DEMAND FOR CARPENTERS

Several days ago, at the request of the city and persons who are having their houses built, the East Oregonian printed a paper of towns in the inland empire, and in most instances were requested to come here and find carpenters. The call was printed in the paper, and in most instances were requested to come here and find carpenters. The call was printed in the paper, and in most instances were requested to come here and find carpenters.

DEAFNESS CANNOT BE CURED

By local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure deafness, and that is by constitutional remedies. Deafness is caused by an inflammation of the mucous lining of the Eustachian tube. When this tube gets inflamed you have a running sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed deafness is the result, and unless the inflammation can be taken out of this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever; nine cases out of ten are caused by catarrh, which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces. We will give one hundred dollars for any case of deafness (caused by catarrh) that cannot be cured by Hall's Catarrh Cure. Send for circulars, free.

JESSE FRANKLIN MOORE

DIED THIS MORNING FROM BLOOD POISONING.

Funeral to be held tomorrow at Echo. He was a native of Butler Creek.

Jesse Franklin Moore, son of Jesse Moore, aged 18, resident of Butler Creek, died at the Pendleton sanitarium this morning, from blood poisoning, resultant from a wound caused by the explosion of a gun barrel. The body was taken to Echo on the Overland passenger train this morning, which being late passed through Pendleton shortly before noon. The funeral will be conducted in Echo tomorrow afternoon at 1 o'clock, the Rev. W. O. Miller, of the M. E. church, south, officiating.

Born on Butler Creek.

Franklin Moore was born in September, 1883, on Butler creek, on the ranch owned and used now by his father, Jesse Moore, a well known and influential livestock man of that region. He would have been eighteen years old next month, and has spent his life on the home ranch assisting his father in the conduct of the extensive business he conducts.

Six years ago his mother died. He was a dutiful son, and won many friends by his pleasing manners and excellent character.

O. F. Thompson, neighbor and lifelong friend, came up to Pendleton in response to a message, and attended to the details of the funeral here and at Echo.

A GUNSHOT WOUND.

Death resulted from blood poisoning, Moore, as was related last week in the East Oregonian, had been hunting ducks at a pond near his home, half a mile away from the house, and had killed several. He proceeded to reload the piece, an old fashioned muzzle loader, and while a boy was using the ramrod to draw the dead ducks from the water, Moore, having rammed home the charges of powder, poured in the shot, placed wads in the ends of the barrels, raised the gun and placed caps on the firing tubes, and then was letting down the hammer, making the mistake of holding one hammer and releasing the trigger controlling the other, the explosion of the charge bursting the barrel.

USED SMOKELESS POWDER.

Moore had run out of the ordinary black powder, and had opened some shells which were charged with powder of the smokeless kind. This had been placed in the gun for the new loads. It was reported about town that this smokeless powder is more poisonous than the common black and was responsible for the blood poisoning. This Dr. Cole said could not be authoritatively asserted, and added that from any shot wound blood poisoning or gangrene may at any time result. This is recognized in the cases of wounds on battlefields and accidents on Fourth of July celebrations.

Metal Was Rusty.

It is also learned that the piece of the exploded gun barrel taken from Moore's arm was rusty, and indicated that the barrel was defective and had been cracked for some time prior to the accident. This was the element of danger, rather than the smokeless powder, which according to report caused the poisoning.

A PORTLAND ELOPEMENT

Dudley New and Miss Post Skip to San Francisco.

Portland, Aug. 14.—An elopement, the principals of which are both well known, is one of the leading topics of conversation at present. Dudley New and Miss Helen Post are the star actors. Miss Post is the only daughter of Ed Post, one of the best known hotel men on the Pacific coast. New was a member of the Second Oregon and served in the Philippines. He has held a number of excellent positions but failed to accomplish much. Of late he worked as clerk in various cigar stores. New was married about a year ago to a young Portland girl, whom he deserted to elope with Miss Post. During the Elks' Carnival here last fall, Mrs. New was one of the leading candidates for queen. Ganley occupied a large part of New's attention and he frequented tough dances. When he skipped out he had practically no money. Finances for the trip were raised by Miss Post, who borrowed money from acquaintances. The young couple fled to San Francisco. No attempt has been made to follow them, and Mrs. New will petition for divorce.

BOY HAD HIS HEAD CRACKED

George Story Was Playing Fireman Down in Portland.

Portland, Aug. 14.—While playing fireman, George Story, 11 years old, fell and cracked open his head. The accident was peculiar. The story family lives on Fourteenth street. In company with other youngsters of his own age, George was playing fireman. A ladder was placed against a tree and up this George climbed. From the tree he crawled, where the imaginary conflagration was raging, to the house. During this feat he lost his balance and fell to the ground, striking upon his head. With most boys this would merely have resulted in a severe shaking-up, but the result was more serious with Story. His head, apparently, was not very hard, for the bone was completely cracked around the top. A more perfect circle could not have been made by a surgeon. Medical attention was at once summoned, but it is feared that recovery is impossible.

A NEW POLITICAL QUARTET

Combination Formed to Control Republican Party in Oregon Next Campaign.

Portland, Aug. 14.—There is a new combination being formed for controlling the politics of the state—that is the republican brand—according to excellent authority. This combine is said to consist of Graham Glass, jr., Jonathan Bourne, jr., Walter Matthews and Henry E. McGinn. Each member of this quartet is well known throughout the state and requires no further identification. They represent different shades of political belief, or rather are affiliated with the several republican factions.

Glass, who has been secretary of the city and county central committee, for Multnomah, is "out" with Senator Simon, and it is alleged, is trying to cause a separation between Simon and H. W. Corbett. Meetings have been held by these four men and the fact has been noted by those to whose interest it is to watch them.

The supposition is that the quartet are out for money, although in this it is said that McGinn and Matthews have ulterior motives. Glass, goes report, will induce Corbett to come out for senator again at the next legislative session and will also try to have the ex-senator delay the expense of Glass' campaign for state printer, should the latter receive that nomination, which appears very doubtful at this stage of the game.

COMBINES ARE BUSY.

Chris Ranley Took a Trip to the Farm of Robert Laing on Tuesday.

Chris Ranley took a trip out to the farm of Robert Laing on Tuesday and watched the big combine at work. The power is furnished by 26 horses. Mr. Ranley was delighted with what he saw, it being his first inspection of a combine while in operation. He rode around the field and took particular note of what was going on. His opinion is that the Laing boys are adepts in the matter of running a combine, and that not enough wheat is wasted or lost to make it worth while mentioning. Mr. Ranley is like a great many others when seeing a combine for the first, greatly surprised at the amount of work that can be accomplished and surprised the second time that he had lived in a wheat country for so great a length of time without having seen a combine at work.

A HARVEST FIELD ACCIDENT.

Holland Archibald Will Harvest No More This Season.

John Archibald and his son, Holland Archibald, own a large engine, a Pitts 20-horse, double, 32-56. They were at work on McCullough's place in Cold Spring, near Dave Cargill's, on Tuesday, August 12. At about 9 o'clock in the morning Holland Archibald was oiling the engine while it was running. He fell between the boiler and the fly-wheel and caught his right hand in the machinery. His thumb, knuckles and the bones in the back of his hand were broken and crushed. He came at once to Pendleton and had the wound dressed by Dr. W. G. Cole. The injury is so severe in character that the victim will not be able to render much assistance running engine for the remainder of the harvest season. Had Holland Archibald not grabbed the machinery and threw himself to one side he could very easily have been killed, and was therefore lucky in a way.

Happenings at Lehman Springs.

Lehman Springs, Aug. 13.—Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Furnish and a few friends enjoyed a very pleasant whist party at their summer cottage Friday afternoon. Those present were Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Furnish, Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Slusher, Mr. and Mrs. Lee W. Held, Fred Schmeer, Miss Starkweather, Allen Slusher and H. H. Harrington. Moore, Slusher and Harrington won the greatest number of games. Refreshments were served. Mr. and Mrs. Furnish went to Ukiah Saturday to visit friends.

Mr. and Mrs. H. E. Warren are visiting relatives at Granite.

Wm. Baker and Tom Boylen arrived Sunday morning from Pendleton.

Will Baker was robbed of a box of apples before he was on the grounds ten minutes.

The Hard Times Masquerade to be given at Lehman Springs, Saturday night, August 17, is looked forward to with much pleasure. A large attendance is expected from Hildaway Springs to Camas Prairie.

Last night some of the boys moved the piano to the bowling alley and the balls, pins and blackboards to the dance hall. The card tables and cards were put on top of the card room, every body was properly jobbed in a general way.

Some one helped themselves to Mrs. Slusher's chickens last evening but did not have them five minutes until some one else borrowed them again.

ENGLISH BUYING CAVUSES

SAID TO WANT 80,000 IN ALL FOR CAVALRY.

R. B. Wilson, of the Burlington, States That His Road Has Shipped Heavily.

R. B. Wilson, the able representative of the Burlington company, stated in Pendleton today that if they can be found, 80,000 horses will be bought in this section for the English cavalry service. "Already," said Mr. Wilson, "our people have shipped out more than 75 cars, and the number will have reached 100 cars within a very short space of time."

The horses needed are those from fourteen-two to fifteen-one hands high, and are otherwise not valuable. Those desired for the South African war service are lighter than the English government would use for their regular cavalry, or the American government, either. Hence, their purchase is of especial value to the livestock owners of this region. In the first place, they cannot be sold to others to any advantage, and in the second place they will be removed from the range and will therefore leave it for the other classes of livestock that are more valuable."

C. R. Wade, cashier of the First National bank, in discussing the matter with Mr. Wilson, stated that these horses are of a kind that decrease their value, inasmuch as they are only good for use as "cow horses," and the demand for such animals is rather limited.

The feature of the removal of the horses from the range is of value because the range is quite small in comparison to the number of livestock bands that are owned in this territory. Throughout the present season, and all of last winter and spring, there has been much talk about the shortage of feed, and the difficulty in finding range to keep the bands going. Anything that will remove from the range a large number of animals that are now eating up the grass will relieve the situation from its present strained condition and be of benefit all around.
