his left leg below the knee, on through the outer portion of his knee, and lacer-ated the flesh of his leg above the knee.

The wound was bandaged as well as possible, and the injured man was brought to Pendleton by H. H.
Patton, one of the proprietors of the mill, and H. C. Dunn.

At 2:30 this afternoon Drs. W. G.
Cole, F. W. Vincent and J. L. Miller are examining the wound with the probable intention of amputating the leg above the knee. They state that the old gentleman's chances for recovery are very slight.

A Recent Employee.

Mr. Willar has been around Pilot Rock for several days and it was the opinion of many who saw him that he was mentally unbalanced, his actions on Sunday, particularly, leading to that conclusion. He only went to the sawmill on Monday, having been hired on Sunday by Mr. Patton to pile lumber. He had no business near the saw where he met with his terrible accident, but was doing the work apparently with a desire to assist and make himself useful. Mr. Patton stated that it actually looked to him as though Mr. Willar had drawn the saw up to him and cut himself on purpose. All Mr. Willar's other actions before and after, however, would lead one to suppose that it was an accident pure and simple, and that the victim did not realize what would result when he pulled the saw up.

JOHN ANDREWS FINED $12.50 d guilty as charged and was fined $12.50, which he paid.

A TRIP TO CALIFORNIA.

J. E. Krause Has Returned From His Vacation Jaunt.

J. E. Krause, local manager of the Western Union telegraph office, returned on Monday evening's train from Vacaville, Calif., where he has been with his family for the past three weeks. Mr. Krause spent a portion of his time in the state watching baseball games, of which sport he is an ardent admirer. He states that the professional teams there up to last Sunday were playing under last year's rules, and that they were very tedious, after having watched the mappy excellent amateur baseball as given here during the Fourth of July tournament and at other times. He said the people here would more highly appreciate the games here if they could first witness some of the games played down there.

their associates today.

FISH HAWK, CAYUSE CHIEF

DIED OF CONSUMPTION, TUESDAY, AUGUST 11.

He Retained Three Years Ago, and Has Since Abjured Strong Drink and Carousing.

The death of Fish Hawk, the Cayuse Chief, occurred at his home on the reservation on Sunday, August 11, of consumption. He had been sick for months and his death had long been expected. Fish Hawk was aged about 55 years, and was a son of the celebrated war chief of the Cayuses, The Young Chief, who was conspicuous in his tribe during the 50s and 60s, and who figured in the treaty made by Governor Stevens with the Indians in 1855.
A widow survives Fish Hawk.

It was reported that their marriage had recently been performed according to the state laws of the white man in order that the widow might inherit the estate of the deceased, but a search of the records in the office of County Clerk Chamberlain fail to disclose any such performance. It is therefore presumed that they were husband and wife only according to Indian usages, rules and regulations. Fish Hawk at the time of his death was possessed of many acres of land, some of which is located near Helix and some to John Crow. Fish Hawk received 160 acres of choice reservation land at the time of the allotment eight or ten years ago, and since that time has fallen heir to some more.

A Reformed Indian.

The change in the life of Fish Hawk during the past few years has been marked as in that of any other person in the country. Up to three years ago, he was a terror to drink and was a frequent inmate of the city jail, spending a goodly portion of the time working on the streets, picking up stones, under the direction of the city marshal or a deputy. He turned a new leaf and reformed thoroughly. He was converted from his ways of sin, joined the Presbyterian church, and has ever since been a good Indian.

tion at present.

Monday and is a guest at the Hotel eral nice catches being made. In addition to the telling of it, Mr. Weaver brought back some excellent photographs of the strings of fish as proof positive that they caught the fish.

Meacham News.

Meacham, Aug. 12.—Forest fires are raging in this vicinity.

Among the Sunday visitors were the following: Jennie Taylor, Pearl Luckey, Nell Cameron, Zola Crowner, Ernie Zieroff, Irma Long, Miss Leizer and Emma Sawtelle; Harold James, Jim Ash, Charlie Bond, Ed Jay, M. A.
Rader and Judge Bean.

A basket social was given at the schoolhouse Saturday evening. A question of etiquette has arisen. The people of Meacham are wondering if it is good breeding for a girl not to eat with a boy who has purchased her basket, just because he wasn't the right one.

A good time is assured to everyone who comes to Meacham.

Mr. and Mrs. Rash, who have been here for an outing, left on this morn-ing's train.

More campers arrived here this morning. PODUNK.

Board of Trade, at the Magnet store in Pendleton and at my office. Ten

R. L. SABIN, Portland, Oregon.

Shiver'd the Stock.

Dean Shull, Jake Marlin and Jesse Shull took a trip to the terrible east of Pendleton early Sunday morning after grouse. During the forenoon they hunted with reasonably good success.
Finally a bird flew up and Jesse Shull blazed away at it. He was somewhat surprised when the heavy charge shivered the stock. It was thought at first that the gun had exploded. The stock was splintered so a new one will be necessary before the gun can again be used. Mr. Shull is pleased to announce that he killed his bird, notwithstanding the accident.

THEY WILL STRAW ROADS

Walla Walla County Commissioners
Name a Day For a General Turnout Out.

Walla Walla, Aug. 13.—After witnessing the advantages which come to those who are so fortunate as to reside in that section through which the rural delivery mail service is already in operation, farmers from all over the country are anxious to do everything in their power to secure other being extended to them similar favors. As a consequence the proposed road work which has been announced to take place on Tuesday, August 20, "Straw day," is meeting with the most hearty support and there is not one who has thus far refused to donate either straw or labor, in many instances both being freely offered. The following circular letter has been mailed to all the farmers of the county:

"The county commissioners having appointed Tuesday, August 20 as "Straw Day" you have been chosen as one of the captains of your vicinity.
Get as many farmers as possible to come out on that day and help straw the roads wherever it is needed most to lay the dust. You will be expected to look out for straw and tell the people where to load their wagons, also to keep an account, as near as possible, of the number of loads put on the road that day so we can make a report to the commissioners. All work and straw to be donated. Trusting you will give this your earnest attention, we remain, Yours truly, signed C. L.
Whitney and Theo. Moore, General Supervisors."

All farmers who are busy on the day when the straw is to be laid are requested by the committee and others interested to do all they can at a later date. This invitation is general and includes everything from a stack to a forkful. People who have no straw will be given an opportunity to haul someone else's straw and those who have neither straw nor teams can aid in spreading it on the roads after others have done the hauling.
